B. N. GARUDACHAR,

Dated 5th January 1914.

First Assistant Observer in charge of the Office of Meteorological Reporter, Mysore Government.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

NO. J. 1745-54—POLICE 112-13-2, DATED BANGALORE, 12TH DECEMBER 1913.

ORDER.—The following revised rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers and to the grant of shooting passes are communicated to the Magistrates of Districts, the Inspector-General of Police in Mysore and the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, in continuation of Government Proceedings No. J. 2814-24—Police 128-04-6, dated 31st March 1905.

APPENDIX XXXV.

(Rfeerred to in paragraph 90.)

RULES RELATING TO GAME SHOOTING: AND THE GRANT OF SHOOTING PASSES TO BRITISH SOLDIERS.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass— (I. A. F. L.-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on I. A. F. L.-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass, and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

10. No person not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

11. Shooting passes as a rule shall not extend to more than 14 days, but special passes for periods not exceeding one month may, with the sanction of the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr., be granted to men known to be experienced sportsmen. Soldiers requiring passes to shoot at a distance, or for periods of more than 3 days, must apply for the pass at least 6 days before the date on which they wish to start, so as to enable notice to be given to the district civil authorities as required by rule 31.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters, and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

15. If any member of a shooting party comits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

16. In any such case, on return of the party, a telegraphic report will be made by the O. C. the corps as laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000; and a detailed report shall be sent to the same authorities by post when all the facts have been ascertained.

17. No shooting with bullets of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are foul feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O. mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the powder should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

30. Os. C. stations and Os. C. troops about to march, will ascertain from the civil district officer (in Native States, the Political Officer) :—

(a) in what localities shooting ought to be forbidden;

(b) what animals or birds are regarded by the inhabitants as sacred or are protected by rules relating to the establishment of a close season;

(c) whether any special rules have been published by the civil authorities of the district;

and will ensure that they are made known to all shooting parties.

31. Prior to the issue of a shooting pass which is to extend over three days, the O. C. by whom it is to be granted shall send notice thereof to the district officer of any civil district in which the members of the party are to be permitted to shoot. This notice shall be despatched at least three days before the commencement of the currency of the shooting pass. The notice shall state the ranks and names of the members of the party, the place or places which they are to visit and the dates indicating the duration of the pass.

32. The notice furnished to the political officer of a Native State shall be despatched at least three days beforehand; but such longer notice shall be given as is possible.

33. Soldiers marching through a Native State are in no case to be permitted to shoot beyond ten miles of camp.

34. When passes are granted to enable men to shoot at a distance from their own station, the following procedure will be observed :—

(1) A furlough pass (I. A. F. L.-1180) to the military station nearest to the locality concerned will be issued, on which the O. C. will state, in red ink, that the soldiers are eligible for a shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181) and that they are permitted to carry fire-arms and ammunition for the purpose. The furlough pass so endorsed shall be an authority to the N. C. O. in charge to issue arms and ammunition to the party, after the armourer sergeant has signed the specification that the arms are in good condition and not contrary to rule 8.

(2) A shooting pass will at the same time be issued in the usual form with the omission of (a) the name of the interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, and (d) the countersignature of the O. C.

(3) On arrival at the military station to which they are granted furlough, the party will report themselves to the military authorities at that station who will attach them to a military unit.

(4) The O. C. the corps or detachment to which they are attached will, unless there are valid reasons to the contrary, complete the shooting pass by entering (a) the name of a qualified interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, and (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds for the tracts of country where the members of the party intend to shoot; and will then add (d) his countersignature. He will also give the notice to the civil authorities required by rules 31 and 32.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

36. When any serious breach of these rules occurs, the O. C. corps or detachment will at once report by telegram the date and all the facts of the incident, so far as known and also full details of the action taken, to the authorities laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000. Detailed reports will be submitted subsequently by letter to the same authorities.

37. In every such case the O. C. corps or detachment will immediately apply for the assembly, if possible, of a court of inquiry, which should commence a thorough and searching investigation in view to securing the best possible narrative while the event is still fresh; and he will communicate with the district magistrate as freely as required. If a C. of I. cannot be assembled the O. C. will himself conduct the investigation. The C. of I. or, if one is not assembled, the O. C., will, during the enquiry, endeavour to ascertain whether any, and if so, what breaches of these rules have been committed or have taken place, the nature of which would render the offender (s) liable to trial by court-martial under paragraph 38, and particulars thereof should be recorded in the proceedings or report. When the civil authorities also take up the case every assistance possible will be rendered to them in their investigation. The medical officer, who first attends to any person (whether soldier or civilian) wounded in any such case, will, without delay, bring to the notice of both the civil and military authorities the nature and extent of the injuries received and their probable ultimate result.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr. for orders.

39. When a court-martial is to be held under rule 38 the case shall be sent to the D. J. A. G. of the army concerned, who will frame the charges and prepare the brief for the prosecution, and the proceedings of the court-martial shall be sent to the same officer for report before confirmation. If a civil or military enquiry has been held on any case, the proceedings of the enquiry should accompany application for trial in view of all possible evidence being made available.

40. When a court-martial is held under these rules, the results will be reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander, be prohibited in the corps or detachment, or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

42. Shooting passes will be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) by the local departmental senior commissioned officer, in accordance with these rules so far as they may be applicable. Standing passes for a maximum period of six months, but subject to the rules relating to prohibited localities, animals and birds and to the other restrictions referred to in these rules, may be granted to subordinates of the M. W. S. who are not employed in cantonments. In every case the officer granting the pass is responsible for seeing that the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds is duly entered on the pass.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) granted a shooting pass will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

44. A copy of these rules and of any special civil rules which pertain to the district, also a list of prohibited localities, animals and birds shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in every barrack-room.

45. Twice a year (in April and October on such day as the O. C. directs) rules 1 to 29 and rules 38 and 41 shall be read on parade to all British troops.

46. All military subordinates (departmental or non-departmental), including Assistant Surgeons, I. S. M. D., will be held responsible that they make themselves fully acquainted with these rules.

47. No shooting passes shall be issued to troops disembarking in India until, after their arrival at their destination, these rules, together with the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, have been read to them on parade. The O. C. any party of troops shall have his attention directed to this order before disembarkation.

48. A copy of rules 26, 27, 28 and 29 shall be hung up in every squadron, battery or company store-room.

49. Rules 1 to 10, 12 to 15, 17 to 29, 35, 38, 41 and 43 will be printed on the reverse of the shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181).

50. A copy of these rules will be issued with every shooting pass (for which purpose the rules are reprinted in pamphlet form and copies supplied to all concerned), and will be carried by the member in charge of the party, who will make it over, with the pass, to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company, on return to barracks or camp.

51. The following are the orders of the Government of India to the civil and political authorities in connection with the foregoing rules :—

(i) The civil authorities will periodically explain the substance of the rules and orders in simple language to the inhabitants of all villages and tracts where British soldiers are in the habit of shooting, warning them that soldiers are on no account to be attacked or molested, and that any such offences will be severely punished. The inhabitants therefore will have no excuse for interfering unwarrantably with members of a shooting party.

(ii) The district or political officer will impress on zemindars, headmen, landlords and police that they must use their endeavours to prevent disputes with, or the molestation of, any member of a shooting party, and that complaints are to be reported to the proper authorities by the villagers, who must not take the law into their own hands.

(iii) When the district or political officer receives notice under rules 31 and 32 of the probable visit of a shooting party, he will at once inform the headmen and village police.

(iv) The district or political officer will, on the arrival of troops in a civil district or Native State, at once inform the O. C. such troops of the prohibited localities, animals and birds, and of any special civil rules pertaining to the district.

(v) When a complaint is made by a villager against any member of a shooting party, the district or political officer will at once report the matter to the C. O. of the soldiers concerned.

(vi) Disputes between members of a shooting party and villagers will, if possible, be investigated by a European magistrate or police officer not below the rank of superintendent, and such cases will be tried by a district or joint magistrate. The O. C. concerned will be informed by the district officer of cases not cognisable by the police, or where prosecution is not undertaken by the civil authorities. The O. C. will thereupon take such action as may be necessary.

(vii) The rules for soldiers provide for punishment of a corps or detachment, or district, in the event of the offenders not being discovered. A similar responsibility may be enforced upon villages where affrays with British soldiers have occurred, if the villagers generally, or a considerable number of them, have made an unwarranted attack upon a shooting party, but the actual offenders have not been brought to justice. The villagers will be warned that in all such cases they are liable by law to have extra police quartered upon them at their own expense.

Extracts from the rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers; and to the grant of shooting passes; contained in Appendix XXXV, Ary Regulations, India, Volume II.

Application.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

Passes for arms.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass. (I. A. F. L-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

Who may be granted passes.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

Party not to separate.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on India Army Form L-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached, who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

Camps.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

Arams and ammunition.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries Government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own, are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

Possession of revolvers, pistols, etc., forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

Who may accompany the party.

10. No persons not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

* * * * * *

Duty of member in charge of shooting party.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up, will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

Arms to be unloaded.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

Affrays to be reported.

15. If any member of a shooting party commits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

* * * * * *

Shooting with ball or at night.

17. No shooting with bulltes of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in Government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

Indian women

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

Shooting near villages.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

Shooting over crops.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

Prohibited animals or birds and localities.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

Shooting of pig.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are fowl feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

Custody of arms and ammunitioin.

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery, or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O., mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

Arms to be shown on "daily state."

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

Storage of gun-power.

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the power should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

* * * * * *

Duration of possession of arms, etc.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

* * * * * *

Penalty for shooting without a pass.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Brigade or Divisional Commander for orders.

* * * * * *

Collective stoppage of shooting passes.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander be prohibited in the corps or detachment or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the Commander-in-Chief and the General-Governor of India.

* * * * * *

Departmental Subordinates.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments granted a shooting pass, will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

APPENDIX "B."

CONDUCT OF SOLDIERS TOWARDS INDIANS.

Notes for the information and guidance of soldiers out shooting. By H. H. Risley, Esq., C. S. I., C. I. E. (afterwards Sir Herbert Risley, K. C. I. E., C. S. I.), late Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, and Director of Ethnography for India.

The following instructions are prescribed for observation by warrant and non-commissioned officers and privates in their dealings with Indians when out shooting under the pass rules. The facts and beliefs upon which the instructions are based are given in the illustrations.

The compiler believes that most of the misunderstandings that arise between British soldiers and inhabitants of India are due to ignorance on both sides. The soldier does not know what is likely to give offence; the Indian assumes that some act which hurts his feelings has been done on purpose to annoy him. The following notes attempt to reduce the occasions for disagreement by explaining some of the customs, beliefs and superstitions which form a large part of the daily life of the Indian villager. When the holders of shooting passes realize that many usages which may strike them at first sight as absurd are looked upon by inhabitants of India as extremely sacred, and that interference with them may cause a man to be put out of caste or to be fined heavily for no fault of his own, the compiler is confident that they will make it a point of honour to treat them with proper respect.

(1) Temples and mosques should not be approached. Soldiers should also avoid the neighbourhood of—

(a) shrines, which may assume various forms ranging from a masonary building to a shapeless lump of clay, and may usually be recognised by the presence of flags or streamers, smears of vermilion, images or pictures of snakes, and holes or niches for lamps;

(b) cemeteries or isolated tombs or graves;

(c) burning ghats;

(d) trees, rocks or other objects which are marked with vermilion, or on or near which flags have been erected, cotton rags tied or offerings placed;

(e) any strange looking object which may be connected with religious or superstitious observances.

(2) Soldiers should be careful not to eat in the neighbourhood of temples, shrines or houses and in no circumstances should they offer food to natives, either adults or children. In this connection they should bear in mind that beef is an abomination to Hindus and pork to Muhammadans, Tobacco is equally repugnant to Sikhs and it is not right to smoke near a Sikh place of worship or, if it can be avoided, in the company of Sikhs.

(3) Indians should not be approached or looked at when they are engaged in cooking or in eating their food.

(4) Wells should be avoided as much as possible and in no circumstances should the buckets attached to the well be used for drawing water. If water is required from a village well the guide should be sent to get it.

(5) Soldiers should not attempt to borrow earthen or metal drinking vessels for their own use, since the earthen vessels would have to be destroyed and the metal ones would require ceremonial purification.

(6) Soldiers should be careful not to shoot on sacred tanks; such tanks can usually be recognised—

(a) by their having a small temple or shrine on the bank;

(b) by a pole planted in the middle of the tank with an iron trident or wheel on the top of it.

Nor should they fire at birds when sitting on sacred trees, such as the pipal or banian.

(7) Bathing ghats should be avoided, as they are frequented by women, both for bathing and for drawing water.

(8) Soldiers should avoid as far as possible taking any notice of either woman or children. In the case of the former their motives are apt to be regarded with suspicion, while any attention shown to the latter is thought to cast upon them the evil-eye.

(9) A hookah belonging to an Indian should never be touched, as it would be polluted and would have to be destroyed.

(10) Soldiers should avoid having anything to do with devotees, religious mendicants and fakirs.

(11) Soldiers should bear in mind that dogs are regarded by both Hindus and Muhammadans as unclean animals and should not allow their dogs to go near Indians or their houses. They should also remember that pariah dogs, though apparently ownerless, are useful in guarding villages at night, and that Indians object strongly to their being shot without sufficient cause.

(12) Threshing floors are sacred, especially when threshing or winnowing is going on, and should not be approached.

(13) Hindus of the Bishnoi sect object strongly on religious grounds, to the destruction of life in any form. Villages occupied wholly or partially by members of this sect are to be found in various districts in the Punjab and the United Provinces, and care should be taken to avoid shooting on their lands (vide para 30 of the rules).

Illustrations.

1. Introductory.—For the purpose of these illustrations there may be said to be representatives of five non-Christian religions in India:—

(a) Hindus, who worship many gods.

(b) Muhammadans, who worship only one God.

(c) and (d) Jains and Buddhists, who recognise no God at all, but revere a number of men who are supposed to have attained a special spiritual condition.

(e) Animists, who worship an indefinite number of spirits or powers, mostly evil.

Hindus build temples with pointed tops; Muhammadans have mosques with domes and a varying number of minarets. Jain and Buddhist temples may be known by their fluted domes usually surmounted by flags or brass emblems.

Animists have no temples but respect and fear a large number of natural objects, such as rocks, trees, rivers, waterfalls, etc., especially those which have something unusual in their appearance.

Members of all the religions recognise a number of subordinate dieties, saints, spirits and the like, to whom are erected shrines which soldiers should on no account meddle with. Instances of these irregular forms of worship are given in the next paragraph.

2. Shrines and symbols.—These are connected with the miscellaneous religious observances described below:—

(a) Worship of the sun and moon.—In many places rude representations of the sun and moon are carved on wodden pillars which are worshipped near a village. The Swastika or crooked cross, representing the sun is painted on the walls beside the door post to keep off the evil eye, and appears in the form of two cross strokes with a daub of plaster on the shrine of the village god.

(b) Worship of the earth.—In some districts a drum smeared with red lead forms part of the worship of the earth. In others a small hut of clods about a foot high, covered with fresh grass, and supported by two posts is erected at the edge of a field intended for the spring harvest as the temple of Machandri or mother earth.

(c) Worship of rivers and springs.—Khwaja Khizr, the god of water and the patron diety of boatmen, is worshipped all over India by setting afloat on a river or tank a little raft of grass with a lighted lamp placed upon it. Hot springs are everywhere sacred and should not be meddled with or approached.

(d) Worship of village gods.—(i) In many villages Mahamai or the great mother has a shrine consisting of a low flat mound of earth with seven knobs of coloured clay at the head or west side. Sometimes a flag is erected in front to the east.

(ii) The monkey god, Hanuman is supposed to have power to scare evil spirits from his votaries and a rude image of him smeared with oil and red ochre is frequently met with in Hindu villages. He is the patron of wrestlers and at every wrestling place a platform smeared with cow-dung or earth is erected in his honour.

(iii) Bhimsen is also a village guardian and is represented—

(a) by a piece of iron fixed in a stone or in a tree;

(b) by a stone daubed with vermilion;

(c) by two posts of wood standing three or four feet high;

(d) by stone pillars called Bhimláth or Bhim's clubs.

(iv) The shrine of the god of the village is generally a small square building of brick masonry with a bulb-shaped top, sometimes surmounted by an iron spike. A red flag hung on a neighbouring tree marks its position and there are usually a few carved stones lying about which the villagers rub with vermilion and oil as an act of worship. Another form of the shrine is a pile of stones under an ancient sacred tree. Near these shrines are found little clay images of elephants and horses and clay bowls with short legs, while on the neighbouring trees are hung miniature cots to commemorate the recovery of a patient from small-pox or other infectious disease. Sometimes the shrine of the village god is a rude building of mud or bamboo and straw, roofed with grass thatch; inside is a small platform, known as the seat of the god, on which water is placed in the earthen bowls already described, and cakes, milk and flowers are offered. Elsewhere the abode of the village god is marked by cross stakes of wood driven into the ground on the edge of the cultivated lands. In Southern India the village god Ayenár, is represented by a rudely carved human figure, painted a reddish colour, sitting or riding with his two wives under a rough stone canopy. In Bengal the Sonthals erect a piece of split bamboo about 3 feet high as the Sipahi or sentinel of the village, while the Gonds use two carved posts for the same purpose.

(e) Worship of gods of disease.—The goddess of cholera is worshipped in the form of a block of stone roughly hewn into the semblance of the human figure or is represented by a fragment of rough stone daubed with red ochre and placed beneath the boughs of an ancient banian tree. In one province a similar goddess known as Banspati Mai or the mistress of the jungle, has a shrine in the form of a pile of stones and branches to which every passer by contributes. In another, Ghentu, the god of itch, is represented by a broken earthenware cooking pot daubed with lime and turmeric with a branch or two of the Ghentu plant and a cocoanut broomstick. Mutua Dèo, the god of fevers, is represented by a heap of stones inside the village to which a pig is sacrificed when fever prevails. Hardaul Lala, the god of cholera, has a shrine outside the village with a stone figure of the god on horseback, decorated with flags. The demon of cattle disease is warded off by wisps of straw tied round the trunk of acacia trees.

(f) Worship of ancestors.— All through the central portion of India slabs of stone are set up in the neighbourhood of villages as a resting place for dead ancestors, at which daily offerings of food are made.

(g) Worship of suttees.—All over Upper India small shrines in honour of suttees, or women who burnt themselves on the funeral pyre of their husbands, are found on the banks of tanks. These shrines often take the form of a monument on which is carved the warrior on his charger with his wife standing behind him and the sun and moon on either side. Sometimes a snake is carved as if it were coming out of the tomb.

(h) Worship of pir or saints.—Both Musalmans and Hindus worship indiscriminately a number of militant saints. There are popularly supposed to be five pirs and low caste Hindus whorship them in the form of five wooden pegs set up in the courtyard of the house. The members of a well known criminal tribe build an altar in the shape of a tomb and offer to the pirs a fowl and some thin cakes which are given to a Mohamedan beggar who goes about beating a drum. In another form of this worship an iron bar, robed in read cloth and adorned with flowers, represent Ghazi Miyan and is taken from door to door, drums being beaten and grain collected from the villagers. In many villages of the Punjab, Sakhi Sarwar has a plastered brick shrine with a high dome and low minarets or pillars and a masonry platform in front. Gugá Pir, the Governor of the snakes, is represented on horseback with a long staff in his hand round which a snake is coiled. Teja Ji, another god of the same character, is depicted as a man on horseback whose tongue is being bitten by a snake. Nagardeo, a saint who protects cattle, is represented in villages by a three-pronged pike or trident set up on a platform, and when cows are milked for the first time the milk is offered to him. Kalu Kahar, the son of a Kahar girl who by magical charms compelled King Solomon to marry her, is extensively worshipped in the Maratha country as a protector of cattle. This symbol is a stick covered with peacock's feathers to which offerings of food are made.

(i) Worship of the Malevolent dead.—In many villages small platforms are built with rows of saucer-like holes into which milk and Ganges water are poured while lamps are lit and Brahmins watch to conciliate the Gayal or sonless ghost, the spirit of a man who died without a son to perform his funeral rites. In the hills the wild huntsman Airi, the ghost of a man who was killed while hunting, has his temples in deserted places, a trident representing the god and a number of surrounding stones his followers. In jungle districts the Baghaut or ghost of a man who is killed by a tiger has shrine consisting of a heap of stones or branches near a pathway in the jungle. Every passer-by adds to the pile and the Baiga or jungle priest offers upon it a pig or a cock or some spirits, and lights a little lamp there occasionally.

Spirits, it is believed, cannot sit on the ground and for this reason near certain shrines two pegs or bricks are set up for the spirit to sit on, or a bamboo is hung for the spirit to perch on when he visits the place. For the same reason the Oraons hang up an urn containing the bones of a dead man on a post in front of the house in order that his spirit, finding a comfortable resting place in the urn, may not enter the house and annoy the living.

(j) Worship of trees.—Many trees are regarded as sacred in India, for reasons which need not be entered upon here. On account of this sanctity many Indian tribes bury their dead in trees. The Khasias and Nagas of Assam lay the body in the hollow trunk of a tree or hang it in a coffin to the branches. The Mariya Gonds of the Central Provinces tie the corps to a tree and burn it. Among the Maler of the Sonthal Parganas, priests, whose ghosts are apt to be troublesome, are laid under trees and covered with leaves. In the south of India when a man is worried by a spirit, he calls in a sorcerer who imprisons the spirit in a tree, at the foot of which is placed a stone, the size of a cocoanut, surrounded with other small stones, while the tree and the large stone are smeared with red, lead, red powder and frankincense.

Among the sacred trees the most important are the following :—

The Pipal (Ficus religiosa) which is worshipped by high caste Hindu women every month by watering its roots, smearing the trunk with red lead and ground sandalwood, and putting at the foot copper coins or sweetmeats which are the perquisite of beggars. Sometimes a string of cotton is twisted round the trunk and vessels of water are hung from the branches for the souls of the dead to drink from.

The Banian (Ficus indica) is also sacred and is worshipped in much the same way as the pipel.

In the Punjab the leaves of the Siras (Acacia sirisa) are hung up on a rope crossing the village cattle path to ward off epidemics, together with a tile on which magic words are written and rude models of wooden sandals, a rake, ploughshare and other agricultural implements, which are believed to scare the demon who brings the plague.

The Tulsi or Basil (Ocymum sanctum) is sacred to Vishnu, and is usually planted on small masonry pillars near houses.

(k) Worship of animals.—A number of animals are regarded as sacred by Indians, and soldiers should be careful not to shoot at or molest any of those mentioned below or in the local lists except snakes and tigers.

Snakes.—Snakes are generally sacred because of their mysterious power, because they are believed to protect houses and treasure, and because they are supposed to live a long time and to be very wise. In the Punjab hills every house-holder has an image of a snake in charge of his homestead, and in Southern India similar images are very largely worshipped in the outskirts of villages.

Cows.—Although the worship of the cow by the Hindus is comparatively modern, their prejudices on the subject are extremely strong. To kill, injure or insult a cow is regarded as the most serious of all crimes and the slaughter of kine is expressly prohibited in many Hindu States. Bulls are are also sacred, especially those which have been dedicated to Siva and branded on the right hind quarter with the mark of his trident.

Monkeys.—Are sacred as the embodiment of the god Hanuman.

Rats.—In Western India the rat is sacred as the animal on which the god Ganesha rides, and it is considered a great sin to kill a rat.

Squirrels.—The squirrel is sacred because it helped the god Rama to build a bridge between India and Ceylon when he went to recover his wife Sita from the demon Ravana. In gratitude for this service Rama stroked the squirrel, leaving the marks of three fingures on his back, and ordained that no man should kill him.

Tigers.—In Mirzapur and in the Central Provinces the Gond tiger-deity Gansam Deo has a shrine in the form of a platform of mud outside the village on which water pots and clay figures of horses and elephants are offered to him. Sometimes the shrine consists of a few blocks of rough stone smeared with vermilion surmounted by a garland and a bamboo with a red or yellow flag tied to the end.

Horses.—At the time of the Dasara festival, horses of stone and clay are worshipped by certain tribes, and horses made of rags are offered at the tombs of saints.

Dogs.—Although dogs are regarded by Hindus as unclean, the dog is associated with the worship of Bhairon or Bhairava, the guardian of Siva temples, and in Western India no Maharata will injure a dog. In Poona the god Dattatreya is guarded by four dogs, which are said to represent the four Vedas, and at Jejuri and Nagpur children are dedicated to the dogs of Khandeo Rao, who is regarded as an incarnation of Siva, and is most frequently represented as riding on horseback attended by a dog.

Cats.—The cat is sacred to Shasthi or Chathi, the goddess of lockjaw, which attacks children on the sixth (chathi) day after birth. Shasthi is believed to ride upon a cat, and any Hindu who kills a cat, even by accident, ought to do penance for the sin by walking barefoot all the way to Benares on burning charcoal.

Doves and pigeons are held in much respect by Mahomedans, some of whom will on no account kill pigeons. Hindu traders (banias) also feed them in front of their houses or shops, and greatly resent their being killed.

Peacocks are sacred birds and are specially venerated by the Jats, who object strongly to seeing a peacock killed near their villages. Peacock feathers are believed to ward off disease if waved over the sick, and to smoke a peacock feather in a pipe is a charm against snake-bite.

Parrots.—In some parts of India the inhabitants object strongly to parrots being shot The reason usually assigned is that the parrot has a hand like a man (the hind claws are prehensile) and can talk like a man; therefore it is wrong to kill him.

(l) Worship of fetishes.— The worship of fetish stones prevails all over India, stones of phalic shape, and stones which have holes or perforations, among them the Saligram or Ammonite being regarded with special reverence.

A common religious emblem of this class is a small stone or masonary pillar standing in a sort of saucer with a lip to it. Sometimes the latter is absent and the pillar is represented by a rough water-worm stone, more or less oval in shape, smeared with vermilion. The god Siva is worshipped under this form. The symbol is extremely sacred and soldiers should be careful not to meddle with it.

The Sonthals worship a number of fetishes which are set up in their houses in order to keep off evil spirits, snakes and tigers. They consist of pieces of wood or stones painted red, arrowheads and tridents. In several parts of India rude wooden images, about three feet high with a rough representation of the human face on the top, are set up on platforms to protect the cattle from beasts of prey.

All castes of Hindus worship the tools, implements or weapons by which they earn their living. Among these festishes the grain sieve, the plough, the basket, the broom, and the rice pounder are of special sanctity and are believed to possess magical powers.

(m) Rag offerings.—There are many examples in India of the curious custom of hanging rags on trees and bushes or near sacred wells in order to ward off disease. In Garhwal a heap of stones is erected at the top of a pass with sticks and rags attached to them, to which travellers add a stone or two as they pass. Among the Kharwars of Mirzapur, the Baiga or village sorcerer hangs rags on the trees over the village shrine as a charm to bring health and good luck. In Berar a heap of stones daubed with red and placed under a tree fluttering with rags represents Chindia Deo, or the god of tatters, and it is believed that if a man presents a rag in due season, he may chance to get new clothes. Elsewhere when a man is ill, rags from his person are tied to a tree, especially a banian, cocoanut or some thorny tree. Another plan is to take the disease from the sick man and fix it in a tree by thrusting a nail into it or to catch the spirit of the disease in a bottle and tie the bottle to a tree. So in Mirzapur when fever prevails the parties tie a cotton string, which has never touched water, round the trunk of a pipal tree and hang rags on the branches. The Kharwars have a sacred Mahua tree on which threads are hung at marriages. In Northern India disease may be transferred by filling a pot with flowers and rice and burying it under a stone in a path, or by erecting a little pile of earth decorated with flowers in the middle of the road containing some of the scales of the body of a small-pox patient. The idea is that if any body touches the stone or the pile of earth, the disease will pass from the patient to them.

3. Customs connected with the evil-eye.—Indians dislike to hear their children praised unless the praise be accompanied with some pious ejaculation. There is, however, no objection to noticing some conspicuous ornament or piece of dress which children frequently wear as a protection against the evil-eye.

All Indians are afraid of being stared at, especially by Europeans, and if they are looked at intently they turn their eyes away through fear of fascination. It is believed that the nails of Europeans, like those of the Rakshasa or ogre, distil a deadly poison, and that this is the reason why they eat with knives and forks instead of with their fingers. Europeans are also believed to have control over ghosts, and it is commonly supposed that a European called "the momiáiwála sáhib" has a monopoly of the right of enticing away fat boys, especially those who are very black, for the purpose of making from their fat the magical ointment known as momai, or mummy. A similar superstition is that of the "Dinapur-wala sáhib" who is believed to wander about procuring heads for museums armed with a magic stick, with which he entices people on dark nights and chops off their heads with a pair of shears. Early in 1904 the lower classes of Indians in Calcutta were so firmly persuaded that a mysterious personage called the "Sirkatwa or head-cutting sáhib" was collecting heads to consolidate the foundations of the Victoria Memorial building that they refused to leave their houses after dark.

The metals are credited with great virtue in keeping off the evil-eye and malevolent demons. Accordingly while a house is being built an iron pot or a pot painted black is kept on the works, and when it is finished, the daughter of the householder ties to the lintel of the door a charm which contains a small iron ring.

Shells are believed to have the same power, and for this reason women in Bengal wear shells armlets, and strings of cowrie-shells are tied round the neck or pasterns of horses and cows, as an antidote to the evil-eye. Blue beads are also used for the same purpose.

4. Food, drink, etc.—All Hindus and most Mahomedans are in constant terror of incurring ceremonial pollution, which has nothing to do with personal cleanliness and may be removed with the help of Mullahs or Brahmans by undergoing vaious penalties which in the case of Hindus may take the form of smearing the forehead with cowdung or swallowing the five products of the cow (pancha gavya)—milk, curds, butter, urine and dung. Pollution is believed to be conveyed most readily by water. Consequently a Hindu cannot take water from the hands of any one except a man of his own caste or of a caste higher than his own. The numerous Mahomedans who follow Hindu usages are influenced by similar prejudices. In either case the suggestion that a man has incurred pollution may lead to his being turned out of his caste, so that people will not drink with him, or smoke with him and he may have to pay a substantial fine or give a feast to the caste community in order to be taken back. It follows therefore that a European should never offer water to an Indian or touch any vessel that might have to be used for drinking. For the same reason the hookah in which water is used, may also convey pollution, and in some parts of India people are careful to tie some distinctive mark on to their hookhas so that no one may defile himself by mistake. Fire purifies; water pollutes, hence the distinction which holds good for the whole of Upper India between kochchi roti, or food cooked with water, and pokki roti, or food fried dry with ghee over a fire. The rules relating to the latter are much less strict than in the case of the former, but the safest line of conduct is to take no notice of any Indian while he is eating or cooking. Most Indians particularly dislike being watched at their meals and make a pretence of eating in secret. One sect, indeed, is so particular in this respect, that if a stranger should look at them while they are cooking or eating, the food as at once to be buried in the ground. Some Brahmans in the south of India go further still and believe that earthenware cooking pots are polluted by a stranger even seeing them. They therefore keep their kitchen doors shut so that they may not have to break all their pots and pans. In the same part of the country cotton cloths become unclean if they are touched by a man of a lower caste and especially by a European or a pariah. Saliva is everywhere regarded as most impure, and soldiers should be careful not to spit near temples or houses or in circumstances where it is likely to give offence. It should also be remembered that, for reasons which need not be entered on here, the left hand is considered peculiarly unclean.

5. Wells are usually dug with special religious observances and are consecrated by a rite symbolising the marriage of the well to the garden which it is intended to water. In some places the village well is worshipped by walking round it and smearing the platform with read lead.

REVENUE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

Dated Bangalore, 14th January 1914.

K. DORASWAMI IYER,

Revenue Commissioner.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

No. J. 1745-54—POLICE 112-13-2, DATED BANGALORE, 12TH DECEMBER 1913.

ORDER.—The following revised rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers and to the grant of shooting passes are communicated to the Magistrates of Districts, the Inspector-General of Police in Mysore and the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, in continuation of Government Proceedings No. J. 2814-24—Police 128-04-6, dated 31st March 1905.

APPENDIX XXXV.

(Rfeerred to in paragraph 90.)

RULES RELATING TO GAME SHOOTING AND THE GRANT OF SHOOTING PASSES TO BRITISH SOLDIERS.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass— (I. A. F. L.-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on I. A. F. L.-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass, and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

10. No person not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

11. Shooting passes as a rule shall not extend to more than 14 days, but special passes for periods not exceeding one month may, with the sanction of the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr., be granted to men known to be experienced sportsmen. Soldiers requiring passes to shoot at a distance, or for periods of more than 3 days, must apply for the pass at least 6 days before the date on which they wish to start, so as to enable notice to be given to the district civil authorities as required by rule 31.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters, and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

15. If any member of a shooting party comits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

16. In any such case, on return of the party, a telegraphic report will be made by the O. C. the corps as laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000; and a detailed report shall be sent to the same authorities by post when all the facts have been ascertained.

17. No shooting with bullets of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are foul feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O. mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the powder should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

30. Os. C. stations and Os. C. troops about to march, will ascertain from the civil district officer (in Native States, the Political Officer) :—

(a) in what localities shooting ought to be forbidden;

(b) what animals or birds are regarded by the inhabitants as sacred or are protected by rules relating to the establishment of a close season;

(c) whether any special rules have been published by the civil authorities of the district;

and will ensure that they are made known to all shooting parties.

31. Prior to the issue of a shooting pass which is to extend over three days, the O. C. by whom it is to be granted shall send notice thereof to the district officer of any civil district in which the members of the party are to be permitted to shoot. This notice shall be despatched at least three days before the commencement of the currency of the shooting pass. The notice shall state the ranks and names of the members of the party, the place or places which they are to visit and the dates indicating the duration of the pass.

32. The notice furnished to the political officer of a Native State shall be despatched at least three days beforehand; but such longer notice shall be given as is possible.

33. Soldiers marching through a Native State are in no case to be permitted to shoot beyond ten miles of camp.

34. When passes are granted to enable men to shoot at a distance from their own station, the following procedure will be observed :—

(1) A furlough pass (I. A. F. L.-1180) to the military station nearest to the locality concerned will be issued, on which the O. C. will state, in red ink, that the soldiers are eligible for a shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181) and that they are permitted to carry fire-arms and ammunition for the purpose. The furlough pass so endorsed shall be an authority to the N. C. O. in charge to issue arms and ammunition to the party, after the armourer sergeant has signed the specification that the arms are in good condition and not contrary to rule 8.

(2) A shooting pass will at the same time be issued in the usual form with the omission of (a) the name of the interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, and (d) the countersignature of the O. C.

(3) On arrival at the military station to which they are granted furlough, the party will report themselves to the military authorities at that station who will attach them to a military unit.

(4) The O. C. the corps or detachment to which they are attached will, unless there are valid reasons to the contrary, complete the shooting pass by entering (a) the name of a qualified interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, and (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds for the tracts of country where the members of the party intend to shoot; and will then add (d) his countersignature. He will also give the notice to the civil authorities required by rules 31 and 32.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

36. When any serious breach of these rules occurs, the O. C. corps or detachment will at once report by telegram the date and all the facts of the incident, so far as known and also full details of the action taken, to the authorities laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000. Detailed reports will be submitted subsequently by letter to the same authorities.

37. In every such case the O. C. corps or detachment will immediately apply for the assembly, if possible, of a court of inquiry, which should commence a thorough and searching investigation in view to securing the best possible narrative while the event is still fresh; and he will communicate with the district magistrate as freely as required. If a C. of I. cannot be assembled the O. C. will himself conduct the investigation. The C. of I. or, if one is not assembled, the O. C., will, during the enquiry, endeavour to ascertain whether any, and if so, what breaches of these rules have been committed or have taken place, the nature of which would render the offender (s) liable to trial by court-martial under paragraph 38, and particulars thereof should be recorded in the proceedings or report. When the civil authorities also take up the case every assistance possible will be rendered to them in their investigation. The medical officer, who first attends to any person (whether soldier or civilian) wounded in any such case, will, without delay, bring to the notice of both the civil and military authorities the nature and extent of the injuries received and their probable ultimate result.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr. for orders.

39. When a court-martial is to be held under rule 38 the case shall be sent to the D. J. A. G. of the army concerned, who will frame the charges and prepare the brief for the prosecution, and the proceedings of the court-martial shall be sent to the same officer for report before confirmation. If a civil or military enquiry has been held on any case, the proceedings of the enquiry should accompany application for trial in view of all possible evidence being made available.

40. When a court-martial is held under these rules, the results will be reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander, be prohibited in the corps or detachment, or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

42. Shooting passes will be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) by the local departmental senior commissioned officer, in accordance with these rules so far as they may be applicable. Standing passes for a maximum period of six months, but subject to the rules relating to prohibited localities, animals and birds and to the other restrictions referred to in these rules, may be granted to subordinates of the M. W. S. who are not employed in cantonments. In every case the officer granting the pass is responsible for seeing that the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds is duly entered on the pass.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) granted a shooting pass will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

44. A copy of these rules and of any special civil rules which pertain to the district, also a list of prohibited localities, animals and birds shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in every barrack-room.

45. Twice a year (in April and October on such day as the O. C. directs), rules 1 to 29 and rules 38 and 41 shall be read on parade to all British troops.

46. All military subordinates (departmental or non-departmental), including Assistant Surgeons, I. S. M. D., will be held responsible that they make themselves fully acquainted with these rules.

47. No shooting passes shall be issued to troops disembarking in India until, after their arrival at their destination, these rules, together with the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, have been read to them on parade. The O. C. any party of troops shall have his attention directed to this order before disembarkation.

48. A copy of rules 26, 27, 28 and 29 shall be hung up in every squadron, battery or company store-room.

49. Rules 1 to 10, 12 to 15, 17 to 29, 35, 38, 41 and 43 will be printed on the reverse of the shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181).

50. A copy of these rules will be issued with every shooting pass (for which purpose the rules are reprinted in pamphlet form and copies supplied to all concerned), and will be carried by the member in charge of the party, who will make it over, with the pass, to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company, on return to barracks or camp.

51. The following are the orders of the Government of India to the civil and political authorities in connection with the foregoing rules:—

(i) The civil authorities will periodically explain the substance of the rules and orders in simple language to the inhabitants of all villages and tracts where British soldiers are in the habit of shooting, warning them that soldiers are on no account to be attacked or molested, and that any such offences will be severely punished. The inhabitants therefore will have no excuse for interfering unwarrantably with members of a shooting party.

(ii) The district or political officer will impress on zemindars, headmen, landlords and police that they must use their endeavours to prevent disputes with, or the molestation of, any member of a shooting party, and that complaints are to be reported to the proper authorities by the villagers, who must not take the law into their own hands.

(iii) When the district or political officer receives notice under rules 31 and 32 of the probable visit of a shooting party, he will at once inform the headmen and village police.

(iv) The district or political officer will, on the arrival of troops in a civil district or Native State, at once inform the O. C. such troops of the prohibited localities, animals and birds, and of any special civil rules pertaining to the district.

(v) When a complaint is made by a villager against any member of a shooting party, the district or political officer will at once report the matter to the C. O. of the soldiers concerned.

(vi) Disputes between members of a shooting party and villagers will, if possible, be investigated by a European magistrate or police officer not below the rank of superintendent, and such cases will be tried by a district or joint magistrate. The O. C. concerned will be informed by the district officer of cases not cognisable by the police, or where prosecution is not undertaken by the civil authorities. The O. C. will thereupon take such action as may be necessary.

(vii) The rules for soldiers provide for punishment of a corps or detachment, or district, in the event of the offenders not being discovered. A similar responsibility may be enforced upon villages where affrays with British soldiers have occurred, if the villagers generally, or a considerable number of them, have made an unwarranted attack upon a shooting party, but the actual offenders have not been brought to justice. The villagers will be warned that in all such cases they are liable by law to have extra police quartered upon them at their own expense.

Extracts from the rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers; and to the grant of shooting passes; contained in Appendix XXXV, Army Regulations, India, Volume II.

Application.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

Passes for arms.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass. (I. A. F. L-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

Who may be granted passes.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

Party not to separate.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on India Army Form L-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached, who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

Camps.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

Arams and ammunition.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries Government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own, are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

Possession of revolvers, pistols, etc., forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

Who may accompany the party.

10. No persons not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

* * * * * *

Duty of member in charge of shooting party.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up, will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

Arms to be unloaded.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

Affrays to be reported.

15. If any member of a shooting party commits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

* * * * * *

Shooting with ball or at ight.

17. No shooting with bullets of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in Government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

Indian women

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

Shooting near villages.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

Shooting over crops.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

Prohibited animals or birds and localities.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

Shooting of pig.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are fowl feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

Custody of arms and ammunition.

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery, or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O., mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

Arms to be shown on "daily state."

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

Storage of gun-power.

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the power should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

* * * * * *

Duration of possession of arms, etc.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

* * * * * *

Penalty for shooting without a pass.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Brigade or Divisional Commander for orders.

* * * * * *

Collective stoppage of shooting passes.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander be prohibited in the corps or detachment or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the Commander-in-Chief and the General-Governor of India.

* * * * * *

Departmental Subordinates.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments granted a shooting pass, will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

APPENDIX "B."

CONDUCT OF SOLDIERS TOWARDS INDIANS.

Notes for the information and guidance of soldiers out shooting. By H. H. Risley, Esq., C. S. I., C. I. E. (afterwards Sir Herbert Risley, K. C. I. E., C. S. I.), late Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, and Director of Ethnography for India.

The following instructions are prescribed for observation by warrant and non-commissioned officers and privates in their dealings with Indians when out-shooting under the pass rules. The facts and beliefs upon which the instructions are based are given in the illustrations.

The compiler believes that most of the misunderstandings that arise between British soldiers and inhabitants of India are due to ignorance on both sides. The soldier does not know what is likely to give offence; the Indian assumes that some act which hurts his feelings has been done on purpose to annoy him. The following notes attempt to reduce the occasions for disagreement by explaining some of the customs, beliefs and superstitions which form a large part of the daily life of the Indian villager. When the holders of shooting passes realize that many usages which may strike them at first sight as absurd are looked upon by inhabitants of India as extremely sacred, and that interference with them may cause a man to be put out of caste or to be fined heavily for no fault of his own, the compiler is confident that they will make it a point of honour to treat them with proper respect.

(1) Temples and mosques should not be approached. Soldiers should also avoid the neighbourhood of—

(a) shrines, which may assume various forms ranging from a masonary building to a shapeless lump of clay, and may usually be recognised by the presence of flags or streamers, smears of vermilion, images or pictures of snakes, and holes or niches for lamps;

(b) cemeteries or isolated tombs or graves;

(c) burning ghats;

(d) trees, rocks or other objects which are marked with vermilion, or on or near which flags have been erected, cotton rags tied or offerings placed;

(e) any strange looking object which may be connected with religious or superstitious observances.

(2) Soldiers should be careful not to eat in the neighbourhood of temples, shrines or houses and in no circumstances should they offer food to natives, either adults or children. In this connection they should bear in mind that beef is an abomination to Hindus and pork to Muhammadans, Tobacco is equally repugnant to Sikhs and it is not right to smoke near a Sikh place of worship or, if it can be avoided, in the company of Sikhs.

(3) Indians should not be approached or looked at when they are engaged in cooking or in eating their food.

(4) Wells should be avoided as much as possible and in no circumstances should the buckets attached to the well be used for drawing water. If water is required from a village well the guide should be sent to get it.

(5) Soldiers should not attempt to borrow earthen or metal drinking vessels for their own use, since the earthen vessels would have to be destroyed and the metal ones would require ceremonial purification.

(6) Soldiers should be careful not to shoot on sacred tanks; such tanks can usually be recognised—

(a) by their having a small temple or shrine on the bank;

(b) by a pole planted in the middle of the tank with an iron trident or wheel on the top of it.

Nor should they fire at birds when sitting on sacred trees, such as the pipal or banian.

(7) Bathing ghats should be avoided, as they are frequented by women, both for bathing and for drawing water.

(8) Soldiers should avoid as far as possible taking any notice of either woman or children. In the case of the former their motives are apt to be regarded with suspicion, while any attention shown to the latter is thought to cast upon them the evil-eye.

(9) A hookah belonging to an Indian should never be touched, as it would be polluted and would have to be destroyed.

(10) Soldiers should avoid having anything to do with devotees, religious mendicants and fakirs.

(11) Soldiers should bear in mind that dogs are regarded by both Hindus and Muhammadans as unclean animals and should not allow their dogs to go near Indians or their houses. They should also remember that pariah dogs, though apparently ownerless, are useful in guarding villages at night, and that Indians object strongly to their being shot without sufficient cause.

(12) Threshing floors are sacred, especially when threshing or winnowing is going on, and should not be approached.

(13) Hindus of the Bishnoi sect object strongly on religious grounds, to the destruction of life in any form. Villages occupied wholly or partially by members of this sect are to be found in various districts in the Punjab and the United Provinces, and care should be taken to avoid shooting on their lands (vide para 30 of the rules).

Illustrations.

1. Introductory.—For the purpose of these illustrations there may be said to be representatives of five non-Christian religions in India:—

(a) Hindus, who worship many gods.

(b) Muhammadans, who worship only one God.

(c) and (d) Jains and Buddhists, who recognise no God at all, but revere a number of men who are supposed to have attained a special spiritual condition.

(e) Animists, who worship an indefinite number of spirits or powers, mostly evil.

Hindus build temples with pointed tops; Muhammadans have mosques with domes and a varying number of minarets. Jain and Buddhist temples may be known by their fluted domes usually surmounted by flags or brass emblems.

Animists have no temples but respect and fear a large number of natural objects, such as rocks, trees, rivers, waterfalls, etc., especially those which have something unusual in their appearance.

Members of all the religions recognise a number of subordinate dieties, saints, spirits and the like, to whom are erected shrines which soldiers should on no account meddle with. Instances of these irregular forms of worship are given in the next paragraph.

2. Shrines and symbols.—These are connected with the miscellaneous religious observances described below:—

(a) Worship of the sun and moon.—In many places rude representations of the sun and moon are carved on wodden pillars which are worshipped near a village. The Swastika or crooked cross, representing the sun is painted on the walls beside the door post to keep off the evil eye, and appears in the form of two cross strokes with a daub of plaster on the shrine of the village god.

(b) Worship of the earth.—In some districts a drum smeared with red lead forms part of the worship of the earth. In others a small hut of clods about a foot high, covered with fresh grass, and supported by two posts is erected at the edge of a field intended for the spring harvest as the temple of Machandri or mother earth.

(c) Worship of rivers and springs.—Khwaja Khizr, the god of water and the patron diety of boatmen, is worshipped all over India by setting afloat on a river or tank a little raft of grass with a lighted lamp placed upon it. Hot springs are everywhere sacred and should not be meddled with or approached.

(d) Worship of village gods.—(i) In many villages Mahamai or the great mother has a shrine consisting of a low flat mound of earth with seven knobs of coloured clay at the head or west side. Sometimes a flag is erected in front to the east.

(ii) The monkey god, Hanuman is supposed to have power to scare evil spirits from his votaries and a rude image of him smeared with oil and red ochre is frequently met with in Hindu villages. He is the patron of wrestlers and at every wrestling place a platform smeared with cow-dung or earth is erected in his honour.

(iii) Bhimsen is also a village guardian and is represented—

(a) by a piece of iron fixed in a stone or in a tree;

(b) by a stone daubed with vermilion;

(c) by two posts of wood standing three or four feet high;

(d) by stone pillars called Bhimláth or Bhim's clubs.

(iv) The shrine of the god of the village is generally a small square building of brick masonry with a bulb-shaped top, sometimes surmounted by an iron spike. A red flag hung on a neighbouring tree marks its position and there are usually a few carved stones lying about which the villagers rub with vermilion and oil as an act of worship. Another form of the shrine is a pile of stones under an ancient sacred tree. Near these shrines are found little clay images of elephants and horses and clay bowls with short legs, while on the neighbouring trees are hung miniature cots to commemorate the recovery of a patient from small-pox or other infectious disease. Sometimes the shrine of the village god is a rude building of mud or bamboo and straw, roofed with grass thatch; inside is a small platform, known as the seat of the god, on which water is placed in the earthen bowls already described, and cakes, milk and flowers are offered. Elsewhere the abode of the village god is marked by cross stakes of wood driven into the ground on the edge of the cultivated lands. In Southern India the village god Ayenár, is represented by a rudely carved human figure, painted a reddish colour, sitting or riding with his two wives under a rough stone canopy. In Bengal the Sonthals erect a piece of split bamboo about 3 feet high as the Sipahi or sentinel of the village, while the Gonds use two carved posts for the same purpose.

(e) Worship of gods of disease.—The goddess of cholera is worshipped in the form of a block of stone roughly hewn into the semblance of the human figure or is represented by a fragment of rough stone daubed with red ochre and placed beneath the boughs of an ancient banian tree. In one province a similar goddess known as Banspati Mai or the mistress of the jungle, has a shrine in the form of a pile of stones and branches to which every passer by contributes. In another, Ghentu, the god of itch, is represented by a broken earthenware cooking pot daubed with lime and turmeric with a branch or two of the Ghentu-plant and a cocoanut broomstick. Mutua Deo, the god of fevers, is represented by a heap of stones inside the village to which a pig is sacrificed when fever prevails. Hardaul Lala, the god of cholera, has a shrine outside the village with a stone figure of the god on horseback, decorated with flags. The demon of cattle disease is warded off by wisps of straw tied round the trunk of acacia trees.

(f) Worship of ancestors.—All through the central portion of India slabs of stone are set up in the neighbourhood of villages as a resting place for dead ancestors, at which daily offerings of food are made.

(g) Worship of suttees.—All over Upper India small shrines in honour of suttees, or women who burnt themselves on the funeral pyre of their husbands, are found on the banks of tanks. These shrines often take the form of a monument on which is carved the warrior on his charger with his wife standing behind him and the sun and moon on either side. Sometimes a snake is carved as if it were coming out of the tomb.

(h) Worship of pir or saints.—Both Musalmans and Hindus worship indiscriminately a number of militant saints. There are popularly supposed to be five pirs and low caste Hindus whorship them in the form of five wooden pegs set up in the courtyard of the house. The members of a well known criminal tribe build an altar in the shape of a tomb and offer to the pirs a fowl and some thin cakes which are given to a Mohamedan beggar who goes about beating a drum. In another form of this worship an iron bar, robed in read cloth and adorned with flowers, represent Ghazi Miyan and is taken from door to door, drums being beaten and grain collected from the villagers. In many villages of the Punjab, Sakhi Sarwar has a plastered brick shrine with a high dome and low minarets or pillars and a masonry platform in front. Gugá Pir, the Governor of the snakes, is represented on horseback with a long staff in his hand round which a snake is coiled. Teja Ji, another god of the same character, is depicted as a man on horseback whose tongue is being bitten by a snake. Nagardeo, a saint who protects cattle, is represented in villages by a three-pronged pike or trident set up on a platform, and when cows are milked for the first time the milk is offered to him. Kalu Kahar, the son of a Kahar girl who by magical charms compelled King Solomon to marry her, is extensively worshipped in the Maratha country as a protector of cattle. This symbol is a stick covered with peacock's feathers to which offerings of food are made.

(i) Worship of the Malevolent dead.—In many villages small platforms are built with rows of saucer-like holes into which milk and Ganges water are poured while lamps are lit and Brahmins watch to conciliate the Gayal or sonless ghost,

the spirit of a man who died without a son to perform his funeral rites. In the hills the wild huntsman Airi, the ghost of a man who was killed while hunting, has his temples in deserted places, a trident representing the god and a number of surrounding stones his followers. In jungle districts the Baghaut or ghost of a man who is killed by a tiger has shrine consisting of a heap of stones or branches near a pathway in the jungle. Every passer-by adds to the pile and the Baiga or jungle priest offers upon it a pig or a cock or some spirits, and lights a little lamp there occasionally.

Spirits, it is believed, cannot sit on the ground and for this reason near certain shrines two pegs or bricks are set up for the spirit to sit on, or a bamboo is hung for the spirit to perch on when he visits the place. For the same reason the Oraons hang up an urn containing the bones of a dead man on a post in front of the house in order that his spirit, finding a comfortable resting place in the urn, may not enter the house and annoy the living.

(j) Worship of trees.—Many trees are regarded as sacred in India, for reasons which need not be entered upon here. On account of this sanctity many Indian tribes bury their dead in trees. The Khasias and Nagas of Assam lay the body in the hollow trunk of a tree or hang it in a coffin to the branches. The Mariya Gonds of the Central Provinces tie the corps to a tree and burn it. Among the Maler of the Sonthal Parganas, priests, whose ghosts are apt to be troublesome, are laid under trees and covered with leaves. In the south of India when a man is worried by a spirit, he calls in a sorcerer who imprisons the spirit in a tree, at the foot of which is placed a stone, the size of a cocoanut, surrounded with other small stones, while the tree and the large stone are smeared with red, lead, red powder and frankincense.

Among the sacred trees the most important are the following :—

The Pipal (Ficus religiosa) which is worshipped by high caste Hindu women every month by watering its roots, smearing the trunk with red lead and ground sandalwood, and putting at the foot copper coins or sweetmeats which are the perquisite of beggars. Sometimes a string of cotton is twisted round the trunk and vessels of water are hung from the branches for the souls of the dead to drink from.

The Banian (Ficus indica) is also sacred and is worshipped in much the same way as the pipel.

In the Punjab the leaves of the Siras (Acacia sirisa) are hung up on a rope crossing the village cattle path to ward off epidemics, together with a tile on which magic words are written and rude models of wooden sandals, a rake, ploughshare and other agricultural implements, which are believed to scare the demon who brings the plague.

The Tulsi or Basil (Ocymum sanctum) is sacred to Vishnu, and is usually planted on small masonry pillars near houses.

(k) Worship of animals.—A number of animals are regarded as sacred by Indians, and soldiers should be careful not to shoot at or molest any of those mentioned below or in the local lists except snakes and tigers.

Snakes.—Snakes are generally sacred because of their mysterious power, because they are believed to protect houses and treasure, and because they aer supposed to live a long time and to be very wise. In the Punjab hills every house-holder has an image of a snake in charge of his homestead, and in Southern India similar images are very largely worshipped in the outskirts of villages.

Cows.—Although the worship of the cow by the Hindus is comparatively modern, their prejudices on the subject are extremely strong. To kill, injure or insult a cow is regarded as the most serious of all crimes and the slaughter of kine is expressly prohibited in many Hindu States. Bulls are also sacred, especially those which have been dedicated to Siva and branded on the right hind quarter with the mark of his trident.

Monkeys.—Are sacred as the embodiment of the god Hanuman.

Rats.—In Western India the rat is sacred as the animal on which the god Ganesha rides, and it is considered a great sin to kill a rat.

Squirrels.—The squirrel is sacred because it helped the god Rama to build a bridge between India and Ceylon when he went to recover his wife Sita from the demon Ravana. In gratitude for this service Rama stroked the squirrel, leaving the marks of three fingures on his back, and ordained that no man should kill him.

Tigers.—In Mirzapur and in the Central Provinces the Gond tiger-deity Gansam Deo has a shrine in the form of a platform of mud outside the village on which water pots and clay figures of horses and elephants are offered to him. Sometimes the shrine consists of a few blocks of rough stone smeared with vermilion surmounted by a garland and a bamboo with a red or yellow flag tied to the end.

Horses.—At the time of the Dasara festival, horses of stone and clay are worshipped by certain tribes, and horses made of rags are offered at the tombs of saints.

Dogs.—Although dogs are regarded by Hindus as unclean, the dog is associated with the worship of Bhairon or Bhairava, the guardian of Siva temples, and in Western India no Maharata will injure a dog. In Poona the god Dattatreya is guarded by four dogs, which are said to represent the four Vedas, and at Jejuri and Nagpur children are dedicated to the dogs of Khandeo Rao, who is regarded as an incarnation of Siva, and is most frequently represented as riding on horseback attended by a dog.

Cats.—The cat is sacred to Shasthi or Chathi, the goddess of lockjaw which attacks children on the sixth (chathi) day after birth. Shasthi is believed to ride upon a cat, and any Hindu who kills a cat, even by accident, ought to do penance for the sin by walking barefoot all the way to Benares on burning charcoal.

Doves and pigeons are held in much respect by Mahomedans, some of whom will on no account kill pigeons. Hindu traders (banias) also feed them in front of their houses or shops, and greatly resent their being killed.

Peacocks are sacred birds and are specially venerated by the Jats, who object strongly to seeing a peacock killed near their villages. Peacock feathers are believed to ward off disease if waved over the sick, and to smoke a peacock feather in a pipe is a charm against snake-bite.

Parrots.—In some parts of India the inhabitants object strongly to parrots being shot. The reason usually assigned is that the parrot has a hand like a man (the hind claws are prehensile) and can talk like a man; therefore it is wrong to kill him.

(l) Worship of fetishes.—The worship of fetish stones prevails all over India, stones of phalic shape, and stones which have holes or perforations, among them the Saligram or Ammonite being regarded with special reverence.

A common religious emblem of this class is a small stone or masonary pillar standing in a sort of saucer with a lip to it. Sometimes the latter is absent and the pillar is represented by a rough water-worm stone, more or less oval in shape, smeared with vermilion. The god Siva is worshipped under this form. The symbol is extremely sacred and soldiers should be careful not to meddle with it.

The Sonthals worship a number of fetishes which are set up in their houses in order to keep off evil spirits, snakes and tigers. They consist of pieces of wood or stones painted red, arrowheads and tridents. In several parts of India rude wooden images, about three feet high with a rough representation of the human face on the top, are set up on platforms to protect the cattle from beasts of prey.

All castes of Hindus worship the tools, implements or weapons by which they earn their living. Among these festishes the grain sieve, the plough, the basket, the broom, and the rice pounder are of special sanctity and are believed to possess magical powers.

(m) Rag offerings.—There are many examples in India of the curious custom of hanging rags on trees and bushes or near sacred wells in order to ward off disease. In Garhwal a heap of stones is erected at the top of a pass with sticks and rags attached to them, to which travellers add a stone or two as they pass. Among the Kharwars of Mirzapur, the Baiga or village sorcerer hangs rags on the trees over the village shrine as a charm to bring health and good luck. In Berar a heap of stones daubed with red and placed under a tree fluttering with rags represents Chindia Deo, or the god of tatters, and it is believed that if a man presents a rag in due season, he may chance to get new clothes. Elsewhere when a man is ill, rags from his person are tied to a tree, especially a banian, cocoanut or some thorny tree. Another plan is to take the disease from the sick man and fix it in a tree by thrusting a nail into it or to catch the spirit of the disease in a bottle and tie the bottle to a tree. So in Mirzapur when fever prevails the parties tie a cotton string, which has never touched water, round the trunk of a pipal tree and hang rags on the branches. The Kharwars have a sacred Mahua tree on which threads are hung at marriages. In Northern India disease may be transferred by filling a pot with flowers and rice and burying it under a stone in a path, or by erecting a little pile of earth decorated with flowers in the middle of the road containing some of the scales of the body of a small-pox patient. The idea is that if any body touches the stone or the pile of earth, the disease will pass from the patient to them.

3. Customs connected with the evil-eye.—Indians dislike to hear their children praised unless the praise be accompanied with some pious ejaculation. There is, however, no objection to noticing some conspicuous ornament or piece of dress which children frequently wear as a protection against the evil-eye.

All Indians are afraid of being stared at, especially by Europeans, and if they are looked at intently they turn their eyes away through fear of fascination. It is believed that the nails of Europeans, like those of the Rakshasa or ogre, distil a deadly poison, and that this is the reason why they eat with knives and forks instead of with their fingers. Europeans are also believed to have control over ghosts, and it is commonly supposed that a European called "the momiáiwála sáhib" has a monopoly of the right of enticing away fat boys, especially those who are very black, for the purpose of making from their fat the magical ointment known as momai, or mummy. A similar superstition is that of the "Dinapur-wala sáhib" who is believed to wander about procuring heads for museums armed with a magic stick, with which he entices people on dark nights and chops off their heads with a pair of shears. Early in 1904 the lower classes of Indians in Calcutta were so firmly persuaded that a mysterious personage called the "Sirkatwa or head-cutting sáhib" was collecting heads to consolidate the foundations of the Victoria Memorial building that they refused to leave their houses after dark.

The metals are credited with great virtue in keeping off the evil-eye and malevolent demons. Accordingly while a house is being built an iron pot or a pot painted black is kept on the works, and when it is finished, the daughter of the householder ties to the lintel of the door a charm which contains a small iron ring.

Shells are believed to have the same power, and for this reason women in Bengal wear shells armlets, and strings of cowrie-shells are tied round the neck or pasterns of horses and cows, as an antidote to the evil-eye. Blue beads are also used for the same purpose.

4. Food, drink, etc.—All Hindus and most Mahomedans are in constant terror of incurring ceremonial pollution, which has nothing to do with personal cleanliness and may be removed with the help of Mullahs or Brahmans by undergoing various penalties which in the case of Hindus may take the form of smearing the forehead with cowdung or swallowing the five products of the cow (pancha gavya)—milk, curds, butter, urine and dung. Pollution is believed to be conveyed most readily by water. Consequently a Hindu cannot take water from the hands of any one except a man of his own caste or of a caste higher than his own. The numerous Mahomedans who follow Hindu usages are influenced by similar prejudices. In either case the suggestion that a man has incurred pollution may lead to his being turned out of his caste, so that people will not drink with him, or smoke with him and he may have to pay a substantial fine or give a feast to the caste community in order to be taken back. It follows therefore that a European should never offer water to an Indian or touch any vessel that might have to be used for drinking. For the same reason the hookah in which water is used, may also convey pollution, and in some parts of India people are careful to tie some distinctive mark on to their hookhas so that no one may defile himself by mistake. Fire purifies; water pollutes, hence the distinction which holds good for the whole of Upper India between kochchi roti, or food cooked with water, and pokki roti, or food fried dry with ghee over a fire. The rules relating to the latter are much less strict than in the case of the former, but the safest line of conduct is to take no notice of any Indian while he is eating or cooking. Most Indians particularly dislike being watched at their meals and make a pretence of eating in secret. One sect, indeed, is so particular in this respect, that if a stranger should look at them while they are cooking or eating, the food as at once to be buried in the ground. Some Brahmans in the south of India go further still and believe that earthenware cooking pots are polluted by a stranger even seeing them. They therefore keep their kitchen doors shut so that they may not have to break all their pots and pans. In the same part of the country cotton cloths become unclean if they are touched by a man of a lower caste and especially by a European or a pariah. Saliva is everywhere regarded as most impure, and soldiers should be careful not to spit near temples or houses or in circumstances where it is likely to give offence. It should also be remembered that, for reasons which need not be entered on here, the left hand is considered peculiarly unclean.

5. Wells are usually dug with special religious observances and are consecrated by a rite symbolising the marriage of the well to the garden which it is intended to water. In some places the village well is worshipped by walking round it and smearing the platform with read lead.

OFFICE OF THE REVENUE COMMISSIONER IN MYSORE,
Dated Bangalore, the 12th January 1914.

K. DORASWAMI IYER,
Revenue Commissioner.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

No. J. 1745-54—POLICE 112-13-2, DATED BANGALORE, 12TH DECEMBER 1913.

ORDER.—The following revised rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers and to the grant of shooting passes are communicated to the Magistrates of Districts, the Inspector-General of Police in Mysore and the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, in continuation of Government Proceedings No. J. 2814-24—Police 128-04-6, dated 31st March 1905.

APPENDIX XXXV.

(Referred to in paragraph 90.)

RULES RELATING TO GAME SHOOTING: AND THE GRANT OF SHOOTING PASSES TO BRITISH SOLDIERS.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass— (I. A. F. L.-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on I. A. F. L.-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass, and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

10. No person not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

11. Shooting passes as a rule shall not extend to more than 14 days, but special passes for periods not exceeding one month may, with the sanction of the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr., be granted to men known to be experienced sportsmen. Soldiers requiring passes to shoot at a distance, or for periods of more than 3 days, must apply for the pass at least 6 days before the date on which they wish to start, so as to enable notice to be given to the district civil authorities as required by rule 31.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters, and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

15. If any member of a shooting party comits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

16. In any such case, on return of the party, a telegraphic report will be made by the O. C. the corps as laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000; and a detailed report shall be sent to the same authorities by post when all the facts have been ascertained.

17. No shooting with bullets of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure, nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are foul feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O. mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the powder should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

30. Os. C. stations and Os. C. troops about to march, will ascertain from the civil district officer (in Native States, the Political Officer) :—

(a) in what localities shooting ought to be forbidden;

(b) what animals or birds are regarded by the inhabitants as sacred or are protected by rules relating to the establishment of a close season;

(c) whether any special rules have been published by the civil authorities of the district;

and will ensure that they are made known to all shooting parties.

31. Prior to the issue of a shooting pass which is to extend over three days, the O. C. by whom it is to be granted shall send notice thereof to the district officer of any civil district in which the members of the party are to be permitted to shoot. This notice shall be despatched at least three days before the commencement of the currency of the shooting pass. The notice shall state the ranks and names of the members of the party, the place or places which they are to visit and the dates indicating the duration of the pass.

32. The notice furnished to the political officer of a Native State shall be despatched at least three days beforehand; but such longer notice shall be given as is possible.

33. Soldiers marching through a Native State are in no case to be permitted to shoot beyond ten miles of camp.

34. When passes are granted to enable men to shoot at a distance from their own station, the following procedure will be observed :—

(1) A furlough pass (I. A. F. L.-1180) to the military station nearest to the locality concerned will be issued, on which the O. C. will state, in red ink, that the soldiers are eligible for a shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181) and that they are permitted to carry fire-arms and ammunition for the purpose. The furlough pass so endorsed shall be an authority to the N. C. O. in charge to issue arms and ammunition to the party, after the armourer sergeant has signed the specification that the arms are in good condition and not contrary to rule 8.

(2) A shooting pass will at the same time be issued in the usual form with the omission of (a) the name of the interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, and (d) the countersignature of the O. C.

(3) On arrival at the military station to which they are granted furlough, the party will report themselves to the military authorities at that station who will attach them to a military unit.

(4) The O. C. the corps or detachment to which they are attached will, unless there are valid reasons to the contrary, complete the shooting pass by entering (a) the name of a qualified interpreter, (b) the dates indicating the duration of the pass, and (c) the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds for the tracts of country where the members of the party intend to shoot; and will then add (d) his countersignature. He will also give the notice to the civil authorities required by rules 31 and 32.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

36. When any serious breach of these rules occurs, the O. C. corps or detachment will at once report by telegram the date and all the facts of the incident, so far as known and also full details of the action taken, to the authorities laid down in item 282, I. A. F. Z.-2,000. Detailed reports will be submitted subsequently by letter to the same authorities.

37. In every such case the O. C. corps or detachment will immediately apply for the assembly, if possible, of a court of inquiry, which should commence a thorough and searching investigation in view to securing the best possible narrative while the event is still fresh; and he will communicate with the district magistrate as freely as required. If a C. of I. cannot be assembled the O. C. will himself conduct the investigation. The C. of I. or, if one is not assembled, the O. C., will, during the enquiry, endeavour to ascertain whether any, and if so, what breaches of these rules have been committed or have taken place, the nature of which would render the offender (s) liable to trial by court-martial under paragraph 38, and particulars thereof should be recorded in the proceedings or report. When the civil authorities also take up the case every assistance possible will be rendered to them in their investigation. The medical officer, who first attends to any person (whether soldier or civilian) wounded in any such case, will, without delay, bring to the notice of both the civil and military authorities the nature and extent of the injuries received and their probable ultimate result.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Bde. or Divnl. Comdr. for orders.

39. When a court-martial is to be held under rule 38 the case shall be sent to the D. J. A. G. of the army concerned, who will frame the charges and prepare the brief for the prosecution, and the proceedings of the court-martial shall be sent to the same officer for report before confirmation. If a civil or military enquiry has been held on any case, the proceedings of the enquiry should accompany application for trial in view of all possible evidence being made available.

40. When a court-martial is held under these rules, the results will be reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander, be prohibited in the corps or detachment, or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

42. Shooting passes will be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) by the local departmental senior commissioned officer, in accordance with these rules so far as they may be applicable. Standing passes for a maximum period of six months, but subject to the rules relating to prohibited localities, animals and birds and to the other restrictions referred to in these rules, may be granted to subordinates of the M. W. S. who are not employed in cantonments. In every case the officer granting the pass is responsible for seeing that the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds is duly entered on the pass.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments (including I. S. M. D.) granted a shooting pass will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

44. A copy of these rules and of any special civil rules which pertain to the district, also a list of prohibited localities, animals and birds shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in every barrack-room.

45. Twice a year (in April and October on such day as the O. C. directs) rules 1 to 29 and rules 38 and 41 shall be read on parade to all British troops.

46. All military subordinates (departmental or non-departmental), including Assistant Surgeons, I. S. M. D., will be held responsible that they make themselves fully acquainted with these rules.

47. No shooting passes shall be issued to troops disembarking in India until, after their arrival at their destination, these rules, together with the list of prohibited localities, animals and birds, have been read to them on parade. The O. C. any party of troops shall have his attention directed to this order before disembarkation.

48. A copy of rules 26, 27, 28 and 29 shall be hung up in every squadron, battery or company store-room.

49. Rules 1 to 10, 12 to 15, 17 to 29, 35, 38, 41 and 43 will be printed on the reverse of the shooting pass (I. A. F. L.-1181).

50. A copy of these rules will be issued with every shooting pass (for which purpose the rules are reprinted in pamphlet form and copies supplied to all concerned), and will be carried by the member in charge of the party, who will make it over, with the pass, to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company, on return to barracks or camp.

51. The following are the orders of the Government of India to the civil and political authorities in connection with the foregoing rules :—

(i) The civil authorities will periodically explain the substance of the rules and orders in simple language to the inhabitants of all villages and tracts where British soldiers are in the habit of shooting, warning them that soldiers are on no account to be attacked or molested, and that any such offences will be severely punished. The inhabitants therefore will have no excuse for interfering unwarrantably with members of a shooting party.

(ii) The district or political officer will impress on zemindars, headmen, landlords and police that they must use their endeavours to prevent disputes with, or the molestation of, any member of a shooting party, and that complaints are to be reported to the proper authorities by the villagers, who must not take the law into their own hands.

(iii) When the district or political officer receives notice under rules 31 and 32 of the probable visit of a shooting party, he will at once inform the headmen and village police.

(iv) The district or political officer will, on the arrival of troops in a civil district or Native State, at once inform the O. C. such troops of the prohibited localities, animals and birds, and of any special civil rules pertaining to the district.

(v) When a complaint is made by a villager against any member of a shooting party, the district or political officer will at once report the matter to the C. O. of the soldiers concerned.

(vi) Disputes between members of a shooting party and villagers will, if possible, be investigated by a European magistrate or police officer not below the rank of superintendent, and such cases will be tried by a district or joint magistrate. The O. C. concerned will be informed by the district officer of cases not cognisable by the police, or where prosecution is not undertaken by the civil authorities. The O. C. will thereupon take such action as may be necessary.

(vii) The rules for soldiers provide for punishment of a corps or detachment, or district, in the event of the offenders not being discovered. A similar responsibility may be enforced upon villages where affrays with British soldiers have occurred, if the villagers generally, or a considerable number of them, have made an unwarranted attack upon a shooting party, but the actual offenders have not been brought to justice. The villagers will be warned that in all such cases they are liable by law to have extra police quartered upon them at their own expense.

Extracts from the rules relating to game shooting by British soldiers; and to the grant of shooting passes; contained in Appendix XXXV, Army Regulations, India, Volume II.

Application.

1. The following rules will be observed, and are applicable to all individuals, below the rank of officer, who are subject to the Army Act.

2. These rules apply to troops on the march or in moving camps, as well as to troops in cantonments or standing camps.

Passes for arms.

3. No soldier shall carry fire-arms for sporting purposes without a shooting pass. (I. A. F. L-1181). Shooting passes will only be granted to warrant and non-commissioned officers, and to efficient private soldiers possessing at least one good conduct badge. A soldier who is ineligible for a shooting pass, shall not be allowed to possess a sporting fire-arm.

Who may be granted passes.

4. Soldiers of and above the rank of sergeant may be granted passes to shoot alone, provided that the officer granting the pass is satisfied that the soldier has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, or that he will be accompanied by a qualified Indian interpreter. In the case of other ranks passes will only be granted to a party of not less than three and not more than six, one of whom shall be in charge of the party. The party must in all cases be accompanied by an Indian qualified to act as interpreter, whose name will be entered on the pass.

Party not to separate.

5. One member may be left in charge of the camp, but the remainder of the party shall not separate while shooting.

6. All shooting passes will be issued on India Army Form L-1181. They will be granted by the O. C. the corps, department or detachment to which the soldiers belong or to which they are attached, who will keep a record of all passes granted. The names of the party and of the interpreter, the places, up to a maximum of three, at which the camps will be located, and the numbers and specifications of the fire-arms carried will be entered on the pass and the certificate on the face of the pass will be signed by the squadron, battery, section or company officer, and countersigned by the O. C. Before the party starts the armourer sergeant, and in the case of a battery, the armament artificer, if available, or the section officer, will inspect all the fire-arms entered on the pass and will sign the certificate thereon.

Camps.

7. Shooting parties will camp only in the actual places named in their pass, and will not shoot outside a radius of 5 miles of the camp.

Arms and ammunition.

8. No fire-arms not specified on the pass shall be carried or used, and no rifle or carbine shall be used, which carries Government ammunition or is sighted over 300 yards. With the exception of rifles kept for match shooting, the only shooting weapons which British soldiers are permitted to own, are such as are intended and used for sporting purposes. The possession of revolvers, pistols of all sorts, and weapons which do not fulfil the conditions specified in this rule, is absolutely forbidden.

Possession of revolvers, pistols, etc., forbidden.

9. All bullets used with rifles or carbines for sporting purposes must be hollow.

Who may accompany the party.

10. No persons not named in the pass, except a shikari and game coolies, shall accompany a shooting party.

* * * * * *

Duty of member in charge of shooting party.

12. The soldier in charge of the party shall carry the pass. He shall produce it when reasonably required to do so, and he shall at once return it to the senior N. C. O. of the squadron, battery or company when the party comes back to camp or lines. On returning the pass he will report any breach of these rules, any affray with Indians, or any mishap, which may have occurred during the absence of the party.

13. If any such event is reported, the N. C. O. to whom the pass is given up, will at once inform the O. C. the corps, who will immediately report the occurrence, with full particulars, to the O. C. Station and District Magistrate. A copy of the complaint, if any, should also be furnished.

Arms to be unloaded.

14. Arms shall not be loaded in the vicinity of camp, lines, or quarters and shall be unloaded as soon as the party leaves off shooting.

Affrays to be reported.

15. If any member of a shooting party commits any act resulting in injury to person or property or is involved in an affray with Indians, the party shall return to camp or lines without delay, after reporting, if possible, to the nearest civil authority.

* * * * * *

Shooting with ball or at night.

17. No shooting with bullets of any kind is permitted except in forest or close jungle, or in tracts of country where such shooting is not attended with danger.

18. Shooting at night is forbidden, except in forests.

19. Shooting in Government reserved forests is prohibited without a special permit from the forest officer.

Indian women

20. No member of a shooting party shall address or enter into conversation with any Indian woman.

Shooting near villages.

21. No member of a shooting party shall enter any village, house, temple, mosque or enclosure nor shall shoot within 500 yards of such. If supplies are to be obtained from a village, the interpreter may be employed for the purpose.

Shooting over crops.

22. Members of shooting parties are forbidden to trespass upon or shoot over crops.

Prohibited animals or birds and localities.

23. No member of a shooting party shall shoot at any animal or bird, or in any locality, included in the prohibited list shown on the pass.

24. Shooting at peafowl is prohibited, unless by special permission endorsed on the pass. No shooting at hinds, does, monkeys or dogs is permitted.

Shooting of pig.

25. The shooting of pig within a radius of 15 miles of Saugor, C. P., is prohibited. (Soldiers are cautioned that the jungle pigs are fowl feeders and it is unwholesome to eat them.)

Custody of arms and ammunition.

26. All fire-arms and made-up cartridges used for sporting purposes, whether private property or issued by government, shall be kept in the store-room in charge of the senior N. C. O., of the squadron, battery, or company, who alone may issue arms and cartridges on the production of the pass in which they are specified; and this duty shall not be delegated to any other person. This rule is applicable to "Quackenbush" and similar miniature rifles.

27. On the return of the shooting party all fire-arms issued from the store-room and unused made-up cartridges, shall be made over to the N. C. O., mentioned in para 26, who will sign for their receipt on the shooting pass.

Arms to be shown on "daily state."

28. All arms kept for sporting purposes shall be entered on the "daily state" of the corps or detachment; and shall be shown as "present," "on pass" or "absent."

Storage of gun-power.

29. All gunpowder used for loading or reloading sporting cartridges shall be kept in the magazine of the unit and issued from and returned thereto under the usual rules. When in the magazine the power should be contained in the usual flasks or tins in which purchased and these again placed in an ordinary kit box under lock and key. The total quantity of gunpowder placed in the magazine should be restricted as much as possible, and should never exceed 50 lbs. The flasks or tins containing powder are never to be opened in or near the magazine. Filling cartridges should not be permitted in barrack rooms; this should be done in the open air.

* * * * * *

Duration of possession of arms, etc.

35. The possession of fire-arms and ammunition by members of the party is only allowed during the currency of the shooting pass: when that period has expired they must be at once lodged in the store-room.

* * * * * *

Penalty for shooting without a pass.

38. Any soldier shooting without a pass shall be tried by court-martial, and shall on conviction be deprived of the privilege of shooting during the remainder of his Indian service. Also, any member of a shooting party who commits any breach of these rules resulting in material injury to person or property, shall be tried by court-martial. Cases of all other breaches of the rules shall be reported to the Brigade or Divisional Commander for orders.

* * * * * *

Collective stoppage of shooting passes.

41. If any breach of these rules, or any act committed by a member of a shooting party, results in an affray with Indians, or in material injury to person or property, and the offender or offenders cannot be identified, all shooting passes may, at the discretion of the Divisional Commander be prohibited in the corps or detachment or in the district, for a period not exceeding two years. Every such prohibition shall be published in Divisional orders and reported for the information of the C. in C. and the G. of I.

* * * * * *

Departmental Subordinates.

43. Warrant and non-commissioned officers of departments granted a shooting pass, will, before proceeding, have all the fire-arms, entered on their pass, examined by the officer who signed the pass, or by an armourer if one is available in the station.

APPENDIX "B."

CONDUCT OF SOLDIERS TOWARDS INDIANS.

Notes for the information and guidance of soldiers out shooting. By H. H. Risley, Esq., C. S. I., C. I. E. (afterwards Sir Herbert Risley, K. C. I. E., C. S. I.), late Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, and Director of Ethnography for India.

The following instructions are prescribed for observation by warrant and non-commissioned officers and privates in their dealings with Indians when out-shooting under the pass rules. The facts and beliefs upon which the instructions are based are given in the illustrations.

The compiler believes that most of the misunderstandings that arise between British soldiers and inhabitants of India are due to ignorance on both sides. The soldier does not know what is likely to give offence; the Indian assumes that some act which hurts his feelings has been done on purpose to annoy him. The following notes attempt to reduce the occasions for disagreement by explaining some of the customs, beliefs and superstitions which form a large part of the daily life of the Indian villager. When the holders of shooting passes realize that many usages which may strike them at first sight as absurd are looked upon by inhabitants of India as extremely sacred, and that interference with them may cause a man to be put out of caste or to be fined heavily for no fault of his own, the compiler is confident that they will make it a point of honour to treat them with proper respect.

(1) Temples and mosques should not be approached. Soldiers should also avoid the neighbourhood of—

(a) shrines, which may assume various forms ranging from a masonary building to a shapeless lump of clay, and may usually be recognised by the presence of flags or streamers, smears of vermilion, images or pictures of snakes, and holes or niches for lamps;

(b) cemeteries or isolated tombs or graves;

(c) burning ghats;

(d) trees, rocks or other objects which are marked with vermilion, or on or near which flags have been erected, cotton rags tied or offerings placed;

(e) any strange looking object which may be connected with religious or superstitious observances.

(2) Soldiers should be careful not to eat in the neighbourhood of temples, shrines or houses and in no circumstances should they offer food to natives, either adults or children. In this connection they should bear in mind that beef is an abomination to Hindus and pork to Muhammadans, Tobacco is equally repugnant to Sikhs and it is not right to smoke near a Sikh place of worship or, if it can be avoided, in the company of Sikhs.

(3) Indians should not be approached or looked at when they are engaged in cooking or in eating their food.

(4) Wells should be avoided as much as possible and in no circumstances should the buckets attached to the well be used for drawing water. If water is required from a village well the guide should be sent to get it.

(5) Soldiers should not attempt to borrow earthen or metal drinking vessels for their own use, since the earthen vessels would have to be destroyed and the metal ones would require ceremonial purification.

(6) Soldiers should be careful not to shoot on sacred tanks; such tanks can usually be recognised—

(a) by their having a small temple or shrine on the bank;

(b) by a pole planted in the middle of the tank with an iron trident or wheel on the top of it.

Nor should they fire at birds when sitting on sacred trees, such as the pipal or banian.

(7) Bathing ghats should be avoided, as they are frequented by women, both for bathing and for drawing water.

(8) Soldiers should avoid as far as possible taking any notice of either woman or children. In the case of the former their motives are apt to be regarded with suspicion, while any attention shown to the latter is thought to cast upon them the evil-eye.

(9) A hookah belonging to an Indian should never be touched, as it would be polluted and would have to be destroyed.

(10) Soldiers should avoid having anything to do with devotees, religious mendicants and fakirs.

(11) Soldiers should bear in mind that dogs are regarded by both Hindus and Muhammadans as unclean animals and should not allow their dogs to go near Indians or their houses. They should also remember that pariah dogs, though apparently ownerless, are useful in guarding villages at night, and that Indians object strongly to their being shot without sufficient cause.

(12) Threshing floors are sacred, especially when threshing or winnowing is going on, and should not be approached.

(13) Hindus of the Bishnoi sect object strongly on religious grounds, to the destruction of life in any form. Villages occupied wholly or partially by members of this sect are to be found in various districts in the Punjab and the United Provinces, and care should be taken to avoid shooting on their lands (vide para 30 of the rules).

Illustrations.

1. Introductory.—For the purpose of these illustrations there may be said to be representatives of five non-Christian religions in India:—

(a) Hindus, who worship many gods.

(b) Muhammadans, who worship only one God.

(c) and (d) Jains and Buddhists, who recognise no God at all, but revere a number of men who are supposed to have attained a special spiritual condition.

(e) Animists, who worship an indefinite number of spirits or powers, mostly evil.

Hindus build temples with pointed tops; Muhammadans have mosques with domes and a varying number of minarets. Jain and Buddhist temples may be known by their fluted domes usually surmounted by flags or brass emblems.

Animists have no temples but respect and fear a large number of natural objects, such as rocks, trees, rivers, waterfalls, etc., especially those which have something unusual in their appearance.

Members of all the religions recognise a number of subordinate dieties, saints, spirits and the like, to whom are erected shrines which soldiers should on no account meddle with. Instances of these irregular forms of worship are given in the next paragraph.

2. Shrines and symbols.—These are connected with the miscellaneous religious observances described below:—

(a) Worship of the sun and moon.—In many places rude representations of the sun and moon are carved on wodden pillars which are worshipped near a village. The Swastika or crooked cross, representing the sun is painted on the walls beside the door post to keep off the evil eye, and appears in the form of two cross strokes with a daub of plaster on the shrine of the village god.

(b) Worship of the earth.—In some districts a drum smeared with red lead forms part of the worship of the earth. In others a small hut of clods about a foot high, covered with fresh grass, and supported by two posts is erected at the edge of a field intended for the spring harvest as the temple of Machandri or mother earth.

(c) Worship of rivers and springs.—Khwaja Khizr, the god of water and the patron diety of boatmen, is worshipped all over India by setting afloat on a river or tank a little raft of grass with a lighted lamp placed upon it. Hot springs are everywhere sacred and should not be meddled with or approached.

(d) Worship of village gods.—(i) In many villages Mahamai or the great mother has a shrine consisting of a low flat mound of earth with seven knobs of coloured clay at the head or west side. Sometimes a flag is erected in front to the east.

(ii) The monkey god, Hanuman is supposed to have power to scare evil spirits from his votaries and a rude image of him smeared with oil and red ochre is frequently met with in Hindu villages. He is the patron of wrestlers and at every wrestling place a platform smeared with cow-dung or earth is erected in his honour.

(iii) Bhimsen is also a village guardian and is represented—

(a) by a piece of iron fixed in a stone or in a tree;

(b) by a stone daubed with vermilion;

(c) by two posts of wood standing three or four feet high;

(d) by stone pillars called Bhimláth or Bhim's clubs.

(iv) The shrine of the god of the village is generally a small square building of brick masonry with a bulb-shaped top, sometimes surmounted by an iron spike. A red flag hung on a neighbouring tree marks its position and there are usually a few carved stones lying about which the villagers rub with vermilion and oil as an act of worship. Another form of the shrine is a pile of stones under an ancient sacred tree. Near these shrines are found little clay images of elephants and horses and clay bowls with short legs, while on the neighbouring trees are hung miniature cots to commemorate the recovery of a patient from small-pox or other infectious disease. Sometimes the shrine of the village god is a rude building of mud or bamboo and straw, roofed with grass thatch; inside is a small platform, known as the seat of the god, on which water is placed in the earthen bowls already described, and cakes, milk and flowers are offered. Elsewhere the abode of the village god is marked by cross stakes of wood driven into the ground on the edge of the cultivated lands. In Southern India the village god Ayenár, is represented by a rudely carved human figure, painted a reddish colour, sitting or riding with his two wives under a rough stone canopy. In Bengal the Sonthals erect a piece of split bamboo about 3 feet high as the Sipahi or sentinel of the village, while the Gonds use two carved posts for the same purpose.

(e) Worship of gods of disease.—The goddess of cholera is worshipped in the form of a block of stone roughly hewn into the semblance of the human figure or is represented by a fragment of rough stone daubed with red ochre and placed beneath the boughs of an ancient banian tree. In one province a similar goddess known as Banspati Mai or the mistress of the jungle, has a shrine in the form of a pile of stones and branches to which every passer by contributes. In another, Ghentu, the god of itch, is represented by a broken earthenware cooking pot daubed with lime and turmeric with a branch or two of the Ghentu plant and a cocoanut broomstick. Mutua Deo, the god of fevers, is represented by a heap of stones inside the village to which a pig is sacrificed when fever prevails. Hardaul Lala, the god of cholera, has a shrine outside the village with a stone figure of the god on horseback, decorated with flags. The demon of cattle disease is warded off by wisps of straw tied round the trunk of acacia trees.

(f) Worship of ancestors.— All through the central portion of India slabs of stone are set up in the neighbourhood of villages as a resting place for dead ancestors, at which daily offerings of food are made.

(g) Worship of suttees.—All over Upper India small shrines in honour of suttees, or women who burnt themselves on the funeral pyre of their husbands, are found on the banks of tanks. These shrines often take the form of a monument on which is carved the warrior on his charger with his wife standing behind him and the sun and moon on either side. Sometimes a snake is carved as if it were coming out of the tomb.

(h) Worship of pir or saints.—Both Musalmans and Hindus worship indiscriminately a number of militant saints. There are popularly supposed to be five pirs and low caste Hindus whorship them in the form of five wooden pegs set up in the courtyard of the house. The members of a well known criminal tribe build an altar in the shape of a tomb and offer to the pirs a fowl and some thin cakes which are given to a Mohamedan beggar who goes about beating a drum. In another form of this worship an iron bar, robed in read cloth and adorned with flowers, represent Ghazi Miyan and is taken from door to door, drums being beaten and grain collected from the villagers. In many villages of the Punjab, Sakhi Sarwar has a plastered brick shrine with a high dome and low minarets or pillars and a masonry platform in front. Gugá Pir, the Governor of the snakes, is represented on horseback with a long staff in his hand round which a snake is coiled. Teja Ji, another god of the same character, is depicted as a man on horseback whose tongue is being bitten by a snake. Nagardeo, a saint who protects cattle, is represented in villages by a three-pronged pike or trident set up on a platform, and when cows are milked for the first time the milk is offered to him. Kalu Kahar, the son of a Kahar girl who by magical charms compelled King Solomon to marry her, is extensively worshipped in the Maratha country as a protector of cattle. This symbol is a stick covered with peacock's feathers to which offerings of food are made.

(i) Worship of the Malevolent dead.—In many villages small platforms are built with rows of saucer-like holes into which milk and Ganges water are poured while lamps are lit and Brahmins watch to conciliate the Gayal or sonless ghost,

the spirit of a man who died without a son to perform his funeral rites. In the hills the wild huntsman Airi, the ghost of a man who was killed while hunting, has his temples in deserted places, a trident representing the god and a number of surrounding stones his followers. In jungle districts the Baghaut or ghost of a man who is killed by a tiger has shrine consisting of a heap of stones or branches near a pathway in the jungle. Every passer-by adds to the pile and the Baiga or jungle priest offers upon it a pig or a cock or some spirits, and lights a little lamp there occasionally.

Spirits, it is believed, cannot sit on the ground and for this reason near certain shrines two pegs or bricks are set up for the spirit to sit on, or a bamboo is hung for the spirit to perch on when he visits the place. For the same reason the Oraons hang up an urn containing the bones of a dead man on a post in front of the house in order that his spirit, finding a comfortable resting place in the urn, may not enter the house and annoy the living.

(j) Worship of trees.—Many trees are regarded as sacred in India, for reasons which need not be entered upon here. On account of this sanctity many Indian tribes bury their dead in trees. The Khasias and Nagas of Assam lay the body in the hollow trunk of a tree or hang it in a coffin to the branches. The Mariya Gonds of the Central Provinces tie the corps to a tree and burn it. Among the Maler of the Sonthal Parganas, priests, whose ghosts are apt to be troublesome, are laid under trees and covered with leaves. In the south of India when a man is worried by a spirit, he calls in a sorcerer who imprisons the spirit in a tree, at the foot of which is placed a stone, the size of a cocoanut, surrounded with other small stones, while the tree and the large stone are smeared with red, lead, red powder and frankincense.

Among the sacred trees the most important are the following :—

The Pipal (Ficus religiosa) which is worshipped by high caste Hindu women every month by watering its roots, smearing the trunk with red lead and ground sandalwood, and putting at the foot copper coins or sweetmeats which are the perquisite of beggars. Sometimes a string of cotton is twisted round the trunk and vessels of water are hung from the branches for the souls of the dead to drink from.

The Banian (Ficus indica) is also sacred and is worshipped in much the same way as the pipel.

In the Punjab the leaves of the Siras (Acacia sirisa) are hung up on a rope crossing the village cattle path to ward off epidemics, together with a tile on which magic words are written and rude models of wooden sandals, a rake, ploughshare and other agricultural implements, which are believed to scare the demon who brings the plague.

The Tulsi or Basil (Ocymum sanctum) is sacred to Vishnu, and is usually planted on small masonry pillars near houses.

(k) Worship of animals.—A number of animals are regarded as sacred by Indians, and soldiers should be careful not to shoot at or molest any of those mentioned below or in the local lists except snakes and tigers.

Snakes.—Snakes are generally sacred because of their mysterious power, because they are believed to protect houses and treasure, and because they are supposed to live a long time and to be very wise. In the Punjab hills every house-holder has an image of a snake in charge of his homestead, and in Southern India similar images are very largely worshipped in the outskirts of villages.

Cows.—Although the worship of the cow by the Hindus is comparatively modern, their prejudices on the subject are extremely strong. To kill, injure or insult a cow is regarded as the most serious of all crimes and the slaughter of kine is expressly prohibited in many Hindu States. Bulls are also sacred, especially those which have been dedicated to Siva and branded on the right hind quarter with the mark of his trident.

Monkeys.—Are sacred as the embodiment of the god Hanuman.

Rats.—In Western India the rat is sacred as the animal on which the god Ganesha rides, and it is considered a great sin to kill a rat.

Squirrels.—The squirrel is sacred because it helped the god Rama to build a bridge between India and Ceylon when he went to recover his wife Sita from the demon Ravana. In gratitude for this service Rama stroked the squirrel, leaving the marks of three fingures on his back, and ordained that no man should kill him.

Tigers.—In Mirzapur and in the Central Provinces the Gond tiger-deity Gansam Deo has a shrine in the form of a platform of mud outside the village on which water pots and clay figures of horses and elephants are offered to him. Sometimes the shrine consists of a few blocks of rough stone smeared with vermilion surmounted by a garland and a bamboo with a red or yellow flag tied to the end.

Horses.—At the time of the Dasara festival, horses of stone and clay are worshipped by certain tribes, and horses made of rags are offered at the tombs of saints.

Dogs.—Although dogs are regarded by Hindus as unclean, the dog is associated with the worship of Bhairon or Bhairava, the guardian of Siva temples, and in Western India no Maharata will injure a dog. In Poona the god Dattatreya is guarded by four dogs, which are said to represent the four Vedas, and at Jejuri and Nagpur children are dedicated to the dogs of Khandeo Rao, who is regarded as an incarnation of Siva, and is most frequently represented as riding on horseback attended by a dog.

Cats.—The cat is sacred to Shasthi or Chathi, the goddess of lockjaw which attacks children on the sixth (chathi) day after birth. Shasthi is believed to ride upon a cat, and any Hindu who kills a cat, even by accident, ought to do penance for the sin by walking barefoot all the way to Benares on burning charcoal.

Doves and pigeons are held in much respect by Mahomedans, some of whom will on no account kill pigeons. Hindu traders (banias) also feed them in front of their houses or shops, and greatly resent their being killed.

Peacocks are sacred birds and are specially venerated by the Jats, who object strongly to seeing a peacock killed near their villages. Peacock feathers are believed to ward off disease if waved over the sick, and to smoke a peacock feather in a pipe is a charm against snake-bite.

Parrots.—In some parts of India the inhabitants object strongly to parrots being shot The reason usually assigned is that the parrot has a hand like a man (the hind claws are prehensile) and can talk like a man; therefore it is wrong to kill him.

(l) Worship of fetishes.—The worship of fetish stones prevails all over India, stones of phalic shape, and stones which have holes or perforations, among them the Saligram or Ammonite being regarded with special reverence.

A common religious emblem of this class is a small stone or masonary pillar standing in a sort of saucer with a lip to it. Sometimes the latter is absent and the pillar is represented by a rough water-worm stone, more or less oval in shape, smeared with vermilion. The god Siva is worshipped under this form. The symbol is extremely sacred and soldiers should be careful not to meddle with it.

The Sonthals worship a number of fetishes which are set up in their houses in order to keep off evil spirits, snakes and tigers. They consist of pieces of wood or stones painted red, arrowheads and tridents. In several parts of India rude wooden images, about three feet high with a rough representation of the human face on the top, are set up on platforms to protect the cattle from beasts of prey.

All castes of Hindus worship the tools, implements or weapons by which they earn their living. Among these festishes the grain sieve, the plough, the basket, the broom, and the rice pounder are of special sanctity and are believed to possess magical powers.

(m) Rag offerings.—There are many examples in India of the curious custom of hanging rags on trees and bushes or near sacred wells in order to ward off disease. In Garhwal a heap of stones is erected at the top of a pass with sticks and rags attached to them, to which travellers add a stone or two as they pass. Among the Kharwars of Mirzapur, the Baiga or village sorcerer hangs rags on the trees over the village shrine as a charm to bring health and good luck. In Berar a heap of stones daubed with red and placed under a tree fluttering with rags represents Chindia Deo, or the god of tatters, and it is believed that if a man presents a rag in due season, he may chance to get new clothes. Elsewhere when a man is ill, rags from his person are tied to a tree, especially a banian, cocoanut or some thorny tree. Another plan is to take the disease from the sick man and fix it in a tree by thrusting a nail into it or to catch the spirit of the disease in a bottle and tie the bottle to a tree. So in Mirzapur when fever prevails the parties tie a cotton string, which has never touched water, round the trunk of a pipal tree and hang rags on the branches. The Kharwars have a sacred Mahua tree on which threads are hung at marriages. In Northern India disease may be transferred by filling a pot with flowers and rice and burying it under a stone in a path, or by erecting a little pile of earth decorated with flowers in the middle of the road containing some of the scales of the body of a small-pox patient. The idea is that if any body touches the stone or the pile of earth, the disease will pass from the patient to them.

3. Customs connected with the evil-eye.—Indians dislike to hear their children praised unless the praise be accompanied with some pious ejaculation. There is, however, no objection to noticing some conspicuous ornament or piece of dress which children frequently wear as a protection against the evil-eye.

All Indians are afraid of being stared at, especially by Europeans, and if they are looked at intently they turn their eyes away through fear of fascination. It is believed that the nails of Europeans, like those of the Rakshasa or ogre, distil a deadly poison, and that this is the reason why they eat with knives and forks instead of with their fingers. Europeans are also believed to have control over ghosts, and it is commonly supposed that a European called "the momiáiwála sáhib" has a monopoly of the right of enticing away fat boys, especially those who are very black, for the purpose of making from their fat the magical ointment known as momai, or mummy. A similar superstition is that of the "Dinapur-wala sáhib" who is believed to wander about procuring heads for museums armed with a magic stick, with which he entices people on dark nights and chops off their heads with a pair of shears. Early in 1904 the lower classes of Indians in Calcutta were so firmly persuaded that a mysterious personage called the "Sirkatwa or head-cutting sáhib" was collecting heads to consolidate the foundations of the Victoria Memorial building that they refused to leave their houses after dark.

The metals are credited with great virtue in keeping off the evil-eye and malevolent demons. Accordingly while a house is being built an iron pot or a pot painted black is kept on the works, and when it is finished, the daughter of the householder ties to the lintel of the door a charm which contains a small iron ring.

Shells are believed to have the same power, and for this reason women in Bengal wear shells armlets, and strings of cowrie-shells are tied round the neck or pasterns of horses and cows, as an antidote to the evil-eye. Blue beads are also used for the same purpose.

4. Food, drink, etc.—All Hindus and most Mahomedans are in constant terror of incurring ceremonial pollution, which has nothing to do with personal cleanliness and may be removed with the help of Mullahs or Brahmans by undergoing various penalties which in the case of Hindus may take the form of smearing the forehead with cowdung or swallowing the five products of the cow (pancha gavya)—milk, curds, butter, urine and dung. Pollution is believed to be conveyed most readily by water. Consequently a Hindu cannot take water from the hands of any one except a man of his own caste or of a caste higher than his own. The numerous Mahomedans who follow Hindu usages are influenced by similar prejudices. In either case the suggestion that a man has incurred pollution may lead to his being turned out of his caste, so that people will not drink with him, or smoke with him and he may have to pay a substantial fine or give a feast to the caste community in order to be taken back. It follows therefore that a European should never offer water to an Indian or touch any vessel that might have to be used for drinking. For the same reason the hookah in which water is used, may also convey pollution, and in some parts of India people are careful to tie some distinctive mark on to their hookhas so that no one may defile himself by mistake. Fire purifies; water pollutes, hence the distinction which holds good for the whole of Upper India between kochchi roti, or food cooked with water, and pokki roti, or food fried dry with ghee over a fire. The rules relating to the latter are much less strict than in the case of the former, but the safest line of conduct is to take no notice of any Indian while he is eating or cooking. Most Indians particularly dislike being watched at their meals and make a pretence of eating in secret. One sect, indeed, is so particular in this respect, that if a stranger should look at them while they are cooking or eating, the food as at once to be buried in the ground. Some Brahmans in the south of India go further still and believe that earthenware cooking pots are polluted by a stranger even seeing them. They therefore keep their kitchen doors shut so that they may not have to break all their pots and pans. In the same part of the country cotton cloths become unclean if they are touched by a man of a lower caste and especially by a European or a pariah. Saliva is everywhere regarded as most impure, and soldiers should be careful not to spit near temples or houses or in circumstances where it is likely to give offence. It should also be remembered that, for reasons which need not be entered on here, the left hand is considered peculiarly unclean.

5. Wells are usually dug with special religious observances and are consecrated by a rite symbolising the marriage of the well to the garden which it is intended to water. In some places the village well is worshipped by walking round it and smearing the platform with read lead-

No. 7481—San. 77-13-2, dated 2nd February 1914.

The following extract from the note of Major J. H. Delany, M.D., I.M.S., in the supplement to the annual Sanitary Report of the Province of Bihar and Orissa, for the year 1912, regarding fumigation by burning neem leaves as a plague disinfectant is published for general information.

FUMIGATION WITH BURNING NEEM LEAVES AS A PLAGUE DISINFECTANT.

Finding I was frequently asked by Europeans and Indians alike in this district (Saran) for a simple house disinfectant, I began a series of experiments in January 1912, with substances that would be likely to kill off rats in plague infected houses. I sought a substance that could be so applied that it would search out all lurking places of rats and kill them. The method of fumigation suggested itself to me at once. I experimented in my servant's godowns as follows. Rats in traps were suspended from the roof, placed on the ground, under bundles of clothes, etc., in a godown. Thirty to fifty cow-dung cakes or chapaties (easily obtained of course in every village) were arranged in a loose circle in the centre of the cleared floor of a hut and set on fire, with or without the aid of a little kerosine oil. The various substances to be experimented with were piled on the burning cow-dung chapaties when well alight, the doors and windows were shut, and the fire was allowed to burn itself out. In this way, rats were subjected to the fumes of innumerable burning substances in turn, but although a number of experiments were performed, the rats (though occasionally showing signs of distress) survived as a general rule.

In the course of examining some rats after the experiments, I noticed some dead fleas on some that had been fumigated with neem leaves. I repeated the experiments with neem leaves, but surrounded the rat-traps, except on top, with muslin. I then found that in practically every case the rats were found to be free from fleas, but the muslin under the traps contained a number of dead fleas. Some further experiments shewed that the longer the rats were exposed to the neem fumes the greater the number of dead fleas that were found. The best results were obtained by an exposure of over two hours, and up to three hours.

I now experimented with a large number of other substances, but failed to discover any better pulicide, than the fumes of fresh neem leaves.

Believing then that this is the best method of breaking the chain of inspection from rat to man, I had instructions printed in pamphlet form, and had them distributed in thousands all over the district, by the Plague Staff last plague season.

* * * * *

It is not necessary to dry the neem leaves; they can be used, and in fact are most effective when taken direct from the tree, and burnt. They give off a dense penetrating smoke.

I believe there are great possibilities in this simple and inexpensive method of disinfection for plague, which I consider to be the most practicable that is available at present.

By Order,
K. R. SRINIVASIENGAR,
Secretary to Government,
General and Revenue Departments.

No. 7481—San. 77-13-2, dated 2nd February 1914.

The following extract from the note of Major J. H. Delany, M.D., I.M.S., in the supplement to the annual Sanitary Report of the Province of Bihar and Orissa, for the year 1912, regarding fumigation by burning neem leaves as a plague disinfectant is published for general information.

FUMIGATION WITH BURNING NEEM LEAVES AS A PLAGUE DISINFECTANT.

Finding I was frequently asked by Europeans and Indians alike in this district (Saran) for a simple house disinfectant, I began a series of experiments in January 1912, with substances that would be likely to kill off rats in plague infected houses. I sought a substance that could be so applied that it would search out all lurking places of rats and kill them. The method of fumigation suggested itself to me at once. I experimented in my servant's godowns as follows. Rats in traps were suspended from the roof, placed on the ground, under bundles of clothes, etc., in a godown. Thirty to fifty cow-dung cakes or chapaties (easily obtained of course in every village) were arranged in a loose circle in the centre of the cleared floor of a hut and set on fire, with or without the aid of a little kerosine oil. The various substances to be experimented with were piled on the burning cow-dung chapaties when well alight, the doors and windows were shut, and the fire was allowed to burn itself out. In this way, rats were subjected to the fumes of innumerable burning substances in turn, but although a number of experiments were performed, the rats (though occasionally showing signs of distress) survived as a general rule.

In the course of examining some rats after the experiments, I noticed some dead fleas on some that had been fumigated with neem leaves. I repeated the experiments with neem leaves, but surrounded the rat-traps, except on top, with muslin. I then found that in practically every case the rats were found to be free from fleas, but the muslin under the traps contained a number of dead fleas. Some further experiments shewed that the longer the rats were exposed to the neem fumes the greater the number of dead fleas that were found. The best results were obtained by an exposure of over two hours, and up to three hours.

I now experimented with a large number of other substances, but failed to discover any better pulicide, than the fumes of fresh neem leaves.

Believing then that this is the best method ot breaking the chain of inspection from rat to man, I had instructions printed in pamphlet form, and had them distributed in thousands all over the district, by the Plague Staff last plague season.

It is not necessary to dry the neem leaves; they can be used, and in fact are most effective when taken direct from the tree, and burnt. They give off a dense penetrating smoke.

I believe there are great possibilities in this simple and inexpensive method of disinfection for plague, which I consider to be the most practicable that is available at present.

By Order,
K. R. SRINIVASIENGAR,
Secretary to Government,
General and Revenue Departments.

No. 7481—San. 77-13-2, dated 2nd February 1914.

The following extract from the note of Major J. H. Delany, M.D., I.M.S., in the supplement to the annual Sanitary Report of the Province of Bihar and Orissa, for the year 1912, regarding fumigation by burning neem leaves as a plague disinfectant is published for general information.

FUMIGATION WITH BURNING NEEM LEAVES AS A PLAGUE DISINFECTANT.

Finding I was frequently asked by Europeans and Indians alike in this district (Saran) for a simple house disinfectant, I began a series of experiments in January 1912, with substances that would be likely to kill off rats in plague infected houses. I sought a substance that could be so applied that it would search out all lurking places of rats and kill them. The method of fumigation suggested itself to me at once. I experimented in my servant's godowns as follows. Rats in traps were suspended from the roof, placed on the ground, under bundles of clothes, etc., in a godown. Thirty to fifty cow-dung cakes or chapaties (easily obtained of course in every village) were arranged in a loose circle in the centre of the cleared floor of a hut and set on fire, with or without the aid of a little kerosine oil. The various substances to be experimented with were piled on the burning cow-dung chapaties when well alight, the doors and windows were shut, and the fire was allowed to burn itself out. In this way, rats were subjected to the fumes of innumerable burning substances in turn, but although a number of experiments were performed, the rats (though occasionally showing signs of distress) survived as a general rule.

In the course of examining some rats after the experiments, I noticed some dead fleas on some that had been fumigated with neem leaves. I repeated the experiments with neem leaves, but surrounded the rat-traps, except on top, with muslin. I then found that in practically every case the rats were found to be free from fleas, but the muslin under the traps contained a number of dead fleas. Some further experiments shewed that the longer the rats were exposed to the neem fumes the greater the number of dead fleas that were found. The best results were obtained by an exposure of over two hours, and up to three hours.

I now experimented with a large number of other substances, but failed to discover any better pulicide, than the fumes of fresh neem leaves.

Believing then that this is the best method of breaking the chain of inspection from rat to man, I had instructions printed in pamphlet form, and had them distributed in thousands all over the district, by the Plague Staff last plague season.

* * * * *

It is not necessary to dry the neem leaves; they can be used, and in fact are most effective when taken direct from the tree, and burnt. They give off a dense penetrating smoke.

I believe there are great possibilities in this simple and inexpensive method of disinfection for plague, which I consider to be the most practicable that is available at present.

OFFICE OF THE REVENUE COMMISSIONER IN MYSORE,
Dated Bangalore, the 24th February 1914.

K. DORASWAMI IYER,
Revenue Commissioner.

No. 7481—San. 77-13-2, dated 2nd February 1914.

The following extract from the note of Major J. H. Delany, M.D., I.M.S., in the supplement to the annual Sanitary Report of the Province of Bihar and Orissa, for the year 1912, regarding fumigation by burning neem leaves as a plague disinfectant is published for general information.

FUMIGATION WITH BURNING NEEM LEAVES AS A PLAGUE DISINFECTANT.

Finding I was frequently asked by Europeans and Indians alike in this district (Saran) for a simple house disinfectant, I began a series of experiments in January 1912, with substances that would be likely to kill off rats in plague infected houses. I sought a substance that could be so applied that it would search out all lurking places of rats and kill them. The method of fumigation suggested itself to me at once. I experimented in my servant's godowns as follows. Rats in traps were suspended from the roof, placed on the ground, under bundles of clothes, etc., in a godown. Thirty to fifty cow-dung cakes or chapaties (easily obtained of course in every village) were arranged in a loose circle in the centre of the cleared floor of a hut and set on fire, with or without the aid of a little kerosine oil. The various substances to be experimented with were piled on the burning cow-dung chapaties when well alight, the doors and windows were shut, and the fire was allowed to burn itself out. In this way, rats were subjected to the fumes of innumerable burning substances in turn, but although a number of experiments were performed, the rats (though occasionally showing signs of distress) survived as a general rule.

In the course of examining some rats after the experiments, I noticed some dead fleas on some that had been fumigated with neem leaves. I repeated the experiments with neem leaves, but surrounded the rat-traps, except on top, with muslin. I then found that in practically every case the rats were found to be free from fleas, but the muslin under the traps contained a number of dead fleas. Some further experiments shewed that the longer the rats were exposed to the neem fumes the greater the number of dead fleas that were found. The best results were obtained by an exposure of over two hours, and up to three hours.

I now experimented with a large number of other substances, but failed to discover any better pulicide, than the fumes of fresh neem leaves.

Believing then that this is the best method of breaking the chain of infection from rat to man, I had instructions printed in pamphlet form, and had them distributed in thousands all over the district, by the Plague Staff last plague season.

* * * * *

It is not necessary to dry the neem leaves; they can be used, and in fact are most effective when taken direct from the tree, and burnt. They give off a dense penetrating smoke.

I believe there are great possibilities in this simple and inexpensive method of disinfection for plague, which I consider to be the most practicable that is available at present.

RAJAKARYAPRAVINA RAO BAHADUR A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, ESQ., B.A., B.L.

S. P. RAJAGOPALACHARI, ESQ. (Secretary).

THE DEWAN.—Gentlemen, before we proceed with the business of this meeting it will be convenient to refer to the procedure which we propose to follow, with your consent, as regards the introduction and discussion of the Budget. At the close of this day's proceedings, the Financial Secretary will introduce the Budget with an explanatory speech and copies of the speech as well as of the detailed Budget Estimates will be placed in your hands. Two days' time will be given to the members for studying these papers and we propose to adjourn till 12 noon on Thursday, the 2nd July 1914, for the discussion of the Budget.

It will be a good thing if members take the opportunity to explain the needs and wants of their Districts and to state what they expect Government to do and how far people would be willing and able to co-operate. The official members may with advantage take the opportunity to explain the several measures of development undertaken in their respective departments. The Financial Secretary and the Members of Government will reply to the points raised in the discussions.

I also think that in view of the continuous holding off of the rains, members may perhaps like to offer suggestions as to what they wish Government to do if the present drought deepens into scarcity.

MR. KARNIK KRISHNAMURTHI RAO and some of the other members represented that two days' time to study the Budget was not enough and requested that a week's time might be allowed. The Dewan agreed and announced that the discussion would be taken up on Tuesday the 7th July.

The Secretary's Report to the Council.

The Secretary reported to the Council:—

(1) that the following Bills received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja on the dates noted against them:—

(a) The Bill further to amend the Mysore Court Fees Regulation, 1900,—19th May 1914,

(b) The Bill to further amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation, 1902,—19th May 1914,

(c) The Probate and Administration Bill,—22nd May 1914; and

(2) that Mr. B. J. Kumaraswamy Naik took his seat as an additional member of the Council.

MR. B. NARASINGA RAO asked.—

1. With reference to the answers given to questions 1 and 7 at the meeting on the 14th April last, the Government may be pleased to make a statement on the following points:—

(a) After the retrenchments were effected in the various departments noted in the statements, furnished by the Secretary to Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments, what additional expenditure has been sanctioned annually in each of those departments.

(b) If additional staff have been employed in those departments, what is the nature of the addition in the shape of gazetted officers, clerical establishment and menial staff?

MR. J. S. CHAKRAVARTI replied.—

(a) and (b)—Collection of information in the form in which it is wanted by the Member will take some time. A statement will be prepared and supplied.

MR. B. NARASINGA RAO asked.—

2. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an article in the Indian Patriot, dated 22nd April 1914, at page 3 (a portion of that article is culled out and published in the Karnataka in its issue dated 25th April 1914), to the effect—that the Amildar of Chikballapur kept nine persons in lock-up for nine months without enquiry and they were tried and discharged afterwards?

(b) Are the said allegations substantially true?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state what action has been taken in regard to the conduct of the officer responsible for the detention of nine persons for a period of nine months without enquiry?

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA replied.—

(a) Government have now perused the articles in question.

(b) Seven accused persons—not 9 as published in the papers—were arrested by the Police on various dates in May 1913 and placed before the Amildar Magistrate of Chikballapur for trial on the 9th June 1913. On the 29th January 1914, the Magistrate convicted five of the accused under Section 457—109, 456 or 411 and 411, Indian Penal Code, and sentenced them to imprisonment and fine and discharged the other two. The conviction and sentence passed on the five accused were set aside on appeal by the District Magistrate on 9th March 1914 on the ground of irregularity in the trial.

(c) The records of the case have recently been examined by the Chief Court as to the correctness of the final order; but they saw no reason to take any special notice of the case.

MR. B. NARASINGA RAO asked.—

3. Will the Government be pleased to make a statement on the following:—

(a) What are all the Government offices or schools held in private buildings in Bangalore?

(b) What rent is being paid for those buildings every month and since how long?

(c) How many bungalows or buildings in Bangalore belonging to Government remain unoccupied?

MR. J. S. CHAKRAVARTI replied.—

(a) and (b)—Two statements giving the necessary particulars are laid on the table.*

(c) No Government buildings remain unoccupied.

MR. B. VENKATASHAMANNA asked.—

4. That the Government be pleased to state:—

(a) the distinction that underlies the division of tanks under major and minor heads;

(b) the number of major and minor tanks, constructed, repaired or otherwise improved during the last five years;

(c) the area estimated to be brought under cultivation under major tanks and the actual area of land under cultivation now; and

(d) the number of minor tanks whose repairs or improvements had to be suspended for want of funds during those abovesaid five years.

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS replied.—

(a) Major tanks are those yielding a revenue of over Rs. 300 a year and the rest, i.e., those yielding a revenue of Rs. 300 and less, are designated minor tanks.

(b) A statement giving the information is placed on the Council table.†

(c) The information is not readily available and it will take much time and trouble to compile it. Government do not think that any useful purpose will be served by collecting the elaborate statistics required. If this information is required for any particular tanks, every endeavour will be made to furnish it.

(d) It is difficult to answer this question without elaborate enquiries.

MR. B. VENKATASHAMANNA asked.—

5. That the Government be pleased to state:—

(a) the amount that has been given for the improvement of the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore during the last ten years from the State revenue;

(b) and the amount that has been granted to other District Headquarters during the same period for their improvement.

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS replied.—

(a) and (b)—A statement giving the available information is laid on the Council table.‡

MR. B. K. GARUDACHAR asked.—

6. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state if an executive order has issued directing that Mr. V. Abboy Naidu, Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum, should not have any private practice?

(b) If it is so, will the Government be pleased to lay down on the table the papers which led to the issue of the above order?

* Printed as Appendix D. † Printed as Appendix E. ‡ Printed as Appendix F.

(c) Are the Government aware that Mr. Abboy Naidu is the only Medical Officer in Mysore who has had a good training in mental diseases, and that the present order prohibiting him from private practice deprives the public of Bangalore and, in fact, of the State, of the benefit of Mr. Abboy Naidu's advice?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to reconsider and revise the order referred to?

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS replied.—

(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) Government do not consider it expedient to lay the papers on the table. A copy of the Government order is however furnished.

(c) There are other officers in service who have practical experience in the treatment of mental diseases.

(d) Government do not see at present sufficient reason to reconsider the order.

MR. B. K. GARUDACHAR asked.—

7. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state from what year the vend rental of country spirit in the Kolar Gold Fields area has been more than the margin of profit allowed?

(b) If this state of affairs has continued to exist from a long time, will the Government be pleased to explain how this is allowed to go on, inasmuch as it is evident that either the shopkeeper is having a loss, year after year, or the public are systematically defrauded?

(c) Have the Government thought of remedying this unsatisfactory state of things?

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS replied.—

(a) This was first noticed in 1905-06.

(b) Special measures are in force in the area concerned for the prevention of fraud such as (1) a strong detective force, (2) introduction of special dram cups calculated to render short measurement difficult and (3) location of two check shops for selling arrack in bottles sealed in the Central Distillery.

Various explanations are offered for the phenomenon, of which the most important is the peculiarity of conditions of labour in the Kolar Gold Fields which act as an inducement to arrack contractors to adhere to their profession even at a loss in order to act as money-lenders and general purveyors to the cooly population.

(c) The remedy lies chiefly with the contractors. The matter has, however, been engaging the consideration of Government.

MR. S. VENKATESAIYA asked.—

8. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what progress has been made with regard to the proposal of a Railway from Hassan to Mangalore?

(b) Will the Government, before taking final action, be pleased to consider the advisability of adopting the metre gauge for the line?

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA replied.—

(a) The proposal is under correspondence with the Government of India.

(b) The question is under the consideration of Government.

MR. S. VENKATESAIYA asked.—

9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the nature and extent of the late reported accident in the Kolar Gold Mines described as "air blasts" and the casualties therefrom?

(b) What are the precautions usually taken for protection of life against such accidents, and had such precautions been adopted at the scene of the late accident?

(c) When did the last accident of a similar nature occur in the locality?

(d) After the previous accident were any additional precautions taken to protect life, and, if so, what precautions?

(e) Is there any provision by which the owners of the mines may be required to make provision for the families of the unfortunate victims of such accidents?

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA replied.—

(a) It is believed that the accident referred to is one which occurred on the 5th June 1914, in Tennant Section of the Mysore Mine, in which three persons were killed and three others received injuries classed as serious. The accident occurred in a stope and was due to the bursting of some rock from the hanging wall or roof of the stope which is about 5 feet wide.

(b) The precautions adopted include the supporting of the roof, partly by filling with waste rock and partly by timbers and planking. In the accident in question, the timbers were within 8 feet of the working face and within 4 feet of the place from which the rock burst. The timbers showed no signs of pressure or disturbance. Closer timbering is impracticable and no further precautions are considered to be possible.

(c) and (d) No similar accident is known to have occurred previously in this particular locality.

(e) There is no statutory provision; but the individual companies have voluntarily adopted certain schemes for compensation in cases of injury or death. For sometime past, the question of placing these schemes on a uniform basis has been under discussion between Government and the Kolar Gold Fields Mining Board and an early decision may be expected.

MR. S. R. BALAKRISHNA RAO asked.—

10. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any and what steps are taken to re-establish the Shimoga College?

(b) If not, when will the Government be pleased to establish one?

(c) In view of the fact that a large number of Mysore students are seeking education in the Bombay University of late, will the Government be pleased to consider the question of affording facilities to such students as intend prosecuting their studies at that University, by getting the High Schools at Shimoga and Chitaldrug recognized by the said University?

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA replied.—

(a) (b) and (c) The question will be considered as soon as a decision is reached in regard to the scheme for a University for Mysore.

MR. S. R. BALAKRISHNA RAO asked.—

11. (a) Are the Government aware that in the revenue courts and offices suits, appeals and miscellaneous applications and darkhasts take an inordinate length of time for disposal?

(b) To avoid this proverbial delay and to exercise a check on the growing tendency to delay revenue proceedings, will the Government be pleased to consider the advisability of fixing varying periods for the disposal of revenue cases, as is the case in judicial matters and of insisting on the furnishing of periodical returns of cases with explanations for delay?

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS replied.—

(a) If the member will kindly specify instances, inquiries will be made by Government.

(b) Certain checks already exist against delay in the disposal of revenue business. The matter is receiving the further consideration of Government.

A Bill to ammend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1904.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir, In moving for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1904, I beg to state that the Bill has been drafted on the recommendation of the Chief Court and it brings the Criminal Procedure Code into conformity with that in force in British India in regard to the summary trial of offences under Sections 453 and 454 of the Indian Penal Code. Offences under Sections 456 and 457 being already included within the provision, there is no valid reason to exclude these offences which are of a less serious character. I therefore beg leave to introduce the Bill.

MR. C. SRIKANTESVARA AIYAR seconded the motion.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

The Bill further to amend the Local Boards Regulation, 1902.

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS.—Sir, I beg to move that the Bill further to amend the Local Boards Regulation, 1902, be read in Council. Leave to introduce the Bill was granted at the last meeting and it has been published in the Gazette and copies have been sent to all the members. The object of the Bill is to authorise the levy of an independent shop tax in Unions so as to augment the finances of the Unions to enable them to give sufficient attention to the execution of useful public works and the improvement of sanitation and water-supply.

MR. K. R. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded it.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS next moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. C. Srinivasiengar, K. P. Puttanna Chetty, K. R. Srinivasiengar, B. Narasinga Rao and the mover.

MR. K. R. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded it.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

The Bill further to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906.

MR. M. KANTARAJ URS.—Sir, I now beg to move that the Bill to further amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906, be passed. The Bill as amended by the Select Committee was considered and adopted at the last meeting. It now only remains to pass it.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY seconded it.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

The Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1911.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir, in moving that the rules of business be suspended and the report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1911, together with the Bill as amended by them be taken into consideration, I may remind the members that the Bill was referred to a Select Committee at the last meeting of the council. The Select Committee considered the Bill and adopted it with very slight amendments. The only material alteration is the substitution of a new sub-clause for sub-clause (4). The Bill as amended by the Select Committee reads as follows:—

"Whereas, it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1911; His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to enact as follows:—

Addition of a new section as Section 54 A.

The following new section shall be added after Section 54 of the Regulation as Section 54 A:—

'54 A (1) Where a Civil Court passes a decree for the partition of a building situate within the limits of a Municipality to which the provisions of this section have been declared by Government by a notification in the official Gazette to apply, the partition shall be made by the President of the Municipality in accordance with the law for the time being in force for the execution of such decrees.

(2) It shall be competent for the President executing such decrees to exercise the powers conferred on courts by Sections 2 and 3 of the Partition Regulation, III of 1913, notwithstanding that the shareholders or any of them have not applied for a sale of the property.

(3) In executing a decree under this section, the President of the Municipality shall be deemed to be acting judicially.

(4) Orders passed by the President under this Regulation shall be subject to appeal or revision in the same manner and to or by the same court as similar orders made by the court which passed the decree.'"

Rule 46 of the Rules for the conduct of business of the Legislative Council requires that the reports of the Select Committees should be published and sent to each member at least fifteen clear days before it is taken into consideration by the Council. But in this case the report of the Select Committee could not be placed in the hands of the members within the prescribed time and as another meeting of the council is not likely to be held in the very near future and the Bill is not a very important one, I am of opinion that the rules of business be suspended and the Bill taken into consideration at once.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion.

MR. S. VENKATESIAH.—Sir, though I have no remarks to offer on the report of the Select Committee I have to oppose the motion as I do not think it is desirable to suspend the rules of business. The rules of business have been framed so as to prevent hasty legislation and no satisfactory reason has been adduced to show why these safe guards provided in the rules should be ignored. Moreover, the Bill is not such a very urgent or important piece of legislation as to necessitate its being rushed through. As regards the remark made by the learned mover that the next meeting of the Legislative Council may not be held in the near future I desire to state that it is very desirable to hold meetings of this council very often especially as such an arrangement would give greater opportunities for the members to interpellate Government and elicit information on matters touching the welfare of the public. I therefore beg to oppose the motion.

MR. S. VENKATASHAMANNA.—Sir, I also rise to oppose the motion. There is no necessity for suspending the rules of business. The Bill may be taken up at the next meeting.

MR. C. SREENIVASIENGAR.—Sir, at the last meeting a motion to suspend the rules of business and to take up the Bill once for all without referring it to a Select Committee was made but at the request of some of the members it was referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee have made very few alterations and I do not therefore think it necessary to adjourn its consideration for another meeting. I therefore support the motion.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER.—Sir, I also support the motion. This is a very small measure and is not one that need be postponed.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir, I quite appreciate the anxiety of the honourable members to safeguard the rules. After all, the motion is not such a formidable one as it is represented to be. The rule regarding fifteen days' notice is a technical one and need not be enforced strictly. The Bill is a very simple one and if there is any opposition to be expected as regards the principles of the Bill, I would be the last person to propose such a motion. Nothing would be lost by going on with the measure.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

MR. C. SREENIVASIENGAR.—Sir, I have a slight verbal amendment to propose in the Bill. As I was absent from the meeting of the Select Committee, I could not propose it then. In sub-clause (1) in the Bill the expression "President of the Municipality" is used whereas throughout the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906, the expression used is "President of the Municipal Council." I therefore propose that the words "Municipal Council" be substituted for the word "Municipality" occurring in the expression "President of the Municipality" in sub-clause (1) of the Bill.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded it.

The motion was put to the vote and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir, I now beg to move that the Bill be taken up and passed at subsequent meeting of the council.

Mr. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded it.

The motion was put to vote and passed.

Financial Secretary's Speech introducing the Budget Estimates for 1914-15 in the Legislative Council.

(N.B.—Unless otherwise expressed, figures are to be understood as meaning thousands of rupees.)

MR. J. S. CHAKRAVARTI.—Sir, with your permission I rise to present to this Council the provisional budget of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore for the year commencing 1st July 1914. In performing this pleasant duty, which I also regard as a high privilege, I cannot but refer to the fact that the practice of preparing an introductory memorandum to the annual State budget explaining its salient features and of publishing the budget with that memorandum in the Government Gazette for the information of the public was introduced with effect from the year 1909-10. There can be little doubt that this practice has led, in a great measure, to the dissemination of correct ideas about the financial measures of Government amongst the general public. The amendment to the Mysore Legislative Council Regulation sanctioned by His Highness the Maharaja this year, by which the discussion of the annual budget is brought within the scope of business of this council, is a further step in the direction of bringing the financial policy of the State into close touch with popular views and aspirations.

2. There will be no discussion on the budget to-day. A printed copy of the budget and all connected papers will be given to each member. I think, sir, you intend fixing Tuesday, the 7th July 1914, as the day of budget discussion. On that day a meeting of this council will be held when each member will be at liberty to offer any observations he may wish to make on the budget. In the meantime, if any member wants further explanation in respect of any figures or requires additional details as regards any of the heads in the budget, every endeavour will be made by the Finance department to satisfy his requirements. By this means it is hoped to utilize the time available for discussion in council to the best advantage in considering important questions of general financial policy, rather than details of figures, explanations regarding which can be given to individual members without taking up the time of the council as a whole. After discussion by this council, the budget will again be considered by Government in the light of suggestions that may be put forward by the members, and it will then be submitted to His Highness the Maharaja for final sanction.

3. In deciding the figures to be adopted for the budget estimate of the ensuing year, we have naturally to take as the most important guide the revenue and expenditure figures for the current year. The figures for the last year are also useful for comparison. The budget placed before the council therefore contains under each head the figures for 1912-13, as per accounts finally closed, the revised estimates for 1913-14, prepared on the basis of eight or nine months' actuals, and the proposed estimates for 1914-15. Of these three sets of figures, those relating to the closed accounts of 1912-13, were published and reviewed in detail in the Appropriation Report appended to the Mysore Gazette, dated the 28th May 1914. I flatter myself with the hope that this document has found eager and attentive readers amongst the members of a body newly vested with financial functions and anxious to discharge them. The revised estimates for the current year are therefore the first thing to demand our attention to-day. The study of these figures will show to what extent our expectations about revenue and expenditure formed about this time last year have been realized and how far they have to be modified on account of circumstances which could not be foreseen at that time. When we have thus studied the trend and the result of the financial forces operating within the State up to date in connection with the revised estimates, we shall be in a position to proceed to the more important part of our day's work, viz., the consideration of the financial programme for the ensuing year.

Changes in budget heads.

4. But before proceeding to consider the estimates, I shall briefly refer to a few important changes in connection with the form and substance of our financial statement which it is proposed henceforth to adopt. The first set of changes relates to the heads of account and consists of the opening of some new major heads, both on the receipt and on the expenditure side of the budget and I shall mention some of them. The separate major heads "Profit or Loss," both on the receipt and expenditure sides, under which the income from State nvestments and the income-tax paid thereon were respectively recorded, have been done away with by amalgamation with the head Interest, as the transanctions recorded under both are essentially of a similar nature. The recent expansion and development of the department of Agriculture make it desirable to record the transactions of that department under a separate major head instead of relegating them to an obscure subsidiary head under Minor Departments. As long as the department was one chiefly of agricultural chemistry, as was the case at its inception in 1898-99, or one primarily concerned with mycology and entomology, as it was since 1907-08, there was some justification for the old classification which regarded the department as one of pure scientific investigation as distinguished from executive action on a large scale. But with the creation of a regular department of Agriculture with a full staff and a budget well over 2 lakhs, the department may well claim to be released from its minority. For similar reasons and also to indicate more appropriately the position which the departments occupy in the present policy of Government, Sanitation and Industries and Commerce have been elevated to the rank of major heads.

5. Owing to the development of railway activities and the variety of financial interests involved in the several lines, the few heads already existing in our railway accounts are no longer sufficient, and it has been found necessary to amplify them. The several charges on account of assignments and compensations such as malnad land inam payments, compensation to the Sringeri jahgir for the abolition of the halat and refund of Excise revenue to inamdars, etc., are now scattered under several major heads in our accounts. The peculiar and important nature of these changes renders it desirable to adopt the system followed in British India of bringing together all these charges under a separate major head. Lastly, with the introduction of the village improvement scheme and the resolution of Government to provide at least Rs. 2 lakhs every year for some time to come as grant-in-aid to the village funds, a new head has been opened in the debt head portion of our accounts to record the receipts and disbursements in our treasuries in connection with these funds.

Changes in form and scope of the financial statement.

6. The foregoing changes refer to the heads of our Financial statement and budget. I shall now refer to a somewhat important change in their scope and form. Hitherto the budget estimates published in the Gazette related only to the service heads. The estimate under the debt and deposit heads with the Ways and Means note was separately considered by Government and was not published. Henceforth it is proposed to publish the financial statement in two parts. The first part will consist of the service heads from which, however, transactions relating to extraordinary items of capital outlay will be excluded and which will work up to a surplus or deficit for the year. The second part will show the extraordinary capital outlay and the result of the debt and deposit transactions and work up from the opening to the closing balance. By this means all the financial transactions of the state will be included in the statement presented to this council, whether they relate to real income and expenditure or whether they represent merely receipt or disbursement not affecting the net assets or the net liabilities of Government.

7. The extraordinary items which have been transferred to the second part of the financial statement are those relating to the Cauvery reservoir project, construction of new railway lines, the fourth installation of the Cauvery power scheme, and the Bangalore tramways. All other items of capital outlay e.g., the outlay on other original works in the public works and electric departments and the capital expenditure on open lines of railway, are retained in the first part. The question as to how far the current revenues of Mysore, including the Mining and Cauvery scheme revenues, should be made to contribute towards capital expenditure, is one of great importance in the financial policy of the State and is receiving the most careful consideration. If it is found on mature consideration that the first part of the financial statement, which is intended to include the current revenues of the year and the charges fairly debitable to them, should be relieved of any item of capital expenditure now included in it, such item will in future be transferred to the second part of the statement. If, on the other hand, it is considered reasonable that the revenues from the mines or any other item of receipt should not in fairness be wholly regarded as ordinary revenue available for current expenditure, steps will be taken to earmark such portion and see that it is properly reserved for capital outlay.

Budget factors in Mysore and elsewhere.

8. In Mysore, as in India generally and in other countries in a similar stage of economic development, it is the revenue side which determines the character of the budget as far as service heads are concerned. In more advanced countries, the expenditure programme for the year is first settled, and the revenue heads, most of which are fairly elastic, are adjusted so as to bring in the necessary amount. But here the revenue system is comparatively rigid in respect of most of the heads and it is impracticable or undesirable to adjust them from year to year. The expenditure side of the budget under service heads has therefore to adapt itself to the revenue estimates. The estimates of revenue in their turn are chiefly determined by the conditions of agriculture and trade which are expected to prevail, as the third principal factor affecting the financial situation of Government, viz., non-agricultural industries, has not yet assumed sufficient importance in India. Of the two essential factors of revenue prospects, viz., trade and agriculture, the course of trade again depends in India, in a great measure, on the state of agricultural operations, for these operations supply most of the exports of commerce and the wealth with which the imports are bought. The character of a year's budget in an Indian province or state is therefore chiefly determined by the prospects of agriculture, and these in their turn depend on the amount and occurrence of rainfall in relation to the needs of the staple crops. It thus happens that the seasonal conditions form the keynote of every financial statement in India. In this respect the situation has not materially changed since the dim and distant days when the Vedic Rishis used to chant their hymns to the God of rain and pray "Give, O Indra, food and drink to the hungry."

9. The case is somewhat different in respect of that portion of the budget which relates to capital expenditure on productive works such as irrigation, railway construction and other state undertakings of a commercial character. In respect of such heads the determining factors should be the requirements of the country in the matter of material and moral advancement of the people and the extent to which funds can be made available during the year for meeting such requirements by loans in the open market or otherwise. Generally speaking, for works of this nature, it is more economical and advantageous to have a comprehensive programme extending over several years and execute that programme systematically as far as practicable, without subjecting the annual operations to violent fluctuations in accordance with the varying seasonal and agricultural conditions from one year to another.

10. The conditions of Mysore at the present time, though generally in accord with the situation in other parts of India which I have just now indicated, present some distinguishing features. As long as land revenue and excise continue to furnish over 54 per cent of our gross revenues, the meteorological conditions cannot but be powerfully reflected in the service head portion of the state budget. But at the same time it may be contemplated with some satisfaction that here in Mysore we have some important heads of revenue, e. g., sandal, mining royalty and the Cauvery power revenues which are wholly or in a great measure independent of seasonal conditions. This makes domination of the monsoons over finance less rigorous and enables us, in some measure, to continue the work of reorganization and development in respect of several branches of the public service through years, which, from the point of view of agricultural prosperity, have to be regarded as below average.

11. In respect of the capital portion of the budget also, the circumstances in this state happen to be somewhat peculiar at the present moment. Thanks to the large surpluses of some years past—secured not by starving public works or the public services, but by the continued prosperity of agriculture, the mining industry and other causes—the state has now sufficient accumulated funds to carry on a liberal programme of capital works for a few years to come, without recourse to borrowing in the market.

Revised Estimates, 1913-14.

General Remarks.

12. When the budget estimates for 1913-14 were finally adopted, the seasonal conditions, though giving no room for undue optimism, still admitted of assuming average prospects of agriculture and trade for budget purposes. The serious defect in the mungar rains and the fitful way in which the south-west monsoon began to break showed, however, that some caution was necessary. In these circumstances the budget for 1913-14 was framed for a revenue of 257,17 against a revised estimate of 272,92 for 1912-13 and a total of 250,90 as per actuals of the preceding year. It was thought that it would not be safe to estimate according to the standard of 1912-13 in which the season and trade conditions were decidedly more propitious; but there was no reason to apprehend that the standard attained in 1911-12 could not be maintained.

13. On the expenditure side, the budget for the current year was the embodiment of an active and energetic policy, both as regards the development of permanent departments of the state and as regards capital expenditure on productive public works. The estimates of most of the departments were studded with additional grants the most important of which were those relating to general and technical education, industries, agriculture, malnad improvements, the taluk establishment and the police force. The provision under service heads thus came up to 248,45 against a revised estimate of 229,63 in 1912-13 and a sum of Rs. 224,99 as per closed accounts of 1911-12. Besides this, a special additional allotment of Rs. 65,10 was provided for capital expenditure in connection with the Cauvery reservoir, railway construction, the fourth installation of the Cauvery power works and the Bangalore tramways. The total expenditure provided for in the budget thus reached the unprecedented figure of 313,55. As the money required for the capital programme was to come out of the accumulated surplus of previous years and not from the current revenues, no hesitation was felt on account of the seasonal conditions in having a full programme. On the other hand, in the circumstances of the case, a large capital programme was considered to be a decided advantage.

Revenue.

14. The expectation of average seasonal conditions on the basis of which the revenue estimates for the current year were framed cannot be said to have been fulfilled. The aggregate hot weather rainfall from March to May 1913 was in defect of the normal throughout the Mysore area, the deficiency ranging from 5 per cent in the Tumkur district to 33 per cent in Mysore. For the state, the defect amounted to nearly a fifth of the usual quantity. The south-west monsoon rains set in at the usual time on the west coast and rapidly extended to the interior, and in this state the total rainfall of the period of this monsoon from June to September 1913 was about the average. But the distribution in time was abnormal. After heavy showers in the first half of July, a break commenced which with a slight mitigation about the end of the month extended right through August and nearly up to the middle of September. Heavy rainfall in the latter part of September made up the average quantity but the staple dry crops had suffered by this time. The rainfall of the north-east monsoon period from October to December was scanty in all the districts except Shimoga. The defect was over 70 per cent in Tumkur and the average for the state was less by about 40 per cent. Even this reduced amount was ill-distributed in time, the whole of the precipitation of the north-east monsoon having been within the first half of October. The latter part of this month as also the months of November and December were practically without any rain. The north-east monsoons bring the tank-filling rains of Mysore and, for agricultural purposes, provided the full quantity is received, an uneven distribution in time up to a certain extent may not much matter. But the very early cessation of the north-east monsoons in the middle of October leaving the five months from November to March practically rainless, very much affected the summer discharge of the Cauvery, and this, as we shall see later on, led to some loss of revenue. It will thus be seen that of the three periods of rainfall on which our harvests of 1913-14 depended, the hot weather rains from March to May 1913 were deficient in quantity, the south-west monsoon precipitation from June to September was ill-distributed in time and the north-east monsoon showers from October to December were both deficient in quantity and ill-distributed.

15. It is an agreeable surprise to find that this rather unfavourable condition as regards rainfall has not adversely affected our revenue prospects as a whole. In some parts agricultural operations were hampered and the crops withered and suffered much, but on the whole the yield of the ragi and paddy crops was fair. In the case of the former crop the yield varied from about 7 annas in Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur to 16 annas in Mysore. In the case of the latter the outturn was least in Bangalore district where it was about 6½ annas, and it was greatest again in Mysore in which a 14 annas harvest was reaped. The general average for the state reported to be 8·7 annas for ragi and 11·1 annas for paddy cannot but be regarded as satisfactory under the seasonal conditions of the year.

16. In fact our total revenue figures for 1913-14, instead of being adversely affected under the seasonal conditions which prevailed, stand revised from 257,17 to 287,30 which means an improvement of 30,13 or about 11·72 per cent. This increase is contributed to by almost all the group heads, the most important groups being Principal heads of Revenue, Interest and Railways. In taking the revised revenue figures at 287,30 for comparison with the budget, I have, of course, excluded the sum of 30 lakhs shewn under the head IX A. Surplus Revenues of the Bangalore Assigned Tract.

17. The proportion in which the revenue of 287,30 as per revised estimate is contributed to by various sources is shewn below :—

	Per cent.
Land Revenue	36·55
Excise	18·17
Forest	11·53
Mining Revenue	6·74
Interest	6·02
Cauvery Power Scheme	5·96
Railways	5·88
Stamps	3·59
Other Heads	5·56
Total ...	100·00

18. Principal Heads of Revenue.—The improvement over the budget under the group "Principal Heads of Revenue" amounts to 21,26. Of the six heads under this group three, viz., Land Revenue, Assessed Taxes and Registration show no decided fluctuation from the budget. This advance is chiefly under Forest and Excise and to a smaller but quite appreciable extent under Stamps.

19. In the face of the seasonal conditions of the year no excess over the budget could be expected under Land Revenue. That the budget figure has been barely realised is due chiefly to two causes. In the first place the preceding year was one of abundant rainfall and satisfactory crops. And secondly, the sharp rise in the price of food grains during the last two years, was a decided advantage to the raiyat, specially as far as fixed money payments like kandayam were concerned. Thus the annual average price of ragi in the state during the three years ending 1912-13 was 18·52, 16·40 and 15·31 seers per rupee. The same figures in respect of rice of the second sort were 9·21, 7·83 and 6·62. In the current year the prices continued at these high levels. In the course of two years the rise in price is 20·96 per cent in the first case and 39·1 per cent in the second. This undoubtedly explains to some extent the ability of the raiyat at the present time to meet his kandayam in spite of a somewhat poor harvest.

20. The feature of slow contraction manifests itself, as usual, under Assessed taxes by which are meant mohatarfa in rural tracts and assessment on vacant building sites. Against an estimate of 2,75 the actuals are expected to be 2,63. In the case of Registration, on the other hand, the realisations are better than the budget, viz., 1,95 against an estimate of 1,85. The fluctuation from the budget under the head Stamps is considerable, the revised estimate standing at 10,30 against the estimate of 9,00. The increase is both under general and court fee stamps and indicates a greater degree of activity in general business and in our civil courts.

21. Under Forest, against the budget of 22,00 the revised stands at 33,14. This increase of over 50 per cent is chiefly due to the fact that the favourable rates for sandal realised last year were not only maintained at this year's auctions but showed a distinct advance. The average rate per ton secured this year was Rs. 1,000 a ton against Rs. 940 of last year. The other items of revenue under this head also contribute an increase of 3,02 over the budget, the bulk of which is expected to come from timber operations both by Government and private agency.

22. The Khedda operations during the last year cost about 1,11. Of the 109 elephants caught 32 died, 7 were retained for departmental use and 4 presented. The remaining 66 were sold for Rs. 1,25,250, the average price realised per head being Rs. 1,898. The net result of the operations was thus a profit of Rs. 14,250 besides the addition to the live stock of the department.

Excise.

23. The increase of 8,84 over the budget figure of 43,36 under Excise constitutes a very striking feature of the revised estimates of the current year. The course of this revenue during the last few years has been as follows:—

1906-07	39,77
1907-08	41,83
1908-09	43,63
1909-10	42,11
1910-11	41,99
1911-12	42,81
1912-13	48,14
1913-14 (Revised estimate)	52,20

The rise from 39,77 to 42,81 in five years from 1906-07 may be regarded as normal. But the increase from 42,81 in 1911-12 to 48,14 in 1912-13 and from that figure to 52,20 in the current year, i.e., about 22 per cent in two years is a remarkable phenomenon which requires careful study from more than one point of view. The increase of 9,39 during the two years is analysed as follows according to our minor heads:—

		1911-12	1913-14	Variation
III A	Arrack	21,11	25,58	4,47
	Foreign liquors (included in accounts under Arrack)	12	19	7
III B	Toddy	19,92	24,44	4,52
III C	Beer	20	14	—6
III D	Ganja	96	1,18	22
III E	Opium	40	52	12
III F	Miscellaneous including C. & M. Station proportionate cost of the Central Distillery	10	15	5
	Total ...	42,81	52,20	9,39

24. I do not know whether many of us will be inclined to draw any consolation from the fact that compared with the rise of revenue under arrack the increase is as great, if not greater, in the case of the milder and comparatively less harmful toddy. Our revenue statistics also show that the increase under country arrack is not accompanied by increase of receipts under foreign liquor, the increase of 7.

in 1913-14 over the figures of 1911-12 shown against this head being due not to any increase in consumption, but to the collection of registration and surcharge fees in Bangalore and Mysore city municipalities from the year 1913-14. If it is a fact—I cannot vouch for it from personal knowledge or experience—that some of the cheaper foreign liquors are rank poison when compared to our jaggery arrack, which in its turn is more deleterious than toddy, this leaning of the drinker towards the less injurious stuff has to be regarded with some satisfaction.

25. There is another method of analysing our Excise revenue figures which throws important light on the whole subject. Under each of the minor heads I have just now referred to, the revenue consists broadly speaking of two classes of items, viz., duty or tax on the liquor and shop rental or license fees. Of these the first item may be said to vary solely and directly with consumption if the rate of duty or tax remains unchanged. The second item viz., rent depends partly on consumption and partly also on competition amongst the capitalist licensees. An increase in this item need not necessarily denote increased drinking amongst the people. Analysed on this basis, the Excise revenue figures stand thus:—

Duty or tax	25,62	31,03	5,41 or 21 per cent more
Shop rental and License fees ...	17,19	21,17	3,98 or 23 ,,

It may therefore be said that the increase in our Excise revenue since 1911-12 is due, in some measure at least, to causes other than increased consumption of liquor.

26. With effect from the year 1910-11 the strength of arrack sold in the shops was reduced from 20 to 25 degrees under proof. This reduction of strength of course means that for an equal degree of stimulation a greater quantity of arrack is required. Since 1911-12 there has been great activity in the labour employing departments of the state like public works and railway construction, more wages have been distributed all round and colonies of imported coolies have sprung up. Temporary increase of consumption may be expected in such circumstances. Energetic steps have been taken of late to put down illicit distillation and smuggling across the frontier, and this may have resulted in rise of revenue without a corresponding increase in drunkenness. It is difficult to say whether all these causes suffice to explain the remarkable rise in our Excise revenue that has recently taken place, or whether the increase is partially due to the drink habit penetrating deeper into the masses of our urban and village population. One fact however can be contemplated with satisfaction in connection with this subject and it is the graduation reduction in the number of shops year by year as shown below:—

1913-14	4,000 (approximate)

27. Interest.—The improvement in the revised estimates over the budget under the group Interest amounts to 4,96. This is the net result of two opposite factors. Under interest on loans and interest on arrears of revenue there is a falling off of 1,04 from the budget chiefly owing to less recoveries on account of loans to encumbered jahgirdars and to agricultural banks. Against this there is the large improvement of 6,00 under Profit or Loss. About two-thirds of this increase is only nominal being due to realisation during the year of amounts appertaining to the previous year. But the remaining third represents a real advance over the budget due to new investments and also owing to the fact that the condition of the money market enabled us to use our cash balances for earning interest to a greater extent than was anticipated.

28. Railways.—To prevent undue inflation of both the receipt and expenditure sides of our budget, it is our practice to show on the receipt side, not the gross earnings of our state railways, but only the net earnings after deducting the working expenses and the share of profits payable under contract to the working agency. The net earnings of the current year were taken in the budget at 14,50 but this figure now stands revised to 16,90, showing an advance of 2,40 over the budget. This favourable result is due to the gross earnings having been considerably higher than anticipated. The working expenses also rose but to a less extent and the net receipts were consequently higher.

29. The working company placed the budget estimate of gross revenue from the Mysore state railways for the current year at 34 lakhs. This was found to be low in the light of the revised estimate for 1912-13 and the growing character of this revenue and it was accordingly raised to 36 lakhs. The actual result is expected to exceed even the anticipation formed at budget time and the revised estimate of gross revenue for the current year is placed at 42 lakhs.

30. The large increase is both on the broad and metre gauge sections and under both coaching and goods. There was general improvement in passenger traffic all throughout the year due, perhaps, to less prevalence of plague in many parts of the State, and to an exceptionally busy marriage season. The Dasara at Mysore attracted a large number of people in October 1913, while His Excellency the Viceroy's visit added appreciably to the earnings from passenger traffic during November 1913. The feast at Pandharpur in the month of November 1913 and the movement of troops from Bangalore to Rajankunte and Dodballapur for the camp of exercise in the same month were also causes that increased the revenue from coaching traffic.

31. The increase under goods on the broad gauge was due to large consignments of timber and coal for the Kolar gold mines in July and November 1913 and February 1914. On the metre gauge it was due to large exports from Davangere of cotton and cotton seeds to Bombay in October 1913, and of ragi and groundnuts to stations on the South Indian Railway, in December 1913. The booking in October and December 1913 of jaggery and sugar from Bangalore and Tiptur within the State and from Dodballapur to stations on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway were also heavier than in the previous year. The traffic in paddy and rice booked from Mysore and Tumkur to stations on the South Indian Railway was brisk during November and December 1913. The booking of manganese ore from Shimoga to Marmugoa harbour fluctuated greatly from month to month. The bookings had to be suspended during August owing to labour difficulties. By November the tonnage of consignments rose so as to materially enhance the goods receipts; but in January the export traffic again declined and in February there were no consignments.

32. Taking the actual working expenses for the months for which they are available and the probable working expenses for the remaining months, it is expected that the total working expenses for the year will amount to 24,37. Of the balance, one-twentieth (subject to some adjustments) has to be paid to the Company as its share of surplus profits, and making allowance for this, the revised estimate of net revenues from Railways will stand at 16,90.

33. Cauvery Power Revenue.—In previous years it has frequently been my good fortune to record substantial increase of revenue under the head Cauvery power scheme, due in some measure to fresh power and lighting installations, but chiefly to the stoppages of power supply on account of the deficiency of water in the Cauvery and for other reasons being few and of short duration. This year there is no appreciable increase to record, the revised estimates for 1913-14 being 17,12 against 17,06 as per accounts of the previous year. This result is chiefly due to the necessity of granting rebates to the Kolar gold mining companies in terms of contracts with them for deficiency of power supply. I have already pointed out that the north-east monsoon rains, which in and round about Mysore should be distributed throughout the months of October, November and December, practically exhausted themselves by the first half of October in the current year, and from 18th October onwards the Cauvery catchment had practically no rain. As a consequence, load had to be taken off from the power works at Sivasamudram from about the middle of March and rebates had to be granted.

34. The amount of rebate actually allowed to the mining companies for March, April and May aggregates about 1,38. The rebate payable for June will also be heavy being about 70 or 80. It may be mentioned, however, that this does not seriously affect the receipts for the current year, as the demand for the last two or three months will be paid and adjusted in the accounts of the next official year. It is the figure in the budget estimates for the ensuing year that will be materially affected by these circumstances.

35. Mining Revenue.—This temporary shortage in the power supply is not likely to cause any material reduction in the output of gold to the end of the current year. In fact the output from January up to the end of April shows an increase of 470 ounces over that for the corresponding months of 1913. There is therefore no reason to doubt that the estimate of 19,00 under Mining Royalty and Leases will be realized.

EXPENDITURE.

36. We shall now turn our attention to the pay counters of our treasuries and examine how far the operations there during the current year have been in accordance with budget anticipations. The liberal provisions for the year under the various service heads, excluding special grants for capital expenditure, aggregated 248,45. The figure now stands revised to 237,23 as the net result of lapses and savings in some departments and excess expenditure in others. The more important items of fluctuation are :—

Lapses and Savings (In thousands)		Excess Expenditure (In thousands)
Land Revenue	72	Forest	42
Charges against Mining Revenue ...	14	General Administration ...	1,91
Palace	44	Courts of Law	19
Jails	15	Police	11
Education	2,40	Pensions	13
Medical	49	Stationery and Printing ...	12
Scientific and Minor Departments ...	31	Civil Works	93
Miscellaneous	4,15
Army	73
Major Irrigation	93

37. The saving of 72 under Land Revenue is chiefly contributed to by the minor heads Charges of district administration (60) and Revenue survey and settlement (11). The decrease in the former is caused by savings in salaries and establishments, due in some measure to the new scale for shekdars not having been fully brought to effect, and to lapses in some of the grants for supplies and services. The lapse of about 11 under Revenue survey and settlement is on account of savings in establishment for which a lump sum grant of 90 was made in the budget.

38. The saving of 14 under Charges against mining revenue is in the charges transferred from the Geological department in which there has been a decrease of expenditure owing to the appointment of the 2nd State Geologist being vacant and one of the Assistant geologists being deputed for other duty. Under Palace, the revised estimate stands at 22,96 against 23,40 in the budget, as some of the smaller pensions have not been fully adjusted. In respect of Jails the net decrease of 15 is due to the lapse of provision for introducing khaki weaving industry, and for manufacturing weights and measures, counterbalanced to some extent by an excess in the dietary charges of prisoners.

39. The expenditure in the Education department is expected to be 2,40 less than the budget chiefly owing to the special grants for opening new and improving existing schools and for technical education not being fully utilized. There is also a decrease of 21 under Government colleges, on account of savings in the salaries of professors on account of vacancies, in the salaries of masters and mistresses in the Maharani's girls' college and in the lump grant for botany laboratory in the Central college. Some savings on the budget are also expected in the Book depot and under Grants-in-aid. Under Medical the lapse of 49 is chiefly under Medical Establishment (20) and Sanitation and Vaccination (28). The decreases in the two cases are due to savings in the salaries of Assistant and Sub-assistant surgeons, and in the grant for plague charges, respectively. In the Scientific and minor departments there were two vacancies in the gazetted geological staff, and the grant under Archæology for preparing a monograph on Chalukyan buildings is not likely to be fully utilized. Small savings are also expected in the provisions of the Agricultural and Industries departments.

40. The large saving of 4,15 under Miscellaneous is only apparent, because there was a lump sum provision of 5,00 in the budget under this head, but the expenditure incurred out of this sum has been classified under the appropriate heads of account. This fact also explains many of the excesses over sanctioned grants in respect of the latter heads. Under Army, the saving of 73 is contributed to by all the branches excepting the Local service regiment, Palace military and Kunigal farm. In the Imperial service regiment there are savings in pay and good conduct allowances; in the Barr or Infantry there is lapse under non-commissioned officers and men and in respect of the special grant for purchase of rifles; and in the Imperial service transport corps there is less expenditure under salaries and establishments, and in the grants for converting pony carts into bullock ones and for the purchase of bulls. There will also be savings under the grass farms at Hessarghatta and Nadamavinapura. Against these savings there will be an increase over the budget under Palace military, in consequence of the increased contract grant sanctioned from this year on account of improvement to His Highness the Maharaja's body guard. The grants under Local service regiment will be fully worked out.

41. The saving of 1,29 under Miscellaneous railway charges is due to the fact that a considerable part of the charges on Direction and Accounts incurred during the year, has been transferred to the capital accounts of the several railways under construction in proportion to the work done for them. It has also to be remembered that survey charges are, in the first instance, treated as miscellaneous railway expenditure; but as soon as construction is taken up, the cost of all surveys is transferred to the capital account by relieving the head Miscellaneous railway charges. This head also gets relief by the recovery of mileage and Government supervision charges in respect of district board and companies' railways.

42. The lapse of 93 under Major Irrigation (excluding capital grants) was due to difficulty in securing labour for some of the works included in the programme. There is a corresponding excess of 93 under Civil Works from which it will be seen that this lapse in the Irrigation budget has been utilized for buildings and miscellaneous improvements. There having been a tendency of late to utilize money provided in the budget under irrigation for other kinds of public works, Government have recently laid down that, in reappropriating funds in future, the Public works department should not transfer funds from Irrigation to other heads.

43. Of the excesses over budget grant under the several major heads, those under Forest and General Administration are only apparent as the provisions for khedda charges and entertainments, were included in lump under Miscellaneous while the expenditure has been shown in the accounts under the appropriate service heads. Taking these grants into account, there has been no excess under either head. The excess of 19 under Courts of Law is due to the new system of paying remuneration to copyists and copy examiners in courts which has come into force with the introduction of stamped copying papers. Under this system the amount paid by the parties for copies is collected as revenue under stamps and the expenditure for making out copies has to be shown as expenditure under Courts of Law. The budget estimate under Superannuation allowances is framed on the basis of pensions in force at the beginning of the year in the expectation that lapses and new sanctions will balance one another. The excess of 13 in the revised over the budget shows that during the year under review the equilibrium was not maintained but that new sanctions exceed lapses. The increase of 12 under Stationery and Printing means more money spent on printing paper and stationery for the expanding public departments, and more types and materials and establishment charges for a nevertheless groaning printing office.

44. One of the most important measures affecting the expenditure side of the budget promulgated by Government during the current year is the Village Improvement Scheme. This scheme was foreshadowed by you, Sir, in your address to the Representative Assembly in October last in the course of which you observed:

"The village forms a convenient unit for purposes of economic effort, for taking stock of progress at the beginning and end of a year. If each village shows a little improvement, from year to year, the collective result will be large..... Every village should show some public improvement or other as the result of the collective effort of its inhabitants at the end of each year.....And as the great bulk of the population live in villages, any effective organisation to improve village efficiency cannot fail to make a potent addition to the life force of the people and the productive power of the country."

Under this scheme which was formally sanctioned by Government in February 1914, a sum of at least two lakhs per annum will have to be provided in the budget for some years to come for grants-in-aid to the village improvement funds.

45. When the budget estimates for the current year were under consideration a number of proposals for departmental reforms and reorganizations were pending before Government, and a lump sum provision was made under the head Miscellaneous, so that such of the schemes as might be sanctioned during the year could be given effect to at once, without waiting for the allotment of funds in the budget for the next year. The procedure was not strictly in accordance with financial rules and was adopted in the very exceptional circumstances of the case, viz., that an unusually large number of proposals, some of which were of a really pressing character, happened to be simultaneously before Government. The lump sum provision made, including the allotment for special entertainments was 5,00. In reply to a question in this Council on the 14th April 1914, I placed on the table a statement showing appropriations out of this grant as they stood on that date. I take this opportunity of appending a final statement showing how that grant has been utilized :—

Item sanctioned	Amount debitable for the current year.
	Rs.
(1) Revision of the Police department (from October 1913) ...	49,843
(2) Revision of the establishment of the Comptroller's office ...	4,500
(3) Revision of the scale of establishment in the Channapatna Industrial School	20,609
(4) Special grant on account of entertainments	2,85,000
(5) Village Improvements	80,000
(6) Malnad Improvement Scheme	45,000
(7) Reorganization of the Agricultural department	8,000
(8) Temporary records sorting Establishment of the General and Revenue Secretariat	2,000
(9) Special improvements to the Cubbon Park	3,500
10) Efficiency Audit department	1,500

Special Capital Grants.

46. We shall now compare the budget provision and the expenditure according to the latest revised estimates, in respect of the several items of special capital work. The figures are—

	Budget grant.	Revised estimate.
Cauvery reservoir works	30,40	19,70
Fourth Installation, Cauvery power scheme ...	13,05	8,50
New Railway lines	15,00	8,83
Bangalore tramways	6,65	65
Total ...	65,10	37,68

47. The estimate for the Cauvery reservoir project, as now under execution is 81 lakhs. The outlay up to the end of June 1913 was 23,20. For the current year a sum of 30,40 was provided for, but a sum of 19,70 only is likely to be spent, bringing up the outlay up to the end of the current financial year to 42,90. Some points relating to the grant of land compensation have yet to be settled, and payments under this head did not therefore reach the expected figure during the current year.

48. As regards the Fourth installation of the Cauvery power scheme, the surrender amounts to about 4,55 out of a grant of 13,05. About two lakhs of the surrender is due to the building operations at the Kolar Gold Fields having been deferred during the current year and the reconstruction of the transmission lines having been taken up late. The former work is held in abeyance as it has not yet been finally decided whether double transformer stations will be really necessary and only about half the latter work is expected to be completed by the end of this year. The work in connection with the supply channels and additional buildings required at Sivasamudram is expected to be practically complete by the end of the current year. As regards generation machinery, some of the required plant have already been received and the remaining ones are expected before the close of the official year. A sum of 40 is however resigned under this head for such of the items as may remain over for next year. Under the head distribution plant, the step-down transformers and other materials for works in the Kolar Gold Fields are not expected to be received during the current year. Hence a sum of 2,10 is surrendered under this head. It will be seen that the bulk of the surrenders is on account of buildings and distribution plant at Kolar, all the other parts of the scheme being expected to be complete or nearly so by the end of the current year.

49. The original estimate for the Bangalore tramways was for 6,75; but during the year it had to be revised, and the estimate as recast aggregated 8,55. The Government were not prepared to accept so high an estimate and the work could not in consequence be taken up. Further inspection, ordered by Government, of the existing tramway systems of the principal Indian cities was concluded in April last and a fresh revised estimate recently prepared by the Chief Electrical Engineer is now under the consideration of Goverenment. As a final decision in respect of this project cannot be arrived at during the current year, the entire grant less a small outlay of 65 will lapse. This expenditure is in connection with survey charges and purchase of materials for the car barn.

50. The grant of 15 lakhs for construction of new lines provided in the budget for the current year was intended to be roughly spent as follows:—Viz., 10 lakhs for the Mysore-Arsikere Railway, 2 lakhs for the Tarikere-Yedahalli Tramway, and 3 lakhs for the Bangalore-Hosur Railway. As a matter of fact only a sum of 8·83 is likely to be spent during the year, viz., 2,83 for the Tarikere-Yedahalli Tramway and 6 lakhs for the Mysore-Arsikere Railway. The progress of work in respect of the Tarikere-Yedahalli Tramway is thus satisfactory and the line is expected to be ready for opening within a few weeks of this date.

51. As regards the Mysore-Arsikere Railway, operations are going on at a satisfactory rate in the two construction divisions that have been formed and no considerable lapse is expected in the grant for works. But there was some delay in settling the exact method of procuring Europe stores and an indent for permanent way material and locomotives was sent in the final form only in the middle of February. A sum of about 4,00 has therefore been surrendered under this head.

52. The construction of the Bangalore-Hosur line could not be taken up during the year and the whole provision for it will lapse. When the question of this railway was taken up early in 1913, the intention was to make use of the survey and estimates prepared for the line by the late Madras Railway Company during 1906, except for a few miles from Hosur, for which a re-survey was necessary, owing to a change in the original alignment adopted by the South Indian Railway Company near Hosur. This re-survey could have been completed and the sanction of the Government of India obtained to the commencement of construction work in time to spend the current year's grant for the work. But no sooner were survey operations commenced near Hosur than petitions began to pour in from the inhabitants of Bangalore and Anekal taluks, one party representing that the line should follow the imperial road between Bangalore and Hosur via Attibele and Chandrapura, and the other party advocating the advantages of a route via Bannerghatta and Anekal. The President, City Municipal Council, Bangalore and the Taluk Board, Bangalore supported the former representation while the District Board of Bangalore and the Taluk Board of Anekal supported the latter. As no unanimity could be arrived at on the point, alternative estimates were prepared for both the routes. This naturally led to considerable loss of time and the estimates could not be submitted to the Government of India and sanction obtained in time to commence work this year.

SUMMARY.

53. The net savings and lapses in the service head portion of the budget being 11,22 and those in the capital grants 27,42 the total expenditure as per revised estimates is less by 38,64 than the budget amount. Thus instead of 313,55 the actual expenditure is expected to be 274,91, viz., 237,23 under service heads and 37,68 for large productive works. Of the expenditure under service heads amounting to 237,23 the percentages as per various distinct classes of expenditure are—

Civil Departments and pensions	31·57
Army and Defence	21·00
Refunds and charges incidental to revenue collection	15·69
Public Works	12·14
Palace	9·68
Cauvery Power Scheme	3·32
Miscellaneous	1·77
Total ...	100·00

54. The budget for 1913-14 excluding special grants for capital expenditure, was framed for a surplus of 8,72. In the revised estimates this stands increased to 80,07. An analysis of this improvement of 71,35 is given below:—

Accumuluated surplus revenue of the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore ...	30,00
Increase in Forest revenue	11,14
Do Excise	8,84
Do Other revenues	10,15
Saving in expenditure	11,22
Total ...	71,35

It will thus be seen that the apparently large variation is due to a few items which could not be foreseen at budget time and that the general estimating both on the revenue and expenditure side was fairly accurate.

55. The result of the year about to close has thus exceeded our expectations. The fluctuations both ordinary and special have been on the right side, excess in the case of revenue and saving on the side of expenditure, with the result that we are considerably better off at the end of the year than we expected. But before taking leave of the year which has thus more than fulfilled its promise as regards the level of our balances and the strength of our financial position, we shall briefly examine whether it has kept pace with its predecessors in the matter of expansion and development. For this purpose I have analysed our revenue and expenditure figures for the last three years into ordinary and special as in the subjoined statement:—

Revenue and Receipts.

	Ordinary.	Special.	Total.
1911-12	250,90	...	250,90
1912-13	276,06	...	276,06
1913-14 (Revised)	287,30	30,00	317,30

Expenditure.

	Service heads.	Capital outlay.	Total.
1911-12	224,99	7,02	232,01
1912-13	223,73	17,05	240,78
1913-14 (Revised)	237,23	37,68	274,91

It has to be remembered that the service head expenditure for 1911-12 includes Delhi Durbar charges to the extent of 4,94. The figures speak for themselves and no comment is needed.

Budget Estimates, 1914-15.

GENERAL REMARKS.

56. Having briefly studied the forces acting on the field of our public finance during the current year, and examined the extent to which they have affected the budget estimates for 1913-14, we can now proceed to examine how our programme is likely to stand under the operation of these forces during the year which is now peeping on us from behind the veil of futurity. It must be abundantly clear to us all that the trend of these forces has not only been simple forward motion, but forward motion with acceleration; the aim has been not only to advance but to push forward as fast as possible under the circumstances of the case. Taking the aggregate expenditure of the state as a rough index of its useful activity, we have seen how the revised estimates for 1913-14 amounting to 274,91 show a great advance over the actuals of 1912-13 which aggregated 240,78. The budget estimate for the year 1914-15 now placed before you providing for a total expenditure of 358,63 indicates a greater advance on the revised estimates for 1913-14. Translated from the language of figures to plain words this means that the programme for the ensuing year not only provides for maintaining the standard already attained, but aims at higher efficiency and increased activity in many directions.

57. The provisions for capital expenditure not charged to current revenues in the estimates for 1914-15 aggregate 95,17 as shown below :—

Cauvery Reservoir Project main works	29,00
Do subsidiary works	8,50
New Railway lines	46,00
IV Installation, Cauvery Power Scheme	5,67
Bangalore tramways	6,00
Total ...	95,17

The provision of 29 lakhs for the Cauvery Reservoir, if it can be fully worked out during the year, will bring up the total outlay to 71,90 against an estimate of 81 lakhs. This stage will thus be approaching completion by June 1915. It is expected that by that time the dam will be raised to 62 feet above bed level and the capacity of the reservoir at that level will be 4,000 million cubic feet. The provision of 8,50 for subsidiary works connected with this project includes the following grants :—

Work	Total estimate.	Allotment for 1914-15.
Opening low level canals from the Cauvery Reservoir ...	2,50	1,00
Improving and extending Hemagiri Channel ...	1,54	50
Do Mandagiri Channel ...	6,50	3,50
Opening Chamaraj Right Bank Channel	14,00	3,50

These works are mostly necessitated for settling the raiyats who will be drowned out by the construction of the reservoir.

58. The distribution of the sum of 46,00 provided for the construction of new railway lines during the ensuing year will be explained in the section on Railways. Of the provisions of 5,67 and 6,00 made under IV Installation Cauvery Power Scheme and Bangalore Tramways there is practical certainty in the former case and reasonable probability in the latter, of the works being completed during the ensuing year and the grants utilized nearly to the full extent.

59. Large as these grants for capital outlay may appear, they have not been provided at the expense of the permanent departments of the state. Reform and development are written large over the budget estimates of many of them. Increased provisions appear under General Administration, Courts of Law, Police, Education and Agriculture, on account of improvements effected in those departments during the current year. Besides these there are provisions in the budget appertaining to measures which are to come into effect during the ensuing year. The most important of these are the special grants aggregating over four lakhs to the Education department for opening public libraries and starting new aided schools, for introducing compulsory education in certain selected parts of the State, for village elementary school buildings, for better and more extensive training of teachers and for various other purposes connected with the spread of education. The special allotments made for the Agriculture and the Industries and Commerce departments include provisions for improved jaggery manufacturing plant, establishment of a dairy and breeding station in connection with the Agricultural school and the opening of two new experimental farms one in the malnad and the other in the Chitaldrug district. Under Economic conference, liberal provisions have been included for sericulture and for propagandistic work. The malnad and village improvement schemes have been adequately provided for by grants of one and three lakhs respectively, the latter including a grant of one lakh for sinking wells in villages. To supplement the funds raised by certain municipalities for financing water-supply schemes a provision of 70 is made for grant-in-aid to these municipalities. In addition to these large grants the budget includes provisions of smaller amounts for starting new works and effecting improvements in almost all the departments of the state, and these will be referred to later on under the respective heads.

60. In the service head portion of the budget for 1914-15, the revenue for the year is estimated at 284,92. Against this the expenditure is expected to stand at 263,46. This leaves a surplus of 21,46. The special expenditure on large capital works amounting to 95,17 has not, however, been included in these figures. Including these special items the total expenditure for the year comes up to 358,63 and the excess of total expenditure over current revenue comes to 73,71.

61. The net revenue from the Mines, the Cauvery Power Scheme and Bethamangla water-works, i.e., the receipts after allowing for all expenditure directly or indirectly appertaining to these heads is estimated in the budget at about 28 lakhs thus :—

Gross Mining Revenue	19,00
Deduct : Charges	2,40
Net Mining Revenue		16,60
Gross C. P. S. Revenue	17,58
Deduct : Charges	8,26
Net Power Revenue		9,32
Net Water Revenue, say...		2,00
Total Net Revenue from the three sources		27,92 or say 28 lakhs.

It has also to be noticed that, out of the item of 13,43 included on the receipt side on account of surplus revenue of the Bangalore Assigned Tract, a sum of about 12 lakhs has to be regarded as accumulated arrears ; and if an allowance on this account is made, the real surplus, on the basis of the standards of revenue and expenditure taken for 1914-15, will come to 9·46 lakhs.

REVENUE.

62. While framing the revenue estimates for the ensuing year, the unfavourable seasonal and agricultural conditions of the current year have to be borne in mind. The partial failure of the staple crops in some parts during the current year did not indeed cause anything approaching distress ; but the raiyats' reserves have been depleted to some extent. With his strained resources the poorer agriculturist may not be able to meet his demands in full, if the effects of another bad season are superposed. But though there is need for caution, there is so far no cause for alarm. The prospects of the season are reported to be fair in the majority of the districts and it does not appear unsafe to base our estimates on average conditions of agriculture and trade. On this basis the aggregate revenue for the year has been estimated at 271,49 against 287,30 in the revised estimate of 1913-14 and 276,07 in the accounts of 1912-13. It should be noticed that, in this comparison, the figures relating to the surplus revenues of the Bangalore Assigned Tract have been omitted in both the budget and the revised.

63. We have assumed average seasonal and agricultural prospects because we are only at the commencement of the south-west monsoon period and there is as yet no reason to despair of fairly favourable conditions. The hot weather precipitation of rain in March, April and May of the current year has indeed been quite insufficient, the provincial average of rainfall on 20th June 1914 being only 4·09 inches against 9·18 inches, the average of the past ten years. On that date 74 out of 77 taluks and sub-taluks of the State reported deficit in rainfall. The south-west monsoon arrived on the Malabar coast on the 4th June which is about the usual date, and in Bangalore it arrived on the evening of the 4th in the heel of a dust storm. It spread over the whole of the Mysore country by the 6th. But the actual rainfall during the first three weeks of the monsoon is much in defect of the average. Regarding the prospects of the south-west monsoon rainfall of 1914 in Mysore, the Director-General of Indian Observatories infers that the effect of the high pressure in India in May is distinctly advantageous to Malabar and less so for Mysore. The outlook indeed is not very bright but there is no reason as yet to lose heart and the prospects are such as to justify estimating on the basis of average conditions with reasonable caution.

Principal heads of revenue.

64. In these circumstances the estimate of land revenue collections has been placed at 106,40 against 105,00, the revised estimate for the current year. The increase is chiefly under Assessment on lands owing to expected expansion of cultivation and to the introduction of revised rates of assessment in two taluks in the Shimoga district. It is also hoped to reduce to some extent the outstanding arrears. The arrears of land revenue left uncollected at the end of each year for several years past are given below:—

1908-09	24,61
1910-11	15,55
1911-12	11,85
1913-14 (Revised)	11,70

It is seen from these figures that during the last three years there has been no appreciable reduction in the amount of outstanding arrears. Judging from the standard of collection in other parts of India and in Mysore itself some time back, it is reasonable to hope for a substantial reduction in these outstandings.

65. Under Forest, the revenue suddenly leapt up from 22,06 in 1911-12 to 32,94 in 1912-13 and a considerable part of this rise is likely to be maintained in the future. The revised for the current year including the exceptional item of khedda receipts amounting to 1,30, stands at 33,14, which indicates, under the ordinary heads, only a slight set back from the standard of the previous year. Pending however the settlement of revenue under this head fairly stably at the higher level of these two years, a certain amount of caution in estimating is justified and the budget for 1914-15 has been placed at 28,20. This figure has been arrived at on the basis of a conservative estimate of the quantity of sandalwood expected to be placed on the market, so that the favourable rates of the last two years may be maintained. An addition of three lakhs is also anticipated in the next year from departmental timber operations, on account of the supply of sleepers to the State Railway construction department.

66. For reasons which I have already explained when dealing with the revised estimates, the budget estimate under Excise for 1914-15 has been placed at 46 lakhs. Some may consider this as an under-estimate in the light of previous actuals, but I should hesitate to make our financial system depend more and more every year on an excessive and rapidly increasing revenue from Excise. I would rather frame the budget with a moderate and normally expanding revenue from this source and treat the extra realizations, if any, as fortuitous receipts. The policy is, that we want to increase the revenue, as far as possible, by preventing illicit distillation and illicit tapping, by taking reasonable advantage of increasing competition amongst capitalists who make a profit by licensing and renting shops, and by taxing the man who must drink under any circumstances. But we do not want an increase of revenue by increased consumption; and though we cannot fight against economic laws and change all on a sudden the trend of certain phases of human nature, we should try to keep in our budget an element of elasticity about the Excise revenue, which will make it possible for us to view a reduction of consumption of intoxicating liquors and drugs amongst the population, with humanitarian pleasure and gratification and without any financial embarrassment.

67. Of the other ordinary heads under this group only the estimate under Stamps requires special notice. The actuals for 1912-13 under this head were 9,41 and the revised estimate for the current year stands at 10,30. The increase in the revised estimates being fairly evenly distributed amongst the several sub-heads, the most important of which are general stamps and court-fee stamps, the rise in this revenue may be held to have been due to normal expansion and the budget is consequently placed at 9,75. The introduction of stamped copying sheets for granting copies in courts was introduced about the end of 1912-13 and it was then estimated that the sale proceeds of these sheets may aggregate 16. The revised estimate of 41 under this head indicates, however, that this was under estimated in the budget for 1913-14. A sum of 30 has therefore been included in the budget for 1914-15 as the probable receipts from these copying sheets during 1914-15. The receipts from this new source are not real additional income as, against them, there will be corresponding expenditure in the shape of remuneration to copyists and copy examiners which is incurred by all courts in the state.

68. A word of explanation is necessary as regards the estimate under the new head Surplus Revenue of the Bangalore Assigned Tract. This amount includes the sum of about 9,23 due as per accounts up to the end of the year 1910-11, and also a rough estimate of the amount for the three years which have elapsed since then. In the absence of a better guide the average annual surplus for the whole period since the assignment of the tract has been taken as the basis of calculation in respect of these three years. As the Government of India have been pleased to agree to an annual adjustment in respect of this item, provision on this basis will be made in the budget estimate of future years unless some more definite data are forthcoming at budget time.

OTHER HEADS OF REVENUE.

69. The out-put of gold from the Kolar Mines during 1911-12 and 1912-13 was valued at 322,08 and 323,78 respectively and the revenue under Mining Royalty and Leases, which comes practically wholly from this source, amounted during these years to 19,19 and 19,36 respectively. The revenue from this source for the ensuing year has been placed at 19,00 as there is no reason to anticipate any falling off in the standard of out-put attained. Reports for the year 1913 show that the development operations during the year were fairly satisfactory and the reserve of ore on 31st December 1913 on most of the important mines was greater than that on the corresponding date of the previous year. On the property of the Mysore Gold Mining Company, the largest and most prosperous on the fields which paid last year, over 43 per cent of the total government royalty from the Kolar fields, against 302,662 tons of quartz crushed during the year 1913, the reserve of ore on the last day of the year was reported to be as much as 1,337,998 tons.

70. The receipts under the head Interest is a direct index of the extent of the State's interest-earning investments in the shape of loans and securities; and the fact that the standard of this revenue has steadily risen year by year from 5,67 in 1908-09 to about 14 lakhs at the present time shows that our investments have more than doubled during the period. This increase is not the result of a scheme of permanent hoarding on a large scale; it only represents a temporary phase in the financial working plan by which a part of the mining and attendant revenues is saved for being spent on productive and beneficent works of a permanent character. "How much does this contain?" asked some one pointing to the Comptroller's safe in the State Huzar Treasury knowing that it contained the bulk of the State's investment papers and expecting to hear in reply a figure in crores and lakhs. "It contains a reservoir capable of irrigating 150,000 acres, 400 miles of railway, an electric installation of 6,000 H.P. and some other miscellaneous little things" was the unexpected and amusing answer. This reply truly represents the character of the bulk of our investments. Hoarding in the ordinary sense is foreign to our financial policy; and the time will come, sooner or later, when, beyond a moderate liquid reserve for meeting sudden emergencies, all funds which we can save or our credit can secure will be utilised for developing the country. In the meantime all our savings are invested only in first class securities; and steps have been recently taken to introduce variety in the form of our investments so that a considerable amount can be realised at a moment's notice without considerably disturbing the market in respect of any particular kind of paper.

71. In the group "Receipts by Civil Departments" there are only a few points deserving notice in the estimates of the ensuing year. Under Jails, as weights and measures in accordance with the rules sanctioned in 1911 under the Mysore Weights and Measures Regulation are expected to be manufactured at the Central Jail in Bangalore during the ensuing year, the receipts are expected to be 7 more than the revised estimate of the current year. Under Police there is a slight rise on account of contributions for policing from the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway, and also from the Kolar Gold Fields Railway, administrative jurisdiction over the lands occupied by the latter line having been transferred to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja during the current year. A small income is also expected on account of fees for license and registration of motor cars in the State to be levied under the new regulations. The receipts under Education have been moderately estimated at 1,76 against 1,77 the revised for the current year and 1,64 the actuals of 1912-13. Under Scientific and other minor departments the budget figure for the ensuing year is 86 against 1,07 in the revised estimates and the reduction is chiefly under Veterinary and Stallion receipts owing to less realizations being expected from the sale of Amrut mahal bulls than in the current year.

72. The receipts under the group "Miscellaneous" are at the normal level and call for no remarks. The same might be said of the group "Military Receipts," but for an estimate of 33, against 24 in the revised estimate and 20 in the accounts for 1912-13, under Kunigal Stud Farm, owing to the expectation of larger realisations from sale of foals. As regards Public works receipts the only interesting fluctuation in the estimates for the ensuing year is in the sum of 58 under excess water rates expected to be realised in Mysore and Bangalore cities. The realisations under this head in the two preceding years were 71 and 70 respectively and the lower estimate for the ensuing year is due to a part of the out-standing arrears having been cleared off.

RAILWAYS.

73. State Railways—Open Lines.—It is a gratifying feature of our finances that the net income from railways is, year by year, becoming an important factor of the revenue side of the budget. For the ensuing year, on the basis of average condition of trade and agriculture the net railway earnings are placed at 15,00. The way in which this figure is worked out is shown in the following statement in which the figures for the two preceding years also are given for purposes of comparison:—

	1912-13 Accounts. Rs.	1913-14 Revised	1914-15 Budget
Gross earnings	37,21,685	42,00	38,00
Deduct: Working expenses	19,95,302	24,37	22,23
Surplus profits payable to the working agency	99,394	73	77
Net receipts	16,26,989	16,90	15,00

The estimate of gross receipts follows the actuals of 1912-13 rather than the revised estimate for the current year which may turn out to be exceptional. The working expenses are worked out on the basis of a percentage of 58·5 on gross earnings which is rather high but which has been adopted for budget purposes on the basis of actual results of previous years.

74. The capital expenditure for improvement of the State open lines provided for in the budget estimates for 1914-15 amounts to 3,58. The more important works under the head are these:—

Substitution of 60 lbs for 41¼ lbs rails for 100 miles metre-gauge ...	75
Improving signalling arrangements at road-side stations between Harihar and Bangalore and at Marikuppam	45
Fixing Roberts Key Staff Instruments from Kengeri to Mysore and Yesavantapur to Dodkurgod	14

Improving watering arrangements at Banasandra and Bidadi, Harihar, Arsikere and Shivani	30
Extending III Class waiting-room at Seringapatam and the Indian refreshment-room at Harihar.	5
Improvements at Davangere and on some of the Kolar Gold Fields Stations and level crossings	23
Fitting 22 bogie thirds and 15 four wheeled thirds with latrine accommodation.	13
Three additional bogie thirds and two additional brakevans	22
Thirty covered goods waggons	78

It will be seen that almost all the important works are such as lead to greater safety and convenience of the public who make use of the railway.

75 The net profit to the state from the working of open lines, after deducting all charges and interest on both state and borrowed capital at 4 per cent, is worked out in the subjoined statement:—

	Actuals, 1912-13	Revised, 1913-14	Budget, 1914-15
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Net receipts	16,27	16,90	15,00
Deduct—
Interest on loan	7,17	7,20	7,20
Direction and Accounts	15	18	20
Total ...	7,32	7,38	7,40
Profit	8,95	9,52	7,60
Capital outlay by the State (exclusive of loan amount)	88,04	90,55	93,04
Interest on the above at 4 per cent	3,52	3,62	3,72
Net Profit	5,43	5,90	3,88

76. The percentage of net receipts on total capital outlay in respect of the Mysore State Railways is worked out below. Taking the figures for 1912, the latest year for which information in respect of all the lines is available, we find that this percentage varied from 1·17 to 11·86 over the different metre gauge systems in India. It will therefore be seen that, if metre-gauge railways in India be divided into three classes, good, fair and bad, in respect of earning capacity, the Mysore system with its percentage between 6 and 7 may be placed in the middle class.

	Actuals, 1912-13	Revised, 1913-14	Budget, 1914-15
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Gross Receipts...	37,22	42,00	38,00
Deduct—
Workng expenses (not including percentage of profits paid to the Railway Company)	19,95	24,37	22,23
Net Receipts ...	17,27	17,63	15,77
Total Capital Outlay ...	252,87	254,38	256,87
Percentage of Net Receipts on Total Capital Outlay ...	6·83	6·93	6·14

77. State Railways—Construction.—The provision made in the budget estimates for the ensuing year for the construction of new lines is 46 lakhs and it is proposed to distribute the amount over the several works in this way :—

State Lines.

Mysore-Arsikere Railway	30,00
Tarikere-Yedahalli Tramway	0,50
Bangalore-Hosur Railway	5,50

Guaranteed or Subsidised Lines :—

Kolar-Chikballapur Railway and Bangalore-Chikballapur Railway ...	9,00
Shimoga-Tirthahalli-Sagar	1,00
Total ...	10,00

As regards the Mysore-Arsikere line plate-laying will be in progress from both ends during 1914-15 and it is hoped that about half the whole work will be completed. A part of the rolling stock will also be got ready. The line will be opened for goods traffic between Mysore and Belagola station for the Cauvery Reservoir and passengers will also be probably carried on that section before the end of the ensuing year. There is therefore every likelihood of the grant being fully used up. The Tarikere-Yedahalli line will be complete and in full working order from an early part of the next year. The revenue estimates of this railway for gross earnings, working expenses and net earnings to the extent of 39, 22 and 17 respectively when sanctioned by Government will be incorporated in the budget estimates. All work prior to the construction stage is complete in respect of the Bangalore-Hosur Railway and there will be no difficulty in working out the grant provided for it, if sanction to begin work is received early.

78. Guaranteed and other Railways—Open lines.—For convenience, I shall deal in this section, rather than in the section on local funds, with the Railway transactions, of our District Boards which are so far the only local bodies in the State financially connected with railway or tramway questions. To the Kolar District board belongs the honor of being first in the field in this respect. The Bowringpet-Kolar Railway was opened on 15th December 1913, when His Highness the Maharaja formally completed the permanent way by fixing the last bolt to the line and started the first passenger train at the Kolar station, amidst a scene of great entusiasm. Replying to the address of the District Board on that occasion His Highness the Maharaja was graciously pleased to observe :—"I am particularly glad to perform the opening ceremony because I wish to show my appreciation of the public spirit which has prompted the people of this District to construct this much needed line from funds subscribed among themselves. As the pioneers of Local Fund railways in Mysore you deserve the warm support of my Government, and I earnestly hope that when you have shown the way, other districts will not be slow to follow. There can be no sounder investment for a Local Board than a railway, and I trust that you will reap the reward of your enterprise. My Government recognises the importance of the extension of this railway to Chintamani and Chikballapur, and if the Kolar District Board can see its way to raise sufficient funds to meet half the cost of the whole line from Bowringpet to Chikballapur, my Government will be prepared to advance the balance of the money required."

79. The line from Bowringpet to Kolar is now open for booking of passengers and goods, both local and through, to stations on the Madras and Southern Maharatta and South Indian Railways. In the few months that the line has been working, it has shown promise of great usefulness and profit. The average earnings per mile per week has risen from about Rs. 30 in January to about Rs. 70 in May, the rise being noticeable both under coaching and goods. The highest weekly earnings was for the week ending 11th April 1914 during which the average earning per mile came to Rs. 85. Out-agencies for goods have been or are soon to be opened at Srinivasapur and Chintamani, and in spite of the short length of the line and the consequent competition of bullock carts, the average earnings from goods traffic alone have exceeded Rs. 20 per mile in some weeks since March.

80. That the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway is not actually working at a profit is due to the fact that the working expenses on an isolated line of 10·92 miles under a separate management is necessarily very high. The working expenses, according to the authorization roll for 1914-15 work up to about Rs. 36,200 and interest at 4% on a capital outlay of 3 lakhs amounts to Rs. 12,000. According to this calculation the average earnings per mile per week must rise to Rs. 85, before the line can become self-supporting. At the rate at which the earnings are improving, this standard does not seem incapable of attainment even under the present circumstances. But the working expenses per mile will be considerably reduced as soon as the Kolar-Chikballapur section is opened for traffic; and the earnings will go up at the same time. There is little doubt that when the whole loop from Bowringpet through Kolar and Chikballapur to Bangalore is in full working order, the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway will become a profitable concern. In the meantime, in consideration of the high working expenses over the short length, Government have agreed to work the line for a percentage of the gross earnings equal to the percentage of working expenses on gross receipts over the Mysore State Railways. This arrangement is to remain in force until the completion of the half year in which the extension between Kolar and Chikballapur shall have been opened for passenger traffic for 12 months or up to 30th June 1917 whichever is earlier. It may be mentioned that, with this concession, the District Board will have a return of about 6·8 per cent on its capital during the ensuing year.

81. Guaranteed and other Railways—Construction.—As foreshadowed in the speech of His Highness the Maharaja referred to above, the scheme of extension of the Bowringpet-Kolar line up to Chikballapur via Srinivaspur and Chintamani was earnestly taken up by Government and all stages previous to the commencement of construction have been completed. This Section will be 52·82 miles on 2′ 6″ gauge and the estimated cost is 14,90. This forms the second link of the Bowringpet-Kolar District Board Railway. The Board have been authorised to raise a debenture loan aggregating Rs. 4 lakhs for this link, the balance being found by the State and the whole concern from Bowringpet to Chikballapur forming a joint concern. The project is now before the Railway Board pending sanction. It is proposed to start construction work on receipt of sanction and complete it during the next official year. The working will be in the hands of Government for the present in conjunction with the Bangalore-Chikballapur Light Railway.

82. Of private enterprise in the matter of railway construction, the only instance so far is the Bangalore-Chikballapur Railway. I exclude from consideration in this connection the Shimoga-Kumsi Tramway, a 2 feet gauge line of about 30 miles constructed by the Mysore-Manganese Co., Ltd., and now owned by the Workington Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., as it is not open for the conveyance of passengers, though goods belonging to the general public are carried on it. Ever since the construction work of the Bangalore-Chikballapur line was placed by the Company in the hands of the State Railway Construction Department in March 1913, rapid progress has been made and it is hoped that the line will be ready for opening for goods traffic between Yelahanka and Davanhalli in a few weeks and for passenger traffic also on the same section by November. The section from Devanhalli to Chikballapur is expected to be open both for goods and passengers by January 1915. Work on the Bangalore to Yelahanka section on this line is of a complicated nature, as the existing metre gauge line is to be utilised by putting in a third rail between Yelahanka and Yesvantpur, and it is not possible to say exactly when this section will be open, so that trains from Chikballapur may run through to Bangalore.

The cost of construction and equipment of the full length of 37·95 miles on the 2′ 6″ gauge according to the sanctioned estimate is 13·73 lakhs but some saving is now expected on this estimate. This reduction in capital outlay and the certainty of early connection of the Chikballapur terminus with Kolar on the other side, remove all doubts about the financial success of this guaranteed line and the first local joint-stock railway enterprise may at last be regarded as being on a fair road to completion. The Bangalore-Kunigal Steam Tramway project, given up by the Bangalore District Board, is now again in the hands of the promoters who originally conceived the idea and their application is now receiving the attention of Government.

83. Miscellaneous.—When dealing with the changes in budget heads newly introduced I alluded to the elaboration of sub-heads under Railways. This has been rendered necessary on account of the variety of financial arrangements and interests in respect of the lines which are expected to be working within the State in a short time. In the first place we have the State lines worked by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company. Then we have in the Bowringpet-Kolar line a guaranteed District Board Railway which is worked by the State. In the Tarikere-Yedahalli Tramway we have a third kind, viz., a State concern worked by the State itself. The Bangalore-Chikballapur Railway, now approaching completion with a rapidity which atones to some extent for the slackness of the promotion stage, will present yet another variety of combination of financial interests, namely, a guaranteed company line worked by Government. It is needless to say that, to record the financial transactions connected with these various kinds of concerns with clearness, new heads are necessary in our accounts and such heads have accordingly been opened.

84. There is another matter connected with railway policy and railway finance of the State to which I may invite attention. During the current year a set of rules was framed and published specifying the concessions that the Government were prepared to sanction to promoters of light railways in the State. The main features of the concessions are a 30 years' guarantee of 4 per cent and providing all lands permanently or temporarily required free of charge. If a line works at a profit of over 4 per cent, half the profits in excess of that limit will go to the State. When a railway is constructed in a district which has an accumulated fund of railway cess imposed under clause 1 (a) of Section 20 of the Local Boards Regulation, all guarantee payments will be made out of such railway cess fund as far as available and the balance from State funds. Of course, in such a case, the share of surplus profits coming to the guarantor will be divided between the District Fund and the State funds in proportion to the contribution made by each.

EXPENDITURE.

85. Briefly analysed into heads suitable for purposes of study and comparison the expenditure figure of the budget stands as follows:—

Ordinary Account	255,20
Cavery Power Account	8,26
Special Capital Grants	95,17

I have already dealt with the Special capital grants aggregating 95, 17. The transactions of the Cauvery Power Scheme will be taken up in a separate section. For the present we shall concern ourselves with the provisions made in the ordinary account amounting to 255,20. The corresponding figure in the accounts for 1912-13 is 216,95 and in the revised estimates for the current year 229,34. When it is remembered that the figure for the current year includes a sum of about 3 lakhs on account of special miscellaneous expenditure, it will be seen that the standard of expenditure provided in the estimate for 1914-15 is about 29 lakhs higher than that in the revised estimates for 1913-14.

86. Of the thirteen groups A. to LL. into which the budget heads on the expenditure side are divided, this increase of 29 lakhs comes chiefly under four viz., D. Salaries and Expenses of Civil Departments, E. Miscellaneous Civil Charges and J. and K. Public Works. These alone account for an increase of 22·50 lakhs viz., Civil Departments 11·96 lakhs and Miscellaneous Civil Charges 4·30 lakhs and Public Works 6·24 lakhs. The other groups also show some fluctuations though to a smaller extent. I shall now rapidly take you through these heads explaining the more important fluctuations and noticing the special provisions made in respect of the several department.

DIRECT DEMANDS ON REVENUE.

87. The expenditure included in this group relates to refunds of revenue and charges in respect of collection. Under Refunds the disbursements are going down every year since 1911-12 owing to the settlement of outstanding claims in respect of Excise revenue, but some cases are still under consideration and the provision of

1,85 under Refunds and Drawbacks is still in excess of the normal amount. In respect of charges on account of Land Revenue, there is noticeable increase under District Administration on account of revision of the scale of pay of Taluk and District Establishments. In the Forest Department the charges are classified under two principal groups, viz., Conservancy and Works and Establishment and the scale of expenditure provided for each of these groups in the estimates for 1914-15 is much in advance of the revised estimates for 1913-14 (allowing for Khedda charges in the current year under Conservancy and Works, and the actuals of the previous years. Under Excise the increase in expenditure provided is under Superintendence and is small when compared to the magnitude of the revenue. The expenditure under Stamps and Registration shows only normal expansion corresponding to the increase of revenue from these sources.

MINING CHARGES AND INTEREST.

88. The provision for Charges Against Mining Revenue in the estimates for 1914-15 shows no decided fluctuation from the sanctioned scale of expenditure during the current year. Under Interest, provision has been made for larger balances expected to be at the credit of Savings Banks deposit accounts and of the State Life Insurance Fund as compared with the present balances. The amount of income-tax paid by the State on interests from investments amounted to over Rs. 12,000 per annum so recently as 1907-08 and the amount would have been much more in subsequent years with the rise in investments; but practically the whole of this loss has been avoided by adopting methods under which exemption from income-tax is secured in respect of the bulk of our investments.

CIVIL DEPARTMENTS.

89. Under the head General Administration, the budget provision for 1914-15 is about the same as the revised estimate for the current year. But this equality is only apparent, the figures for 1914-15 representing in reality a much higher standard of expenditure. The explanation of this is that while the figure for 1913-14 includes a sum of 3,72 for reception and entertainment of guests, that for 1914-15 includes a much lower grant under this sub-head, viz., 1,61. Of the several minor heads included in General Administration, there is increase under Economic Conference for provision relating to sericultural development and for itinerant lecturers; under Civil Secretariats for efficiency audit and record sorting establishment and for the staff attached to the Extraordinary Member of Council; and under Comptroller's office for provision for training promising young men in the higher branches of accountancy, banking and actuarial science. Under Courts of Law there is special provision for revision of pay of ministerial establishments in the Judicial department and for increase of remuneration to the Government Advocate. The grant under Jails contains extra provision for the pay of the foreman and assistant foreman newly sanctioned for the Jail Manufactory and reallotment of the grant for introducing khaki weaving and for manufacturing weights and measures in the Bangalore Central Jail. In the Police department, the higher provision for 1914-15 when compared with that of the previous year is due to the all round increase of pay sanctioned to the men of the police force during the current year and also to the inclusion of an additional grant of about 15 for improving the Police Training School by the appointment of a whole-time Superintendent in charge, by having hostels for the men under training and by other means.

EDUCATION.

90. The course of state expenditure classified under Education during the the last three years has been as follows:—

	Budget.	Actuals.
1911-12	11,79 ...	10,72 ...
1912-13	14,47 ...	11,47 ...
1913-14	16,09 ...	13,69 (Revised estimate)
1914-15	18,08 ...	...

A noticeable feature of this statement is the rise in actuals by about 3 lakhs or 27 per cent in a period of two years. The budget figures in the statement indeed show that the Government were prepared for increase of expenditure to a larger extent and at a faster rate. The view which Government take of expenditure on education was well expressed by His Highness the Yuvaraja when, on the occasion of opening the Educational Court in the last Dasara Exhibition, he observed in the course of his speech: "Money invested in education is the best of investments that a nation could make. Our future would largely depend upon this all important question of education."

91. One aspect of the Education portion of our budget which has evoked some criticism is the fact that in the last three years there have been considerable lapses. There is no doubt that lapses have been rather large; but those who are aware of the numerous difficulties in the way of rapid development in a matter like the spread of education will be disposed to take a lenient view of the matter. These difficulties are not insurmountable but, in the best circumstances, they take some time to solve; and that time counts from the stage when full financial provision is made and the work is taken up in right earnest. What generally happens is, that new schemes for which provision is made in the estimates of one year are not fully developed that year and a considerable portion of the grants in respect of them may lapse. But in the following year they are in full working order and provision in respect of them is fully utilised. As His Highness the Yuvaraja so aptly observed on the occasion referred to in the foregoing paragraph: "The question of education requires not only the investment of our monetary resources but also our hearts, brains and energies"; and it is a matter of common experience that these latter elements are called into effective activity only when the first is fully provided.

92. The grant of 18,08 for Education in the estimates of the ensuing year includes the following important items of special interest, the provision in each case being shown in round figures:—

Opening Public Libraries	59
Developing Mechanical Engineering School, Bangalore	33	(Besides in the P. W. Budget for extension of building).
Reorganization of Industrial Schools...	37
Building grants	22
Introducing compulsory education for boys in selected areas... ...	25
Revision of Normal Schools	50
Opening new Aided Schools	84
Revision of Girls' Schools at District Headquarters including Maharani's College	20
Revision of scale of pay of Vernacular Schoolmasters, addition to Inspectorate, clerical staff, etc.	1,03
For new Village School buildings	1,00

As some of these schemes may not come into full working order during the course of the year a lump sum reduction of 1,50 is made and a provision of 3,83 made in the budget for the foregoing items. This is calculated to make the actuals correspond more nearly to the budget provision for the major head as a whole.

93. The expenditure on Education from local funds and on educational buildings in the Public Works department must also be taken into account in arriving at the total expenditure on public instruction. To convey a correct idea on the subject of educational expenditure, this total is worked out in the subjoined statement. The figures in the fifth column are carefully calculated so as to prevent overlapping:—

Year	Village School Fund	Other Local Funds	Public Works expenditure on educational buildings	State expenditure as per para 90 but excluding grants to local funds	Total
1911-12	3,29	98	3,05	10,10	17,42
1912-13	4,16	86	2,45	10,80	18,27
1913-14 (Revised)	4,13	97	2,00	12,62	19,72
1914-15 (Budget)	4,40	97	1,27	16,91	23,55

AGRICULTURE.

94. As I have already observed, the Agricultural Department has developed from a minor into a major department during the course of this year. The following figures will show the correctness of this statement :—

Year	Expenditure in the Agricultural Department (in round thousands of rupees)
1910-1911	58
1911-1912	78
1912-1913	62
1913-1914 (Revised Estimate)	83
1914-1915 (Budget)	2,13

The large increase in the estimate for the ensuing year is due to the reorganisation of the department with full staff for scientific work in the chemical and biological sections, for the Agricultural school and for experimental farms. The special items included are :—

Establishing a Dairy and Breeding Station at Hebbal Farm	19
Establishing an experimental farm in the cotton zone	32
Establishing an experimental farm in the malnad	30
Special grants for implements, seed and manure	6
Travelling allowance to rural science supervisors	3

INDUSTRIES AND COMMERCE.

95. It was in July 1912 that the Government appointed a special officer as adviser on industrial and commercial matters. In February 1913 a regular department of Industries and Commerce was organized under a Director assisted by a staff of superintendents and assistant superintendents. The budget estimate of the department for the current year aggregated about 89 of which a sum of about 77 is likely to be utilized. For the ensuing year the budget estimates for this department aggregate 1,41. The more important new items included in this amount are :—

Purchase of a steam boiler with accessories for manufacturing high class jaggery	17
Developing weaving factory at Bangalore	19
Developing and working the three existing jaggery factories ...	37

MUZRAI, MEDICAL AND SCIENTIFIC DEPARTMENTS.

96. The scale of expenditure under Muzrai, consisting chiefly of grants to chattrams, temples, matts and Mahomedan institutions, provided for in the estimates under consideration, is just a little above the normal level. The slight rise is under Superintendence and in respect of the Ayurvedic College at Mysore. Under Medical, provision has been made for acquiring certain buildings for lodging the staff of the maternity at Robertsonpet as well as for extra establishment for that institution. Sanitation and vaccination has now been made into a separate major head and the allotment under this head including the plague charges grant of 50 comes to 1,62. Provision has been made in this department for reorganization of the Public Health Department, for training students in sanitary science and for more district sanitary officers. It has also to be noted that the greater part of the grant of three lakhs for village improvements and of one lakh for malnad improvements, provided under 26 Miscellaneous, is meant for works and measures likely to improve the sanitation of rural areas.

97. In the departments grouped under the major head Scientific and Minor departments there are several special grants. A provision of 24 has been included under Botanical and other public gardens for the improvement of the Cubbon Park in Bangalore and another sum of 30 for improvements to the Lal-Bagh at the same station. An additional provision of 10 has been made under Veterinary and Stallion charges for opening a few more veterinary dispensaries and entertaining additional mobile staff to cope with cattle disease. An allotment has been provided for printing a catalogue of the exhibits in the Government museum in Bangalore. A lump sum addition of 9 is made under Archæological department to meet the cost of a monograph on Chalukyan buildings, preliminary survey in connection with which has been made by a retired officer of the Archæolocal survey of the Government of India. The grant for the Co-operative Societies department is on a much higher scale than those of previous years, partly owing to a revision of the permanent establishment of the Registrar's office and partly to a larger provision being made on account of pay and travelling allowance of the extra temporary establishment sanctioned pro rata according to the number of co-operative societies existing at any time above a prescribed number.

MISCELLANEOUS.

98. The group head Miscellaneous civil charges consists of four major heads. Of these, the provision under Allowances and assignments under treaties and engagements is practically an unvarying item viz., about 72 for political pensions and about 13 for the Gumbuz and other establishments at Seringapatam. The expenditure under Superannuation allowances and pensions continues to expand and the provision for 1914-15 stands at 8,15 against 7,77 the budget and 7,90 the revised estimates for the current year. The grant under Stationery and printing has been kept at the normal figure of 2,10 in the hope that the measures that are being adopted by Government to keep down the volume of printing work in the several departments will be attended with some measure of success. Under the Major head Miscellaneous the most important sub-head is Contributions under which the provisions in the estimates for 1914-15 aggregate 7·30 as shown below:—

Village Improvement Scheme	3 lakhs.
Malnad Ditto	1 ,,
Mysore City Improvement Trust	2·72 ,,
Miscellaneous	·91 ,,
Total ...	7·63 ,,

A sum of 15 has also been provided under this head for distributing copies of His Highness the Maharaja's portrait to schools and Government offices.

MILITARY.

99. The estimates for the Military department provide for the full complement of officers and men in all the units, for the usual items of establishment and other charges and for enhanced grants for compensation for dearness of gram and ragi and for chenna rations on account of the high prices ruling in the market. A grant of 16 out of the current year's grant of 24 for purchasing rifles for the Barr regiment has been re-provided as also the allotments under Imperial Service Transport Corps for converting pony carts into bullock ones, for purchase of Amrut mahal bulls and for new iron and ambulance carts. An additional grant of 26 has also been provided for revising the pay of officers and men in the Barr infantry.

PUBLIC WORKS.

100. In the estimates for 1914-15 the state grant for public works has been fixed at 36 lakhs distributed as follows:—

Irrigation Major	6,01
Do Minor	3,19
Civil Works	25,85
Military Works	95
Total ...	36,00

Of the sum of 25,85 shown under Civil works, about half is for civil buildings and the remaining half for Communications and Miscellaneous public improvements. Analysed from another point of view, the provision of 36 lakhs stands thus:—

Original Works	18,42
Repairs	11,02
Establishment and Tools and Plant	6,56
Total ...	36,00

101. The following is a list of important public works for which allotments have been made in the budget for 1914-15; it is needless to add that the allotments constitute, in most cases, only a small portion of the estimated cost of each work:—

Projects and works.	Proposed allotment for 1914-15.
Irrigation—
Improving and extending south channel of Sriramadevara dam, Holenarsipur Taluk	15
Opening out left bank channel from the new Kadlur anikat, Hole-Narsipur Taluk	20
Constructing new tank across Maralwadi stream, Kankanhalli Taluk ...	50
Constructing new tanks, viz., across Kannadavathi river, Nelamangala Taluk; near Dodguli, Kankanhalli Taluk; near Kettuhalli, Closepet Sub-Taluk; near Nerlur Channapatana Taluk; near Gundamagere Dodballapur Taluk; at Rs. 10,000 each	50
Constructing new tanks, viz., across Vrishabavathi river, Channapatna Taluk; at Tippaganahalli, Goribidnur Taluk; at Nidasale, Kunigal Taluk; near Beval, Heggaddevankote Taluk; at Ambligola, Shimoga Taluk; and at Anjanpur or Kunnadavathi, Shimoga Taluk; at Rs. 20,000 each	1,20
Constructing a new tank across Markandeya stream near Rajamanahalli, Bowringpet Taluk	30
Constructing a new tank across the Vadli, Hunsur Taluk	25
Feeding the tanks in Tarikere from Naganna anikat, Tarikere Taluk ...	18
Buildings.—
In Bangalore—
Extending Public Office Buildings	1,50
Constructing Law Courts Buildings	1,00
Constructing quarters for the Professors of Central College	20
Constructing a new Girls' School at Chikpet	6

Constructing a General Record Office	5
Constructing a Vaccine Institute in Basavangudi	50
Constructing quarters for the Minto Hospital staff	10
Improvements to Central Jail	40
Extension of Revenue Survey Office and construction of Inam Superintendent's Office	5
Improving and extending Public Works Workshop	10
In Mysore—
Additions to Chamarajendra Technical Institute...	10
Constructing General Hospital	90
Constructing new Hindu Guests' Quarters	20
Constructing quarters for Representative Assembly members ...	18
Reconstruction works in the Palace	10
Constructing an office block to the new Palace	50
Improvements at the North Gate, Fort	43
Constructing residential block to the new Palace...	53
Constructing quarters for the Local Service Regiment	45
Buildings.—contd. At other places—
Constructing Taluk Cutcherries at Anekal, Sidlaghatta, Goribidnur, Chitaldrug, Sagar and Honnali	37
Constructing a High School at Hassan	8
Constructing quarters for Police constables at Robertsonpet and Nandidroog	22
Constructing Barr Line officers' quarters at Chikmagalur	20
Communications—
Constructing bridges on the 18th mile of Kadapa road	10
Constructing bridge across Northern Pennar river near Goribidnur ...	10
Widening the Thalaguppa Aralagode Bankole road	50
Widening the bridlepath from Kagurghat head to the provincial frontier at Happarige road	18
Miscellaneous Improvements—
Extensions, drainage and other improvements of the Bangalore City ...	1,62
Improvements to Vanivilas Water Works, Mysore	40
Constructing marble canopy over the statue of His Highness the late Maharaja of Mysore...	15

	Proposed allotment for 1914-15
Laying out the new extension of Davangere town	50
Drainage scheme for Harihar and Chikmagalur towns	30
Drainage of Imperial Service Lancers' Lines	7
Improvements to Nanjangud town	50

102. It will be seen that during the ensuing year the Department of Public Works will be responsible for expenditure to the extent indicated below :—

State grant under Public Works	36,00
Capital outlay, Kannambadi Reservoir proper	29,00
Do Subsidiary works ...	8,50
Irrigation Cess Fund	2,52
Total ...	76,02

Besides this, there will be the construction of village school buildings out of the grant of 1,50 provided in the State and Village School Funds budgets and works executed out of Municipal and Local Fund grants tranferred to the public works department. Taking these items on the basis of past actuals at about 5½ lakhs, the expenditure which the Public works department will have to control in 1914-15 may be put down at about 81½ lakhs.

Cauvery Power Scheme.

103. The total revenue expected from the Cauvery Power scheme during the year 1914-15 is 17,58 as shown below :—

Kolar section	14,30
Bangalore City section	1,61
Bangalore Civil and Military station	90
Mysore city	77
Total ...	17,58

In estimating this revenue, allowance has been made for the low receipts on account of May and June which are due early next year, owing to the shortage of water in the river under circumstances already explained. But for the necessity of such reduction, the estimate could have been placed at 19,00. During the ensuing year it is expected that about 1,000 H.P. more will be supplied to the Kolar mines and increase of revenue is also expected from supply of power to some mills and to the Electric tramways in Bangalore and also to the Cauvery Reservoir Works. Normal expansion of revenue from increased demand for power for lighting purposes is also expected in all the centres.

104. The ordinary expenditure aggregates 8,26, made up thus :—

Working expenses	4,44
Depreciation	2,95
Capital works on the open system	87
Total ...	8,26

The Depreciation Fund will amount to about 28,50 against a total capital outlay of 84,38 at the end of the current official year. The items of capital works on the open system provided for in the budget are :—

Name of work.	Allotment for 1914-15.
Constructing eight additional blocks of cooly lines at Sivasamudrum ...	12
Reconstructing second set of two operators' quarters at Sivasamudrum ...	9
Constructing a musafirkhana at Sivasamudrum	8
Constructing a Hospital at Sivasamudrum	15
Interior power and lighting, Bangalore City	15
Do Civil and Military station, Bangalore ...	18
Do Mysore city	10

105. The expenditure figures I have just mentioned refer only to the open system comprising the first three installations. The progress of work in connection with the fourth installation, now in course of erection, has already been referred to. By the end of this year an outlay of 8,88 will have been incurred on this work and the installation will be completed during the ensuing year. The capacity of Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer Power Station will then be approximately as follows :—

	Horse Power.
1st Installation	6,000
2nd Installation	5,000
3rd Installation	2,000
Due to improvement of Nozzles and runners	1,000
4th Installation	4,000
Total ...	18,000

In erecting the fourth installation, however, ground space has been provided for another unit of 2,000 horse power so that the capacity of the station can be easily raised to 20,000 horse power whenever such a course is considered desirable.

106. As the Cauvery Power Works are at the present time passing through an important stage of development—both by the additional installation and by the construction of the Kannambadi Reservoir which will effectively protect the works against a failure of water-supply—it may not be out of place here to indicate very briefly the most prominent land-marks in the history of this great commercial undertaking and give a summary of its financial results from the beginning. The deputation of a state officer in August 1899 to Europe and America for arranging for tenders for the supply of hydraulic and electric plant and for completing negotiations with the gold mining companies in London, marked the transition of the scheme from the region of speculation and discussion to the stage of practical action. The first installation, intended wholly for supplying power to the Gold Fields, was completed in July 1902 at a cost of about 42½ lakhs. The second installation, meant for supplying additional power to the Gold Fields and also for power and light to Bangalore, was finished in 1905 with the exception of the lighting installation for the Civil and Military station which was completed in December 1907. The total cost of this installation was about 19½ lakhs. The third installation, for supply of power partly to the Kolar Gold Fields and partly to Mysore city, was completed in 1908 at a cost of about 15½ lakhs. The total capital expenditure up to June 1913 was about 83,47. The gross revenue from the scheme in 11 years from 1902-03 to the end of 1912-13 was 173,60. Deducting from this, working expenses amounting to 31,85, depreciation charges aggregating 25,58, and interest on capital at 4 per cent coming up to 29,27, the net result works out to a profit of 86,90.

Local Funds.

107. The subject of Local Fund finance is one of great importance. Financially, when revenue derived from special sources is devoted to special objects and not to the general purposes of the administration, the revenue so devoted forms a Local Fund. But from the administrative point of view a Local Fund has another important aspect. It is generally recognised that Local Funds go along with local self-government; and those who contribute to the revenues of a Local Fund may claim to have a voice, through duly elected representatives, in the management of such funds. The system of Local Fund finance in Mysore has got rather antiquated from this as well as from other standpoints. The expenditure of some of these funds, for example the Village school fund, has risen in late years to a level far above the standard of revenue allotted to it and radical changes have become necessary to secure equilibrium. The subject was discussed by the Economic conference in June 1913 and in accordance with a resolution sent up by that body the Government appointed, in May 1914, a special committee of the conference to consider the whole subject of local fund finance and submit practical recommendations. The committee appointed by Government to suggest reforms in the management and allotment of money in respect of the Irrigation cess fund have also submitted their report and orders of Government, introducing satisfactory changes in this direction, may be shortly expected.

108. The several Local Funds materially supplement the state fund expenditure in many directions, specially under Public works, Education, Sanitation and Medical relief. The following statement shows the opening and closing balances with the estimated receipts and expenditure of these funds during the year 1914-15. The figures for the ensuing year are those proposed by the local bodies and have not yet been sanctioned by Government.

Name of fund	Estimated balance on 1st July 1914	Estimated receipts, 1914-15	Total	Estimated expenditure for 1914-15	Estimated balance on 30th June 1915
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1. Local Funds, General ...	2,72,611	1,86,320	4,58,931	1,84,900	2,74,031
2. District Funds ...	5,17,004	8,66,167	13,83,171	11,35,479	2,47,692
3. Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board Funds ...	63,662	75,180	1,38,842	1,07,011	31,831
Total 2 and 3 ...	5,80,666	9,41,347	15,22,013	12,42,490	2,79,523
4. Irrigation Cess Funds ...	1,34,052	2,61,980	3,96,032	2,52,520	1,43,512
5. Village School Funds ...	−24,906	3,84,646	3,59,740	4,40,205	−80,465
6. Municipal Funds ...	9,21,019	11,74,093	20,95,112	13,90,617	7,04,495
Total ...	18,83,442	29,48,386	48,31,828	35,10,732	13,21,096

109. The total estimated expenditure from the several funds enumerated above amounts to 35,11. Of this, roughly speaking 12,69 or 36 per cent is for public works, 4,91 for education, 3,70 for sanitation and 1,97 for medical relief. It has to be mentioned, however, that the State budget and the Local Fund budgets overlap each other to some extent. About 93 of the expenditure of Local Funds on medical relief is shown in the State Budget as contribution receipts under XV Medical and about 2,17 out of the State expenditure under 18 Education is shown as a receipt in the budget of the village school fund. Such contribution items have to be allowed for in calculating the total expenditure in any department in both the State and the Local Fund budgets taken together.

110. The estimated expenditure during the current year, under the two main heads of Local Funds, viz., District Funds and Municipal Funds exceeds the estimated income and is due to provision being made for incomplete public works out of the opening balance of these funds. Both under income and expenditure, the budget figures of these funds show a distinct advance over the corresponding figures of the last year. The increase of revenue under Municipal Funds is mainly due to the regrant of the registration and surcharge fees on arrack shops in the Bangalore and Mysore cities amounting to about 25, in accordance with the Government order of October 1913, and to the large demand for building sites in the town of Davangere the income from the sale proceeds of which is estimated at 60. The increase under expenditure is due to the special provision made for the water-supply and drainage scheme in that town.

111. As regards District Funds, the increase under revenue is general in all the districts while a special item of 25 has been included in the Kolar district on account of the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway earnings. The increase of expenditure of 2,47 over the budget figure of last year is due to large provision under public works being made in all the districts corresponding to the increase of revenue, and also to a special provision on account of working expenses, etc., of the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway.

112. One noticeable feature of the Local Fund transactions during the current year is that some of the local bodies have arranged to invest their surplus funds in the Mysore Government securities and in deposits in the newly constituted Mysore

Bank. The Bangalore City Municipal Council has been permitted to lodge even its ordinary cash balance in that bank under certain conditions and conduct its cash transactions through it.

Debt Head Transactions.

113. Besides the receipts and disbursements appertaining to the various service heads, a large volume of transactions under debt heads takes place in our treasuries. Thus while the real revenue and expenditure of Government during the year 1914-15 are expected to be 284,92 and 358,63 respectively as already stated, the volume of transactions including debt heads in our treasuries is expected to be well above 10 crores. These debt head transactions, though they do not affect the net assets of Government after allowing for all liabilities, determine to a great extent the amount of ready cash with Government. In some years the debt head transactions bring in a large amount of cash to our treasuries with, of course, a corresponding increase in liabilities; while in other years they may result in a large outgoing of cash, the liabilities of Government being correspondingly reduced. During the year 1914-15 the debt head transactions are expected to result in a net receipt of 45,02 contributed to the extent noted below by each group head :—

	Net receipts + out goings −
Unfunded debt	+ 4,35
Permanent debt	− 10
Deposits and advances	+ 5,29
Advances and Loans	− 46
Guaranteed Railways	+ 4
Net inflow of cash under ordinary debt heads	+ 9,12
Temporary investments	+35,90
Total ...	+45,02

114. Under Unfunded debt, the most important heads are the State Life Insurance fund and Savings Bank deposits, the transactions under each of which are expected to result in an inflow of cash to the extent of about two lakhs. In respect of Permanent debt an outgoing of 10 is expected as some papers relating to the old debenture loan of 1882 may come up for discharge. In the group Deposits and Advances are recorded the transactions of the various special funds such as the Famine Insurance Fund, the State Loan Sinking Fund, Cauvery Power Scheme Depreciation Fund, etc., and also those of all local funds and other bodies which have only a deposit or drawing account with our treasuries. The estimated net result of the numerous transactions under this head is an inflow of cash to our treasuries to the extent of 5,29. Under Advances and Loans and Guaranteed Railways the net results are expected to be a small inflow in the former case and a small out-going in the other. Temporary investments show a positive result of 35,90 which means that such investments are expected to be converted into cash to this extent during the ensuing year.

Ways and Means.

115. The ways and means arrangements for the ensuing year will be as shown below :—

Estimated opening cash balance on 1st July 1914	100,19
Add surplus under service heads	21,46
Add net inflow of cash under ordinary debt heads	9,12
Realization of temporary investment	35,90
Total ...	166,67
Deduct capital outlay on large productive works	95,17
Estimated closing balance on 1st July 1915	71,50

It is thus seen that realization of temporary investments to the extent of 35,90 only is likely to be required during the year. Such investments of the State at the beginning of the ensuing year amount to over 65 lakhs, so that the question of ways and means does not present any difficulty.

General Financial Situation.

116. It will be seen that the budget for 1914-15, providing for a surplus of 21,46 after a very liberal provision under all the service heads, indicates a satisfactory financial situation. Even if a deduction of about 12 lakhs be made from this figure, on account of arrears of revenue of the Bangalore Assigned Tract included on the receipt side, the position is one of fair surplus. When it is remembered that this result is arrived at on the basis of a decidedly cautious estimate under some of the important heads of revenue such as Forest, Excise, Railway and Cauvery Power Scheme, and after setting apart usual appropriations aggregating 3,33 towards famine insurance and the State Loan Sinking Fund, no room for doubt is left as regards the soundness of the financial situation and about the general prosperity of the State.

CONCLUSION.

117. Sir, I have now finished my explanation of the budget and I shall conclude with a few observations in hopeful anticipation of the discussion which, with your permission, we are to have on Tuesday the 7th July 1914. I knew a very learned Pundit in Mysore, hailing from the side of Chamrajnagar—a man of the good old moving library type which is fast disappearing—who wrote a most meritorious book in Sanskrit poetry and added a verse at the end of it containing an admirable sentiment. He said, "Those who read my book, appreciate the trouble I have bestowed on it and praise it, to them namaskara; to those who read my work carefully and criticise it and expose its defects and deficiencies, to them also namaskara; but those who simply take my book and put it aside in apathy and indifference—well, I do not want even to hear their names and see their faces." Sir, in this distinguished assembly I cannot be as blunt in my expression as the revered Pundit, but it would be an affectation to deny that my sentiments on this occasion are somewhat similar. We welcome fair and candid criticism; whether the critics' views agree with or differ from ours will not affect the cordiality of such welcome. We want financial questions to be looked at from all possible angles of vision; we want the current of public opinion to illuminate the path of our financial policy and lend power and energy to our financial operations and activities. It was only the other day that the highest authority on public finance in India remarked that it is impossible to produce a budget which will satisfy all in all its details; in a field so vast and with so many points of contact with varied interests as public finance, there must always be room for considerable difference of opinion. All that we can do is to discuss points that arise in a frank and friendly spirit; and we may consider ourselves amply rewarded if, as the result of such frank discussion, we can feel that, each of us, according to his light and abilities, has done his best to secure the object which we all have in view. That object, I need hardly add, is to lay out the financial programme for the year so as to ensure the greatest good to the greatest number of people of this country. And this, in our case, is identical and synonymous with the best service done to him who is so keenly solicitous of the welfare of the millions entrusted to his charge—the Gracious Sovereign who inspires our thoughts and guides our actions with such loving interest, His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

The meeting then terminated.

By Order,
S. P. RAJAGOPALACHARI,
Secretary, Mysore Legislative Council.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

No. R. 6058-6107—L. R. 430-13-1, DATED BANGALORE, 6TH FEBRUARY 1914.

ORDER.—Nine-tenths of the population of the State reside in villages and, when the agricultural operations are slack, people in rural areas suffer from want of employment for many months in the year, particularly during years of deficient rainfall or scarcity. It is therefore considered important that a beginning should be made to stimulate economic and other activities in rural areas in order to provide subsidiary occupations and increase production and the earning power of the people.

2. After discussion with officers of Government and a large number of Representative Assembly Members and others, a form has been prepared showing the essential statistics to be collected to enable the people of a village to take stock of their progress from year to year. This form is now printed and issued for use and arrangements will be made to collect the statistics for the year 1913-14 and submit the form duly completed in July next.

3. Detailed instructions for compiling the statistics are given on the face of the form. The information needed to fill in the columns will be collected by the village agency, which will be referred to infra, before the end of June in each year and the form duly completed will be submitted from each village to the Taluk Progress Committee concerned or, where there is no such Committee, to the Amildar of the taluk, by the 15th of July. The figures will then be compiled by hoblis for each taluk by the Progress Committee or the Amildar, as the case may be, and submitted to the Deputy Commissioner before the end of July. The statistics for the whole district will be compiled in the Deputy Commissioner's Office and sent to the Revenue Commissioner by the end of August, who will prepare a consolidated return for the whole State and submit the same to Government in the Departments of Education and Agriculture by the end of September. The return will then be briefly reviewed by Government.

4. The form is intended merely to record progress from year to year. But it is essential that there should be in each village or a group of villages, an agency who will prepare a programme of the special measures of improvement necessary and hold themselves responsible for giving effect to the programme.

5. The following are some of the principal matters which require the attention of the village agency :—

(1) Improvement of education, including the education of adults and instruction in some industry or industries subsidiary to agriculture.

Spreading enlightenment by means of newspapers, lectures, demonstration, etc.

(2) Increasing production and occupations by improved methods of cultivation and irrigation and by encouraging rural industries and trade with a view to enable the people to earn more and live better.

(3) Improvement of village sanitation by keeping the village clean, and free from uneven surfaces and hollows, and by providing good water-supply and drainage.

(4) Improvement by co-operative effort in respect of—

(a) repairs to, and maintenance of, irrigation tanks and channels, cart-tracks and village school houses, temples, mosques, etc;

(b) providing facilities to travellers;

(c) establishment of co-operative societies for supplying capital, for agricultural and industrial undertakings, for disposal of produce and other objects;

(d) supply of fodder, fuel and other requirements of village life.

(5) All other objects calculated to increase production in the village and add to the comfort of the people.

(6) Collecting funds and expending the same judiciously for all these objects

6. In villages which have already been constituted into Unions and for which Panchayets have been appointed, a small committee of not less than three and not more than five members will be elected by the Panchayet to attend to the work of village improvement. In other villages containing not less than 300 inhabitants, the people of the villages should be induced to appoint a committee consisting of a sufficient number of members, preferably by election, for the same purpose. Smaller villages, that is, villages having less than 300 inhabitants, should be grouped together and a single committee appointed jointly for the group which should not exceed six villages in number. In the latter case, the meetings of the committee and the people may take place in the principal village of the group, or in each village by turns.

In places where it is difficult to form such committees, the local officers concerned should endeavour to carry out the objects of the scheme by the aid of honorary workers and collect statistics required through the village officers.

The committee will usually be appointed for one year at a time and no member should be retained on it unless he continues to render useful service.

7. Wherever there is sufficient enterprise in a village or group of villages, an endeavour should be made by the village agency to induce the villagers to give one-half day in a week, for work connected with the improvement of the village, such as cleaning and improving the village site, constructing and repairing village tracks, levelling roads, filling holes and hollows, providing or improving water-supply and drainage, repairing tank embankments and irrigation channels and other similar works of general utility.

Every family in a village may be induced to contribute one adult worker and those which are not accustomed to manual work may be induced to give for the one half day in the week the services of a hired labourer, or contribute, in lieu, an anna or two at their option.

Again, on some one evening every week, all the leading villagers and communities might assemble in the village Chavdi, or at any other convenient place of meeting. At the meeting, a few rules on sanitation and other matters conducive to their well-being might be recited by any one of the members who is able to read, after which extracts from the week's newspapers might be read and perhaps also from religious texts like the Ramayana or the Khoran. The meeting may be followed, wherever possible, by some wholesome recreation or amusement.

People should be taught the dignity of labour. They should also be taught to esteem it a special honour to be called upon by the leaders to co-operate in carrying out works of public utility in the village.

It should be possible to get the residents of half a dozen important villages in each taluk at once to agree to such weekly co-operative work and meetings. If the scheme is worked with success in some villages, other villages are likely to follow their example and in this way a useful system of co-operative village enterprise may be gradually brought into existence.

8. Most of the works needed to improve villages can be carried out at little cost if the villagers concerned learn to co-operate and provide for their common wants.

9. A programme of all works of local improvement which may be carried out by the villagers themselves during the next five years should be maintained and the works to be taken up for each year should be selected before the beginning of the year, by the committee or other agency concerned.

10. As regards improvements which involve the employment of outside agency, such as sinking drinking water wells, execution of masonry drains and constructing buildings, school houses, etc., Government will be prepared to sanction one-half of the amount locally raised towards objects approved by them.

A sum of Rs. 2 lakhs will be provided annually in the Budget for sanctioning grants in aid of such works, chiefly in villages which are not Unions and as such have no funds at their disposal to spend. This will be exclusive of the Budget provision for the restoration of minor tanks which is being dealt with as an independent scheme.

The amount will be treated as contribution from State Funds to Local Funds. Separate orders will issue as to the amounts to be allotted to each of the eight districts and the manner in which the grant will be made available for expenditure on village works.

11. The Revenue Officers will be requested to prepare lists of villages in which committees have been formed to carry on the work of village improvement and for collection of statistics and also of those in which the villagers are willing to set apart half a day in the week for work of communal benefit and devote a few hours one evening in the week for deriving knowledge and instruction. These lists may be prepared and sent up to Government by the Deputy Commissioners through the Revenue Commissioner not later than the end of April next. The lists will be printed separately for each district.

12. The forms will be printed in the Government Press and copies supplied free of cost on application to the Deputy Commissioner.

13. Besides the District authorities in the Revenue and other Departments, the Secretary to the Economic Conference, the Secretaries to the Central Committees, the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and his staff, and the officers of the Medical and Sanitary Departments, will, during their tours, get into communication with these village improvement agencies and endeavour by advice, assistance and encouragement, to stimulate their activities and maintain their interest in the work undertaken by them. Shanbhogs and Patels should be directed to give every facility for the collection of the statistics from the village accounts and in other ways.

14. Reference should be made in the Revenue Administration Report in future years describing briefly the progress made in developing the scheme in each district.

DISTRICT REPORTS.

8. Markets how supplied.
9. Progress of agricultural operations, state of standing crops, prospects and probable outturn of harvests, serious damage done to crops by insects or other natural calamities.
10. Prospects of season, tracts in which the rainfall has been insufficient, areas affected by scarcity, number of people under relief, and state of food stocks.
11. Public health.
12. Remarks as to the condition of agricultural stock; failure of pasturage, of fodder, etc.

BANGALORE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION.

		Average for the past five years of the corresponding week.	Current.
Prices of food grains—	Boiled rice, 2nd sort	7·35	6·90	Quantity per rupee by the standard seer of 80 tolas.
	Ragi ...	13·68	12·37
	Rangoon rice, 2nd sort ...		7·47

Agricultural operations.—Raiyats are collecting manure.

Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficiently available.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—The milling of sugar cane is reported to be going on in parts of all the taluks. Sugar cane is being planted in parts of the Nelamangala, Kankanhalli and Magadi Taluks. Ploughing operations in parts of the Jadigenahalli hobli of the Hoskote Taluk and carting of manure to fields in parts of the Bangalore, Dodballapur, Nelamangala, Magadi, Anekal and Devanhalli Taluks are also reported.

State of standing crops.—Vaisakhi paddy and sugar cane are reported to be in fair condition in parts of the Dodballapur, Kankanhalli, Channapatna and Anekal Taluks.

Outturn of the harvested crops.—Sugar cane—Bangalore, 6 to 8 annas; Hoskote, 8 annas; Dodballapur, 4 to 12 annas; Nelamangala, 8 to 16 annas; Kankanhalli, 12 annas; Magadi, 4 to 8 annas, and Anekal 8 annas.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stocks are available. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. Except for plague in Hoskote Kasba, Siddapur and Jaraganahalli villages of the Bangalore Taluk and Byrapur of the Dodballapur Taluk, and small-pox in Magadi Kasba, public health is generally good.

12. Except for "foot and mouth" disease broken out among cattle in the Tavarekere and Madabal hoblis of the Magadi Taluk, cattle are healthy. Water and fodder are available. In parts of the Nelamangala and Devanhalli Taluks drinking water for cattle is being supplied from draw wells.

KOLAR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed in almost all the taluks.

Crops sown.—Sugar cane in the Mulbagal, Goribidnur and Srinivaspur Taluks and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk.

Crops harvested and their probable outturn.—Sugar cane in the Bowringpet, Chintamani, Mulbagal, Sidlaghatta and Malur Taluks, yield 8 to 12 annas; and jola and turmeric in the Goribidnur Taluk, yield 12 annas.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane in the Chikballapur and Srinivaspur Taluks and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk is in good condition.

10. Prospects of the season are good. Food stuffs are available. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. Except for a few cases of plague in the Kolar Taluk and Kolar Gold Fields and for cholera in the Chintamani, Bagepalli and Goribidnur Taluks, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are healthy. Pasture and fodder are available.

TUMKUR.

DISTRICT REPORTS.

8. Markets how supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations, state of standing crops, prospects and probable outturn of harvests, serious damage done to crops by insects or other natural calamities.

10. Prospects of season, tracts in which the rainfall has been insufficient, areas affected by scarcity, number of people under relief, and state of food stocks.

11. Public health.

12. Remarks as to the condition of agricultural stock; failure of pasturage, of fodder, etc.

BANGALORE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION.

		Average for the past five years of the corresponding week.	Current.
Prices of food grains—	Boiled rice, 2nd sort	7·30	6·90	Quantity per rupee by the standard seer of 80 tolas.
	Ragi ...	14·23	12·37
	Rangoon rice, 2nd sort ...		7·47

Agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed.

Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficiently available.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—Carting manure to the fields and ploughing them is going on throughout the district facilitated by the recent rains.

Crops harvested.—Sugar cane in Hoskote and Anekal Taluks, is reported to yield 8 annas; so also Vaisakhi paddy in Kankanhalli and Anekal Taluks. The standing crops, sugar cane and Vaisakhi paddy are in good condition.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stocks are sufficiently available. Labour is available to cooly classes. It is reported by the Amildar of Kankanhalli that the stock of food stuffs with the raiyats in and near Madenahalli village is running short.

11. Except for small-pox in some parts of Hoskote and Magadi Taluks, measles and plague in parts of Hoskote Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. It is reported that in some parts of Hoskote and Magadi Taluks cattle are suffering from "Foot and mouth" disease. This disease is reported to be subsiding in Anekal Taluk and also in Kankanhalli Taluk along with Chappe Roga. Otherwise, cattle are reported to be healthy. Water and fodder are sufficiently available. In parts of Nelamangala and Kankanhalli Taluks, water is supplied to the cattle from draw-wells.

4. All articles of indigenous growth or manufacture and natural or agricultural products from all parts of India will be admitted to the Exhibition.

5. Intending exhibitors are requested to apply to the Secretary of the Exhibition Committee before the 18th May 1914. In this application they must give full particulars of their exhibits and the group, etc., under which they fall. Information whether covered or open space required should also be furnished.

6. Exhibits will be received every day from the 2nd June 1914 till two days before the commencement of the Exhibition. But perishable articles will be received up to 6 P.M. on the day preceding the opening of the Exhibition.

7. Exhibits which could be sent in parcels should be sent in packages, the charges being always borne by the exhibitors. All exhibits should be accompanied with a list in duplicate giving the description of the exhibits, the name of the exhibitor and the price if for sale. In the case of agricultural produce, full particulars about their cultivation should also be furnished.

8. The Exhibition authorities will provide ordinary stalls for the display of the exhibits. But any arrangement, requiring construction should be carried out by the exhibitors at their own cost, but in accordance with the plans approved of by the Exhibition authorities. The Exhibition authorities will as far as possible, make arrangements for the above, provided, that application for it is made in time and the estimated costs are paid in advance.

9. The Exhibition authorities, will guard the premises of the Exhibition and will afford facilities as far as possible to the exhibitors in connection with the transport, display, preservation and sale of their exhibits. They do not, however, hold themselves responsible for any damage or loss that may occur.

10. Medals, money prizes or certificates of merit will be awarded to the exhibits according to the decision of the judges. Rich and well known firms who want distinction and praise rather than any pecuniary help will be granted a certificate stating that their exhibits have been awarded a gold or silver medal or some other kind of distinction.

11. Exhibits may be sold with the permission of the Secretary during the Exhibition, but they shall not be removed till after the close of the Exhibition.

12. Exhibits must be removed within four days after the close of the Exhibition after which period they will be removed and kept at the risk and expense of the exhibitor. Any exhibit not claimed and removed within seven days after the close of the Exhibition will be sold, and the proceeds disposed of at the discretion of the Exhibition authorities. Exhibitors may arrange with the Secretary for the return of their goods on payment, in advance of the estimated costs and charges.

13. Admission to the Exhibition grounds shall be only by tickets which will be sold at rates to be fixed hereafter.

14. The Secretary may remove from the Exhibition grounds the exhibits of any exhibitor who does not comply with the rules.

15. Arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in ploughing, weaving, pottery work, carving and metal work. The conditions of the competition will be announced later on. Unless there be at least three competitors for each event the Committee have full power to withhold such competitions. Intending competitors are requested to apply to the Secretary not later than the 30th of May 1914.

16. Messrs. Kannampallil Omminy Pillai, C. S. Subramoniyan Potti, B. A., K. V. Padmanabha Pillai and several others have promised to place at the disposal of the Exhibition Committee, special gold medals to be awarded to articles of excellent workmanship or of practical utility whose production in India deserves encouragement.

17. With a view to popularise the cultivation of new crops and the use of improved agricultural implements in Travancore, Dr. N. Kunjen Pillai, Director of Agriculture, Travancore, has promised to award three special prizes. The conditions of the award will be published later on.

18. A special section has been opened for ladies this year also. This section will be placed under the special supervision of Miss E. C. Carrapiett, M.A., L.T., Inspectress of Girls' Schools, Travancore. Mrs. C. Raman Thampi, and some other ladies have promised to award special prizes for exhibits in this section. The conditions of the award will be published later on. The first aim of this section is to bring into touch with each other, women, who, having themselves learnt the value of new occupations, and interests, are anxious to hand on this knowledge to others. All ladies are earnestly requested to help the Exhibition Committee with exhibits and otherwise so as to make this section a success.

19. With a view to increase the educative value of the Exhibition, qualified men will be requested to deliver useful lectures, with demonstrations, if possible, on agricultural and industrial subjects during the Exhibition.

20. The Committee will thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of agriculture or industry.

PROSPECTUS OF THE DASARA INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION OF 1914.

Introductory.—WITH the sanction of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore the Committee issue the following Prospectus in connection with the Exhibition of 1914.

2. Opening of the Exhibition.—This year the Exhibition opens on or about the 21st of September 1914 and will continue till the 5th October 1914, both days inclusive. The Cattle (local) and Poultry Shows and Weaving Competition will begin on Thursday the 1st of October 1914 and close on Saturday the 3rd.

The Wood Carving and Metal Work Competitions will begin on the 21st of September 1914 and continue till the 1st of October 1914. The Potters' and Ploughing Competitions commence on the 2nd and 3rd October 1914, respectively.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale, will also be admitted.

4. Sale rooms and sale of exhibits.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale, will have to be kept in separate stalls and in charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits; but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the Show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass, which will be issued by the Cash Accountant on production of a cash bill or sale memo as the case may be.

Those who desire special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee at least two weeks before the opening of the Exhibition.

5. Lectures.—Written notes on subjects connected with Agriculture, Industry and Commerce will be thankfully received and printed in book forms for distribution at the Exhibition.

Demonstrations.—Arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and Pottery work, Carving and Metal work. The exact time of demonstrations will be announced later on by hand bills and notices, unless there be at least three competitors for each event, the Committee have full power to withhold such competitions.

6. Donations.—The Committee will thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of agriculture or industry.

7. Classification of exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the prize list subjoined to the Prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

8. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts of the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various Agricultural Departments and Associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

9. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

10. Admission fees for visitors.—An admission fee of annas two per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition Buildings. Season Tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. Return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate which will also admit the holder to the Exhibition for the whole period, will be arranged for.

11. Classification of exhibits in the Women's Section formerly published under class II of the Industrial Section has now been compactly arranged in a syllabus under the Ladies' Committee and published. A classified list of Exhibits in the Educational Section has also been appended hereto.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Noxious articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars regarding the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee, particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up, in the necessary entry form appended to this Prospectus. Forms may also be obtained from the District, Divisional and Taluk Offices or from the Secretary to the Committee; plain paper of foolscap size, may also be used, provided, all the headings in the form are properly copied and filled up and separate sheets should be used for each section.

3. Application from exhibitors.—Applications should reach the Secretary not later than 25th of August 1914. Each individual application, either from outside or inside the State, should contain a post card with the full address of the exhibitor and the receipt of the application will be communicated by returning the card duly signed.

4. Lists from taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of Districts with the District Committee, Sub-Divisional Officers and Amildars of Taluks, are requested to convene, as early as possible, a meeting of the leading artizans, raiyats and merchants residing within their respective charges, to explain to them fully the object and the scope of the Exhibition, to carefully acquaint them with the rules and regulations, drawing particular attention to such paras as 2, 3, 10, etc., to send to this office for information, copies of proceedings of District and Taluk Committee Meetings, to distribute to them forms of applications, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors and to compile and forward them to the Secretary.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The prospectus will show the nature of articles which can compete at the Exhibition. Articles not specially enumerated in this prospectus may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or for space given to display exhibits.

7. Acceptance of exhibits.—The Committee reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance or rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space covered or uncovered.

8. Delivery of exhibits.—Articles intended for the Exhibition may be brought by the exhibitor or his agent or servant and delivered at the Exhibition grounds or sent by post or railway and all Taluk and District Exhibits should be sent through the Deputy Commissioners of Districts so as to reach the Exhibition by the 5th of September 1914. A consolidated list of District Exhibits and Exhibitors in duplicate should accompany the consignment one of which will be checked, receipted and returned by the Secretary.

9. Payment of freight and transport charges.—No exhibits in respect of which the necessary freight or transport charges have not been paid by the exhibitor will be accepted by the Committee, nor can the money be received from the exhibitors, for payment towards clearance of goods booked "To Pay."

10. List of particulars.—All packages received or delivered and all implements and machinery intended for the Exhibition must bear a label specifying name and number of exhibits and the registered number of the exhibitor and must be addressed to the Secretary. They must contain a list in duplicate showing the name or description of the article, its price, the place of production or manufacture, name of the manufacturer or exhibitor; in the case of exhibits in the agricultural section, essential particulars should be given, such as—

1. The season of sowing.
2. The soil on which they are grown.
3. The quantity of seed per acre.
4. The manure used.
5. Whether any irrigation is required.
6. The time required for the maturing of the crop.
7. The average yield per acre.
8. Any other interesting details regarding cultivation.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes in the previous Mysore Exhibitions shall be precluded from competing for prizes, though there is no objection to their being accepted for purposes of show or sale.

12. Date of delivery of the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send the exhibits so as to reach Mysore on the 30th of August 1914, from which date the Committee will arrange to take charge of exhibits, and no exhibits should arrive later than the 5th of September 1914.

13. Belated exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed, may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to the date in para 12; but they shall not find an entry in the official Hand-book if the exhibitors fail to furnish at least the accurate lists of exhibits within the prescribed time.

14. Valuable exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must invariably be forwarded and kept under the charge of an attender.

15. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or send their agents in charge of exhibits other than those mentioned in the above rule, may make special arrangements with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment of the estimated expense, but in the meanwhile a minimum sum of Rs. 5 be sent in advance for meeting the expenses connected therewith.

16. Responsibility of exhibitors.—The reception, fitting and removal of spacious and heavy exhibits must be personally supervised in the Exhibition either by the exhibitors or their agents. In default the exhibitor will be bound by the action the Committee may take in respect of such articles.

17. Committee accept no responsibility.—No responsibility for damages or loss whosoever occurring will be accepted by the Committee in respect of any exhibits.

18. Special facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any process of manufacture or the working of any implement or machinery and, if so, to state briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require for mounting their machinery.

The Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the exhibitors' expense. The expenses for any special facilities sought for demonstrating machinery and implements, should be borne by the exhibitor, except where special arrangements have been made by the Committee.

19. Weighing of exhibits.—The Committee entrust the work of receiving the exhibits to responsible officials. But as the goods are landed near the Exhibition grounds by special arrangements, it is not possible to weigh every consignment before taking delivery of it. So the exhibitors are requested to take every precaution in packing their exhibits and to send to the Committee in time, an accurate list of exhibits sent by them. Exhibitors who wish that their consignment should be weighed at the Railway Station before delivery, should intimate their wish to the Secretary in time and remit in advance a special fee of one rupee on each consignment to be thus weighed.

20. Acknowledgment of exhibits.—Receipt of exhibits will be acknowledged by return of the duplicate list mentioned in para 10 to the exhibitors, duly signed by the Secretary. No other kind of receipt or acknowledgment shall be sent.

21. Free pass to exhibitors.—In cases in which the owners themselves are in charge of exhibits, the necessary free pass will be given. Exhibitors and such assistants, servants, or other attendants as they may require for service in their stalls, shall enter the Exhibition Grounds through such entrance or entrances as the Committee may direct; they must wear badges, discs or hold passes issued to them before the opening of the Exhibition. All such assistants, servants or other attendants must obey the orders of the Committee and of supervising staff appointed by them.

22. Free admission to bona-fide raiyats and artizans.—Raiyats and artizans unable to pay fees, belonging to the Mysore State or from outside, who produce certificates of identification signed by their respective Taluk Officers in Form B appended to this prospectus, will be admitted free.

23. Space for articles on sale.—Accommodation for articles to be sold by owners will be provided in the sale rooms erected within the Exhibition grounds, as far as possible, and the following rent will be charged for special accommodation. Sellers may have temporary booths put up at their own cost in the Exhibition grounds by previous arrangements with the Committee :—

1. Full stall 21′ by 10½′ Rs. 15
2. Half stall „ 8
3. Quarter stall „ 5

No refund will be given to an exhibitor who occupies less space than that allotted and paid for and the unoccupied space will be disposed of by the Committee in the way it deems best.

No exhibitor shall assign, transfer sublet or part with the possession of any site or building or portion thereof allotted to him or dispose of any part or interest therein or place therein any other than his own duly approved exhibits. Any breach of this rule renders the exhibitor liable to have his exhibits removed summarily from the Exhibition and he shall not be entitled to any compensation.

24. Commission.—A commission of six pies in the rupee will be charged on the sales conducted in the sale rooms by the exhibitors themselves or by their agents.

25. Exhibits for sale.—Exhibits labelled "for sale" will be sold during the time the Exhibition lasts; but no article will be removed till the close of the Exhibition.

26. Commission sales.—A commission of half an anna in the rupee will be levied on all articles sold in the Exhibition stalls and grounds through the salesmen appointed by the Exhibition authorities. In this case the money will be received and remitted to the exhibitor by the Exhibition office.

27. Opening of Stalls.—All buildings erected by Exhibitors and all sites, stalls, etc., occupied by them shall be properly cleaned and opened for the public before the hour of opening each day and shall remain so during the hours of Exhibition and if this is not done to the satisfaction of the Committee, it shall arrange to have everything done at the sole risk and expense of the Exhibitor.

28. Removal of exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a fortnight after the close of the Exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owners or purchasers within 24 hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

29. Exhibits on loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received. Gentlemen willing to lend them are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the exhibition of articles.

30. Exhibits belonging to Departments of Mysore Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any Department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals; but may be awarded certificates of merit. Certificates of merit will also be given to such of the exhibits from private gentlemen as have not been provided for in the prospectus, if they are considered by the judges worthy of the same. (This rule does not preclude Government servants or pupils of Industrial Schools and institutions, aided by Government from competing for prizes, if the exhibits are manufactured by themselves.)

31. Admission of live-stock.—The time of the year when the owners of cattle are fully engaged in the fields, having been found very unsuitable for a regular Cattle Show, it has been decided to restrict the show to the fine specimens of local (Mysore District) cattle irrespective of breeds and classes.

32. Accommodation for cattle.—Accommodation will be provided free of cost.

33. Practical test.—Working cattle may, at the owners' option, be subjected to a practical test as to their powers of draught. They must be the bona-fide property of the exhibitor.

34. Care-taker.—Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a care-taker who will remain in charge of the exhibit and must be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.

35. Poultry show.—The Poultry must be in charge of the owners or an attendant who will be admitted on the Show days with a free pass. Every endeavour will be made for safe accommodation. The number of each breed that a competitor may bring must be intimated to the Secretary at least four days before the opening day.

36. Poultry appliances.—Prizes will also be awarded for incubators and other poultry appliances.

37. Distribution of awards.—Prizes and medals will be distributed at the close of the exhibition. This year it is proposed to hold a distribution of prizes in the exhibition grounds on or about the 5th of October 1914.

38. Number of judges.—The judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless, in the opinion of the judges, the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are judges, and the decision of the judges is final.

39. Photograph of articles exhibited.—No articles exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced in any manner without the special permission of the Committee. General photographs of stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

40. Committee's decision final.—The Committee have full power to make rules for the conduct of the exhibition under these regulations, and their decision is final in all cases.

41. Acceptance of rules.—All persons who become exhibitors shall be held to signify their assent to and acceptance of the foregoing rules and regulations and also such other rules as the Committee may hereafter issue not inconsistent with these regulations.

42. Official hand-book.—An official hand-book of all exhibits with the names and the addresses of the exhibitors and their agent or agents, if any, will be published about the opening day of the Exhibition without any further cost to the exhibitors. It is expected that a large number of people will visit the exhibition and that many of them will probably purchase the official hand-book which will be sold at two annas a copy. It will be a capital opportunity for advertisers to advertise through the medium of this hand-book. Advertisements will be received for publication in the official hand-book at the following rates.—

Half page	„ 12	„ 15
Quarter page	„ 7-8	„ 10

(Special rates of Rs. 30, 16 and 12 will be charged for advertisements on the page of the cover for full, half and quarter page, respectively.)

Applications for these advertisements will be received not later than 31st August 1914 and must be accompanied by a remittance in full payment of the amount due for space applied for.

43. Refreshments.—No articles of refreshment, food, drink or tobacco shall be sold on any site, or in any buildings or part thereof in the Exhibition grounds without the written permission of the Committee.

44. Committee's right.—The Committee or any person or persons that they may appoint shall at all times have free access and right of entry to all or any part of the space, site or buildings allotted to exhibitors.

45. Accommodation.—Accommodation for visitors will be arranged in the sheds put up outside the Exhibition building, provided intending visitors apply to the Secretary at least a fortnight before the opening of the Exhibition. A rent of annas six per day subject to a minimum charge of Rs. 3 for stays less than 8 days, will be charged.

46. Entertainments.—The Committee will receive applications for entertainments in the Exhibition grounds. No charges will be levied for space allotted therefor.

47. Post and Telegraph Office.—The "Mysore Exhibition Camp" Post and Telegraph Office will be open at the Exhibition from 1st September to 30th November and all letters, etc., addressed to the Exhibition Camp Office will be delivered earlier than those addressed to Mysore City.

48. Railway concession.—Concession for the carriage of exhibits over the following Railways to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition on production of necessary certificates which may be had by applying to the Secretary to the Exhibition, has been granted by the respective Railway authorities :—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The East Indian Railway.
4. The Bombay-Baroda and Central Indian Railway.
5. The Bengal-Nagapur Railway.
6. The Great Indian Peninsular Railway.
7. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.
8. The Barsi Light Railway.

Besides, the following have also extended the concession to the exhibitors. The period will commence in case of exhibits from 15th August and end on 31st October 1914 and in case of exhibitors from 1st September to 15th October 1914 :—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The Bengal-Nagapur Railway.
4. The Great Indian Peninsular Railway.
5. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.

49. Steamer concession.—The Manager of the Irrawadi Flotilla Co., Ltd., Rangoon, has allowed the following concession for exhibits over his steamer :—

All exhibits (goods, parcels, cattle, etc.) will be carried :—On the outward journey at full tariff rates. On the return journey free, provided that (1) they have not been sold, (2) they are consigned to the station of original despatch, (3) they will be carried at owner's risk, and (4) the usual form of certificate is obtained at the time of original despatch and is tendered duly filled up and signed, on application being made for concession on return journey.

50. Communication regarding the exhibition.—All communications regarding the Exhibition should be addressed to the Secretary to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition Committee, Mysore.

MYSORE,
9th May 1914.

1. THE WEAVING COMPETITION.

In connection with the Exhibition of 1914 a competition in Weaving and its preparatory process will be held in the Exhibition premises, Mysore. The following rules regulating the competition are published for the information of the intending competitors.

SECTION I.

The competition will commence on Thursday the 1st of October 1914 and will be continued for three days.

2. Weavers will be required to work for 7 hours a day, from 8 to 11-30 A.M. and from 2 to 5-30 P.M.

3. Any kind of hand-loom may be entered for the competition; but competition among weavers in each class will be among weavers working on the same kind of loom.

This rule does not effect giving loom prizes to any kind of loom that enters into any kind of competition.

4. No prizes or medals will be given to competitors in a certain class, when the number is less than 3. But all bona-fide weavers with a piron driver for helping each competitor, will be given their third class fare to and fro at concession rates or reasonable cart hire and an allowance of five annas per day for five days only, if they come and demonstrate any of the operations that are mentioned in the items for competition. Those that desire to utilize this opportunity for weaving extraordinary patterns will have to intimate to the Secretary at least 15 days before the Exhibition commences when the necessary arrangements will be made for the same. Weavers in Mysore City will get only their daily allowance.

5. A man that has once competed in weaving one kind of cloth and won a prize will not be allowed to compete in the same kind of cloth for three years to come, but such competitors may be allowed and given a special prize by the judges if they think that the competitor serves as a model to local weavers. This rule equally holds good in the case of awarding medals and prizes to the looms.

6. Competitors will be allowed to fix the warps on the looms beforehand and to weave a length not exceeding two yards before the competition commences.

7. Under Sub-Committees with the Chief Revenue Officer of the locality as President, competitions in any of the undermentioned tests will be held in the month of August in all the most important weaving centres of the Province. There must be at least three competitors in each of the tests. Two prizes of Rs. 10 and 7 will be awarded in each centre. The first of the competitor in each of the tests will be required to compete in Mysore at the time of Dasara.

8. A competitor can compete in any one of the following tests (a to d):—

The Manager of a factory or a school may send one or more weavers to compete for one or more tests.

The following are the tests for the competition of this year:—

(a) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having half an-inch silk-border) with 30's warp, 52 ends per inch and 30's weft, of 48 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 10 and Rs. 8 for each set of competitors.

(b) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border) with 40's warp, 60 ends per inch and 40's weft, of 52 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 12 and Rs. 9 for each set of competitors.

(c) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border) with 60's warp, 72 ends per inch and 60's weft, 72 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 14 and Rs. 10.

(d) To weave a cloth 45 inches wide with 100's warp, 80 ends per inch and 120's weft, 80 picks per inch. The border is to be of lace and silk of any pattern (specially rudrakshi, peacock, weaving, etc.) left to the option of the competitor. Prize.—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

(e) To weave a magutam 54 inches wide with red, yellow or bleached country twisted silk of about 80 counts. The border must be of lace of about one-fourth of an inch. It is sufficient if the competitors use reeds of about 40 dents and weave about 80 picks to an inch. Prize.—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

In (a), (b) and (c) the cross borders must be of silk and in (d) and (e) they must be of lace.

The authorities may allow any other tests, provided there are sufficient number of competitors.

9. The competitors will purchase warps except silk from the Exhibition authorities and use them alone for competition and the competitors must bring in their own wefts.

Intending competitors should inform the Secretary at least 15 days before the competition commences. The local weavers will get their daily allowances only. All competitors must bring their own pirons.

10. In awarding prizes to the weavers the Judges will note the following points.

The work done—

(1) The length of the cloth woven during the whole period.
(2) Uniformity of picking and adhesion to specification.
(3) Freedom from broken ends.
(4) Clean edges, etc.

11. A gold and silver medal will be awarded to the best looms as first and second prizes.

In judging the looms the Judges will consider in addition—

(a) Adaptability of the loom:—

(1) Whether the loom is suited for weaving different kinds of cloth using different kinds of yarn.

(2) Whether the loom can be worked profitably by weavers in their houses or is only useful for factory work.

(b) Machanism of the loom:—

(1) Soundness and proper proportion of its parts.

(2) Simplicity in machanism so as to be capable of being easily repaired when out of order.

(3) The position in which the weaver has to hold his body while working and the ease with which he can work the loom.

A loom that was once awarded a medal will not get it a second time.

SECTION II.

WEAVING AND PREPARATORY PROCESS.

Tests in the following four classes are opened to boys under 18 years and women of any age. Of the two prizes one will be among boys and the other among women.

1. Simple processes of making long warps and sizing them economically and usefully.

2. Simple adoptation of English Dobby for hand-loom work.

3. Of any new machanism likely to improve or increase the quality of the outturn such as new patterns of automatic take-up motion, etc.

4. Spinning.—Any kind of spinning appliance may be used. Wool to be spun will be supplied at the time of the competition at the cost of the competitors. The thickness of the yarn and the quantity to be spun and the time to be taken will be decided by the judges. Prize Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

5. Warping and sizing—

(a) Open only for females.
To make 40's warp, 10 yards long and to size it. Prize Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

(b) Open for males and females.
To make 60's warp, 40 yards long and to size them. Prize Rs. 15 and Rs. 10.

The prizes will be awarded for the best-sized warp. The time to be allowed for work, the quantity of yarn to be warped and the test to be adopted for judging the work will be decided by the judges. Yarn for warping and sizing will be supplied at the cost of the competitors, at the time of the competition.

6. Competitors will fit up their own looms in the ground allotted and get everything ready for competition.

7. Intending competitors must send their application in the prescribed form, so as to reach the Secretary at Mysore on or before the 25th of September 1914 at the latest.

WOMEN'S SECTION.

SYLLABUS 1914.

The first aim of this section is to bring into touch with each other women, who, having themselves learnt the value of new occupations and interests, are anxious to hand on this knowledge to others. Plain or fancy needle-work, lacemaking, basket making, knitting, all these are occupations enjoyed by a large number of women and girls in India, but there remain a still large number who have neither seen nor heard about them. To interest these it is important to collect for Exhibition, the best that is done in all branches of women's work, and it is only the best in each section of the work that can be encouraged by the award of medals and prizes.

This is one of the most difficult things to impress upon intending exhibitors. It is not any kind of work that can be accepted. Certain groups are selected in the syllabus and only the really good work sent in under each group is likely to be admitted. To understand the importance of sending in only the best work, the following rules should be carefully studied and conscientiously carried out.

1. In needle-work the best materials that can be procured should alone be used: it is waste of time to put good work on to poor material which will neither wear nor wash.

2. One neatly stitched, well finished off exhibit is more likely to win a prize than a large bundle of carelessly done work; no amount of trimming will improve a badly made article.

3. Moth-eaten, faded, torn or dirty work cannot be accepted.

4. Exhibits which have already won prizes in previous Exhibitions cannot compete. They will be accepted as "Loan Exhibits" or exhibited for sale if space permits.

5. No work will be accepted that does not come under one or other groups in the syllabus. Space in the exhibition being limited, there can be no exception to this rule.

6. None but genuine women or children's work will be allowed to compete for prizes in this section.

With regard to this year's syllabus it was at first suggested that to appeal more strongly to Indian ladies we should restrict the work to that of Indian use and design; but since European needle-work is yearly becoming an important source of income to Indian women we felt the same object might better be served by making the classes more distinct and by increasing the prizes. Only lace machine work and crochet have been omitted from the syllabus and these not in the children's group.

It is hoped that the improved standard of last year's work will be maintained and that Indian ladies will contribute in far greater numbers than heretofore. We should also urge any ladies interested in children's work to make this Exhibition known as widely as possible as the number of exhibits sent in by children last year was most disappointing.

The accompanying report on the Cattle Show held at Nagalmadike, Pavagada Taluk, in January 1914, forwarded with the Revenue Commissioner's letter No. 13192, dated the 30th April 1914.

No. 12661-3—L. B. 172-13-6, DATED BANGALORE, THE 13TH JUNE 1914.

ORDER THEREON.—Recorded.

2. Government note with pleasure the improvement in the number and breed of cattle exhibited this year and desire that their appreciation be conveyed to the non-official gentlemen who helped to make the show a success.

D. M. NARASINGA RAO,
Officiating Secretary to Government,
General and Revenue Departments.

To—The Deputy Commissioner and President, District Board, Tumkur District with the remark that the report submitted was not in accordance with para 8 of Government Order No. 7007-24—L. B. 189-09-3, dated the 22nd February 1911.

The Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.

Report on the Cattle Show held at Nagalmadike in the Pavagada Taluk, Tumkur District, in January 1914.

A large number of cattle are usually brought year after year for purposes of being sold immediately after the car festival of Sri Subramanyaswami whose temple which is situated on the western bank of the Utter Penakini (North Pennar) close to the village of Nagalmadike. This takes place on the Pushya Suddha Shashti of every year and this year it corresponded to the 2nd January 1914. The festival went off this year with great eclat from the 1st to the 5th January 1914. There were about 14,000 inhabitants assembled from the different adjoining places of the Kalyanadurga, Penkonda, Hindupur and Madakasira Taluks. Large merchandise had also been brought in for sale. Various articles of provisions, sweets, cloth, metal, glass and enamal wares and sundries were among the most important that found a ready market. The right of collecting fees from the shop-keepers and tax on the cattle at one anna per head was put up to auction and it fetched for the benefit of the temple a sum of Rs. 400 which was in excess over the previous year's realizations by Rs. 70.

2. As a large number of cattle turned up every year on this occasion and as some of them were nice specimens of bullocks, a cattle show was organized at the spot for the first time in January 1913 as per orders of the Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur District, in November 1912. A similar show was also organized this year under the orders of the present Deputy Commissioner and this was a much grander one than what was had last year.

3. The increased enthusiasm displayed by the owners of cattle that turned up for the show of the present year shows that the object of the show is being realized materially.

4. The gathering of the cattle commenced from the 3rd January and by the 5th so many as 3,417 heads of cattle had assembled as against 2,500 in the last year. The cattle show lasted for three days from the 5th to 7th. The jatra and the cattle show of the present year had a peculiar significance attached to it on account of the presence of the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion and the interest evinced by him in the same. In his presence amidst a large and silent crowd the Assistant Veterinary Inspector and the Agricultural Inspector whose services had been specially indented for, for the occasion were made to deliver lessons on cattle disease and agriculture. The Assistant Veterinary Inspector besides explaining to the raiyats among other matters the easy and simple method of castrating bulls demonstrated the process of castration by operating on a bull. The Agricultural Inspector exhibited different seeds and implements employed in husbandry and demonstrated the use of the improved plough by getting actual work turned up with it and comparing it with the work turned out by ordinary plough. The District Forest Officer Mr. P. S. Govinda Rao delivered a valuable and interesting lecture on a few points connected with cattle breeding and cattle rearing. The Sub-Division Officer of Maddagiri was to be found everywhere speaking to the people on all the above important subjects. All these had a very good effect on the large raiyat population that had assembled.

5. Of the cattle that had assembled :—

i. 2,200 were bullocks.
ii. 1,200 were calves.
iii. 15 were cows.
iv. 2 were a pair of rams.

Buffaloes were conspicious by their absence.

6. The most important among the varieties of the breeds represented in the gathering were :—

(1) Hallikar.
(2) Nagamangala.
(3) Ballapura, and
(4) Local breed of what are called "ವಳದೇಶದ ಗಿಡ್ಡಗಳು".

Of these the numbers of each variety sold were :—

(i) Hallikar, 125 pairs.
(ii) Nagamangala, 200 pairs.
(iii) Ballapura, 50 pairs.
(iv) Local Breeds—
(a) 25 pairs, full grown.
(b) 800 calves.

7. The highest value realized in the sale is for each pair of :—

	Rs.
(i) Hallikar variety	480
(ii) Nagamangala variety	400
(iii) Ballapura variety	250

(iv) Local breed variety, (a) 150 full grown, (b) Rs. 50 calves.

The average value realized on the total sale is Rs. 200, a pair.

8. A good number of the purchasers were from Madakasira, Kalyandrug and Pavagada. People of Dharmavaram, Penukonda, Anantapur, Hindupur, Challakere, Chikballapur and Sira also purchased.

9. The numbers of cattle in each class assembled at the fair or jatra which were brought from different villages of the State and from His Majesty's Territories were as follow :—

I. From different villages of the Mysore State :—

1. Hallikar	400	pairs.
2. Nagamangala	300	,,
3. Ballapura	300	,, and
4. Local breed	200	,,

II. From His Majesty's Territories :—

9. Progress of agricultural operations, state of standing crops, prospects and probable outturn of harvests, serious damage done to crops by insects or other natural calamities.
10. Prospects of season, tracts in which the rainfall has been insufficient, areas affected by scarcity, number of people under relief, and state of food stocks.
11. Public health.
12. Remarks as to the condition of agricultural stock; failure of pasturage, of fodder, etc.

BANGALORE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION.

	Average for the past five years of the corresponding week.	Current.
Prices of food grains—Boiled rice (2nd sort)	7·41	6·90	Quantity per rupee by the standard seer of 80 tolas.
Ragi ...	14·12	12·37
Rangoon rice (2nd sort) ...		7·47

Agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed.

Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficient.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—Ploughing operations are going on in Bangalore, Nelamangala, Kankanhalli, Anekal and Devanhalli Taluks and Closepet Sub-Taluk. Punaji paddy is being sown in parts of Hoskote Taluk. Vaisakhi paddy is being harvested in parts of Dodballapur Taluk.

State of standing crops.—Sugar cane in Bangalore; gingelly in Kankanhalli and Hoskote; paddy and sugar cane in parts of Dodballapur; sugar cane, paddy and gingelly in parts of Anekal are reported to be withering for want of rain. But sugar cane in parts of Nelamangala and Channapatna; haraka, jola and punaji paddy in parts of Devanhalli are in a fair condition.

Outturn of the harvested crops.—Vaisaki paddy in Dodballapur 2 to 6 annas.

Damages to crops.—Nil.

10. The prospect of the season is causing anxiety. Want of rain is felt all over the district. Food stocks are available. Labour is available to cooly classes.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Hoskote, public health is generally good. In parts of Kankanhalli and Magadi, small-pox is subsiding.

12. Except for "Neradi roga" among cattle in Gollahalli, Volankere and Mathkur villages of Bangalore Taluk and "foot and mouth disease" among them in certain villages of Magadi Taluk, cattle are healthy. Water is available except in Bangalore Taluk, in many villages of which drinking water for cattle is being supplied from draw-wells. Fodder is available in limited quantities and it is being imported from the neighbouring villages in some parts of Channapatna and Devanhalli Taluks. In Kankanhalli Taluk also, anxiety on account of fodder is likely to be great if the rains should hold off some time longer.

KOLAR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being prepared for sowing of ragi in all the taluks.

Crops sown.—Potatoes and thu-ragi under irrigation wells in some parts of the Kolar Taluk and punaji paddy in parts of the Sidlaghatta Taluk.

Crops harvested and their probable outturn.—Vaisaki paddy in Goribidnur Taluk, yield 10 to 12 annas.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane is in fair condition in all the taluks, except in parts of Goribidnur and Srinivaspur Taluks, where it is reported to be withering for want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are not encouraging. Rain is badly wanted throughout the district. Food stuffs are available. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. Except for a few cases of plague and cholera in parts of the Kolar Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are healthy. Pasture and fodder are available in all the taluks, except Kolar, Srinivaspur and Bagepalli. The State Forests are thrown open in Srinivaspur and Bagepalli Taluks.

TUMKUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed and manured in parts of the district.

Crops sown.—Ragi in parts of Maddagiri, Sira and Pavagada Taluks; groundnuts in parts of Tumkur and Sira Taluks and Koratagere Sub-Taluk; castor in parts of Tumkur, Sira and Pavagada Taluks; jola in parts of Pavagada Taluk and

10. The number of cattle that were turned up by the competitors in the show were 30 pairs of bullocks, 4 cows, a pair of rams and also 11 single bullocks. These were very nice specimens and 30 of them won prizes. On the morning of the 6th January 1914, the Deputy Commissioner very kindly and with great interest inspected every head of cattle turned up and finally in the midst of a large gathering explained to the people the advantages of the show and his hopes of still further improvement in future. He then awarded prizes to the owners of cattle as shown in the accompanying list marked A. The whole affair had a very imposing effect. The receipt obtained from the recipients of the money prize awarded is also enclosed and marked B. In addition to the money prize, a card neatly printed and signed by the Deputy Commissioner was given to every prize winner showing the amount of prize awarded and the breed of cattle for which it was awarded. This created a better impression on the raiyats than simple money prize only. It is under contemplation to award a few medals in future to some and money prizes to the rest and also to increase the number of prizes. The nice specimens of bulls, will, in future be photographed and copies submitted.

11. Statement C appended shows the names and designation of the non-official members that formed the Committee for judging for the purpose of granting prizes. The Committee did the work of judging with much interest and pleasure.

12. Statement D appended shows the receipt and expenditure incurred on account of the Cattle Show.

13. The District Superintendent of Police was kind enough to be present on the spot and under his personal supervision perfect order and safety to person and property were secured.

Ladies' Decorated Bicycles ...	15	10	5

Grand Total ... Rs. 1,145

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. In view to arrangements being made for staging plants, it is requested that exhibitors will notify to the undersigned, at least four days prior to the Show, what number of pots they intend to enter and for what prize they intend to compete. Entry forms are supplied on application to the Superintendent, and exhibitors are requested to use these.

2. The large foliage groups should be ready arranged two days before the Show.

3. Plants intended for competition should be delivered in the Conservatory before 4 P.M. on the day previous to the Show.

4. Cut flowers may be delivered up till 2 P.M. on the day of the Show, but not later, if intended for competition.

5. No prize shall be awarded unless there are at least two competitors for it, except in cases of rare excellence, when the Judges will use their own discretion.

The number of exhibits in all classes and sections should exceed the number of prizes offered, otherwise the Judges will be authorised to reduce the full value of such prizes.

6. It shall also be competent for the Judges to reduce the amount of prizes if, in their opinion, the articles exhibited do not merit the full sums.

7. Obtrusive staging, overcrowding, packing to conceal blemishes and artificial support to blooms, etc., will be judged as defects to an exhibit, preference being given to natural growth and artistic arrangement.

9. Where one plant of each kind or variety is specified as a condition, any exhibit containing duplicates shall be disqualified.

NOTE.—For the purpose of the exhibition the words kinds and varieties may be illustrated as under:—Apples, oranges, figs, grapes, etc., are distinct kinds of fruits. Ribston Pippin, Blenheim Orange, Golden Reinette, etc., are distinct varieties of apples. Roses, Chrysanthemums, Dahlias, etc., are distinct kinds of flowers. Marechal Niel, Crimson Rambler, La France, etc., are distinct varieties of roses. Cabbage, Beans, Beet, Carrot, etc., are distinct kinds of vegetables. Sugar Loaf, Early Drumhead, Enfield Market, etc., are distinct varieties of cabbages.

10. Two or more persons may not compete for prizes separately with plants, etc., from the same garden.

11. If funds are available, the Judges may award special extra prizes in cases of exceptional merit.

12. All exhibits sent for competition must be the bonâ fide produce of, or have been raised by the exhibitors; and unless otherwise specified, must have been grown in Bangalore.

The Judges may withhold any prize until proof of these conditions be produced. Contractors bringing up fruit and vegetables for competition in their own name can compete for prizes but not for medals.

13. Exhibitors will not be permitted to remove their exhibits until the Show is closed, and gardeners and others found offering articles for sale before 6 P.M. on the day of the Show shall be summarily ejected.

14. No one can be a Judge in any class in which he may be an exhibitor.

15. Similarly, while judging is going on, no exhibitor is permitted to be in the Exhibition buildings and any exhibitor acting contrary after being asked to retire will have his exhibits disqualified.

16. The names of exhibitors can only be attached to exhibits when the judging has been completed.

The following Rules for awarding cups and medals at the Horticultural Shows are hereby notified to the public:—

1. His Highness the Maharaja has graciously presented three cups for competition at the Flower Shows.

(i) The Horticulturists' cup:—This will be competed for by Nurserymen and Horticulturists.

(ii) The amateur cup:—This will be competed for by private Gardeners.

These cups will be awarded to the Exhibitor who has obtained the highest aggregate in prizes won in all classes during the current Show.

(iii) The Floral Parade cup:—This cup will be awarded to the competitor who wins the first prize for the best florally decorated Bicycle at the current Show.

2. The money value of the prizes will be taken in calculating the aggregate.

3. A gold medal will, for purposes of the calculation, count 50% over the first prize, a silver medal equal to the first prize, and a bronze medal and "Highly commended" equal to the lowest prize in the respective group.

4. The cups will be held by the winners for the next six months under satisfactory arrangement for their safe custody.

5. Ten days before the following show the cups must be returned to the Superintendent, Lal-Bagh, for being again put up for competition at the Show.

6. Should a competitor win the cup at any two successive Shows, the cup will be his property for good.

7. Out of the money prizes won with the cups, a sum of rupees 15 and 15 respectively will be deducted to defray cost of a miniature facsimile cup to be given as a souvenir to the last winner, except, of course, when the cup is won outright.

8. Gold, Silver and Bronze Medals will be available for all classes and will be awarded at both the Summer and Winter Shows.

9. The following exhibitors will be qualified for the award of a medal:—

(a) The exhibitor of the best all-round exhibit in the appropriate class or classes.

(b) The exhibitor of any exhibit of more than ordinary excellence in any group.

(c) The exhibitor of any specially meritorious novelty.

10. Medals where awarded will be in place of the money prizes shown in the Prospectus against the respective items.

11. No exhibitor who has been awarded a medal in any group will be qualified to receive another medal in that group during the two calendar years succeeding that in which he has received the medal.

12. No exhibitor will be qualified to receive a medal who is not the bonâ fide cultivator of his exhibit or the actual occupant of the garden in which the exhibit was raised, e.g., no contractor who has merely purchased fruit or vegetable exhibited will be eligible.

13. It will be open to the Judges to withhold any or all the medals in any Show on the ground of deficiency of merit in the exhibits.

The Flower Show opens on Saturday the 8th August 1914 at 3-30 P.M.
The Floral Parade takes place at 5-30 P.M.
School children will be admitted on Sunday between 7 A.M. and 12 noon.

8. Markets how supplied.
9. Progress of agricultural operations, state of standing crops, prospects and probable outturn of harvests, serious damage done to crops by insects or other natural calamities.
10. Prospects of season, tracts in which the rainfall has been insufficient, areas affected by scarcity, number of people under relief, and state of food stocks.
11. Public health.
12. Remarks as to the condition of agricultural stock; failure of pasturage, of fodder, etc

BANGALORE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION.

	Average for the past five years of the corresponding week.	Current.
Prices of food grains—Boiled rice (2nd sort)	7·41	6·90	Quantity per rupee by the standard seer of 80 tolas.
Ragi ...	14·12	12·37
Rangoon rice (2nd sort) ...		7·47

Agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed.

Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficient.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—Ploughing operations are going on in Bangalore, Nelamangala, Kankanhalli, Anekal and Devanhalli Taluks and Closepet Sub-Taluk. Punaji paddy is being sown in parts of Hoskote Taluk. Vaisakhi paddy is being harvested in parts of Dodballapur Taluk.

State of standing crops.—Sugar cane in Bangalore; gingelly in Kankanhalli and Hoskote; paddy and sugar cane in parts of Dodballapur; sugar cane, paddy and gingelly in parts of Anekal are reported to be withering for want of rain. But sugar cane in parts of Nelamangala and Channapatna; haraka, jola and punaji paddy in parts of Devanhalli are in a fair condition.

Outturn of the harvested crops.—Vaisaki paddy in Dodballapur 2 to 6 annas.

Damages to crops.—Nil.

10. The prospect of the season is causing anxiety. Want of rain is felt all over the district. Food stocks are available. Labour is available to cooly classes.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Hoskote, public health is generally good. In parts of Kankanhalli and Magadi, small-pox is subsiding.

12. Except for "Neradi roga" among cattle in Gollahalli, Volankere and Mathkur villages of Bangalore Taluk and "foot and mouth disease" among them in certain villages of Magadi Taluk, cattle are healthy. Water is available except in Bangalore Taluk, in many villages of which drinking water for cattle is being supplied from draw-wells. Fodder is available in limited quantities and it is being imported from the neighbouring villages in some parts of Channapatna and Devanhalli Taluks. In Kankanhalli Taluk also, anxiety on account of fodder is likely to be great if the rains should hold off some time longer.

KOLAR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being prepared for sowing of ragi in all the taluks.

Crops sown.—Potatoes and thu-ragi under irrigation wells in some parts of the Kolar Taluk and punaji paddy in parts of the Sidlaghatta Taluk.

Crops harvested and their probable outturn.—Vaisaki paddy in Goribidnur Taluk, yield 10 to 12 annas.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane is in fair condition in all the taluks, except in parts of Goribidnur and Srinivaspur Taluks, where it is reported to be withering for want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are not encouraging. Rain is badly wanted throughout the district. Food stuffs are available. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. Except for a few cases of plague and cholera in parts of the Kolar Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are healthy. Pasture and fodder are available in all the taluks, except Kolar, Srinivaspur and Bagepalli. The State Forests are thrown open in Srinivaspur and Bagepalli Taluks.

TUMKUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed and manured in parts of the district.

Crops sown.—Ragi in parts of Maddagiri, Sira and Pavagada Taluks; groundnuts in parts of Tumkur and Sira Taluks and Koratagere Sub-Taluk; castor in parts of Tumkur, Sira and Pavagada Taluks; jola in parts of Pavagada Taluk and Koratagere Sub-Taluk; sugar cane in parts of Kunigal Taluk; togari, avare and til in parts of Sira Taluk and paddy in parts of Koratagere Sub-Taluk.

Crops harvested.—Paddy in parts of Tumkur, Maddagiri, Chiknayakanhalli and Sira Taluks and Koratagere Sub-Taluk, yield 6 to 12 annas; sugar cane in parts of Kunigal Taluk.

Standing crops.—Paddy, sugar cane, groundnut, jola, ragi and til in parts of the district are reported to be generally in fair condition, except in parts of the Chiknayakanhalli Taluk, where they are said to be withering owing to want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stuffs are available. Rain is wanted throughout the district.

11. Except for fever in parts of Maddagiri Taluk and cholera in Chiknayakanhalli Town, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are reported to be generally healthy except in parts of Chiknayakanhalli and Pavagada Taluks where they are said to suffer from "foot and mouth disease" and "Dodda roga." Water and fodder are available.

MYSORE.

8. Market is fairly well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed in parts of Nagamangala Taluk.

Crops sown.—Ragi, til and jola in parts of the Krishnarajpete Taluk.

Standing crops.—Ragi, jola, til, togari and castor in parts of the Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Yedatore, Gundlupet and Nanjangud Taluks; jola, togari and til in parts of the T.-Narsipur and Nagamangala Taluks; ragi, jola and til in parts of the Seringapatam, Hunsur and Heggaddevankote Taluks; horse gram in parts of the Seringapatam and Nanjangud Taluks; cotton in parts of Nanjangud Taluk; mulberry in parts of T.-Narsipur and Mandya Taluks; sugar cane in parts of the Seringapatam, T.-Narsipur, Mandya, Krishnarajpete and Nagamangala Taluks; paddy in parts of the Krishnarajpete and Nagamangala Taluks; groundnut in parts of the T.-Narsipur Taluk and halasande in parts of the Seringapatam Taluk are reported to be in fair condition. These are said to be withering for want of rain in parts of Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Yedatore, Heggaddevankote, Gundlupet and Nanjangud Taluks.

Crops harvested.—Sugar cane with an yield of 12 annas and green and black grams, til and tadagani with an yield of 8 annas in parts of Seringapatam Taluk.

10. Prospects of the season are generally fair. Want of rain is felt everywhere. Food stuffs are available.

11. Public health is generally good except that stray cases of plague in Harave and cholera in Arakere village of the Seringapatam Taluk are reported to have occurred.

12. Except for "foot and mouth disease" and "Chappe roga" in parts of the Nanjangud Taluk and "foot and mouth disease" in parts of the Chamrajnagar Taluk, cattle are reported to be healthy. Water and fodder are generally available, except in parts of the Gundlupet, Yedatore and Heggaddevankote Taluks, where want of fodder is felt.

HASSAN.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations—

Standing crops.—Kar paddy and sugar cane in Hassan Taluk; paddy in Manjarabad Taluk; ragi, til, togari, castor, cholum and tadagani in Arkalgud Taluk; sugar cane in Belur and Hole-Narsipur Taluks; paddy, sugar cane, ragi, til, black and green grams and cholum in Channarayapatna Taluk; paddy, sugar cane, til, cholum and chillies in Arsikere Taluk; paddy and ragi in the Alur Sub-Taluk are reported to be in fair condition.

Crops sown.—Barawadi paddy in Manjarabad Taluk; gid ragi and cholum in Hole-Narsipur Taluk are being sown.

Crops harvested.—Paddy is being harvested in parts of the Arsikere Taluk. The Amildar of Belur Taluk reports that the crops sown, viz., ragi, paddy and togari, are withering for want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are generally good. More rain is anxiously awaited in parts of all the taluks and the sub-taluk of the district.

11. Public health is generally good, except for small-pox in parts of Manjarabad, Arkalgud and Belur Taluks.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder generally available. The Amildar of Belur Taluk reports that the "foot and mouth disease" is prevailing among cattle in parts of Arehalli hobli. The Assistant Veterinary Inspector, Hassan, has been directed to send written instructions to the Amildar in the matter of treating the sick cattle. The Amildar of Arsikere reports now that cattle are not dying actually for want of fodder and water but from old age and certain diseases. With regard to the death of cattle in Kenkere village for want of fodder as mentioned in the last weekly season report a detailed report to the effect that the death of these was not due to starvation but old age or disease (based upon the report of inspection of the Assistant Commissioner, Channarayapatna Sub-Division, Hassan) has been submitted to the Revenue Commissioner in this office letter No. 540—R. dated the 17th June 1914.

SHIMOGA.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Paddy is being sown in Sagar, Nagar and Tirthahalli Taluks and in some parts of the Sorab Taluk. Transplanting of paddy is progressing in parts of the Nagar Taluk. Agricultural operations in the maidan taluks have been retarded for want of rain.

Crops sown.—Paddy sown in the Tirthahalli Taluk requires more rain.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane is reported to be in good condition in all the taluks except Honnali where it is said to be withering for want of sufficient rain.

Crops harvested.—Harvesting of Vaisaki paddy in the Kharur and Bharangi hoblis of the Sagar Taluk is almost complete.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. The rainfall during the week has been scanty. More rain is urgently wanted throughout the district. Food stuffs are available in sufficient quantities.

11. Except for a very few cases of small-pox in Channagiri, Honnali, Sorab, Sagar and Nagar Taluks and a few cases of plague in one village of the Shikarpur Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Fodder and water are generally available, except in some parts of the Honnali and Shikarpur Taluks where fodder is not sufficient and in some parts of the Channagiri Taluk where there is some scarcity of water. Except for a few cases of "foot and mouth disease" in some parts of the Shikarpur and Nagar Taluks, cattle are generally healthy.

KADUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being prepared for sowing purposes in parts of Kadur, Koppa and Mudgere Taluks. Manuring of lands is going on in part of Tarikere Taluk.

Crops sown.—Jola, black gram, green gram and gingelly are sown in parts of Kadur Taluk. Paddy is sown in parts of Sringeri.

Standing crops.—Chikmagalur—ragi, paddy, sugar cane, coffee, gingelly, black gram, and thingalavare; Kadur—jola, black gram, green gram, gingelly and sugar cane; Tarikere—paddy and sugar cane; Koppa—sugar cane and paddy; Mudgere—paddy, sugar cane and chillies; Yedahalli—sugar cane, areca and paddy. All these are reported to be in urgent need of rain. In maidan parts of Chikmagalur Taluk, the standing crops are reported to be fading for want of rain. Sugar cane is reported to be fading in parts of Kadur Taluk.

Crops harvested.—Chikmagalur—Kode paddy on a small scale. Mudgere—Kode paddy in a small scale.

Agricultural operations have been retarded for want of sufficient rain.

10. Prospects of the season are not quite encouraging. Rain is urgently wanted in all parts of the district. Supply of food stuffs is sufficient.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Kadur and Koppa Taluks and Yedahalli Sub-Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are reported to be suffering from "foot and mouth disease" in some villages of Chikmagalur, Kadur, Koppa and Mudgere Taluks. Water and fodder are generally available, except in maidan parts of the district where some difficulty is felt for fodder for want of usual rainfall.

CHITALDRUG.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Standing crops.—Sugar cane in Hiriyur and Chitaldrug Taluks and in Harihar Sub-Taluk is in good condition. Sessamum, castor and Mungar jola in the Hosdurga Taluk are withering for want of rain. Jola sown in parts of Holalkere Taluk did not come up for the same season. Gidda ragi and jola sown under kapile wells in parts of Challakere Taluk are in good condition.

Harvest.—Nil.

Seeds sown.—Jola in parts of Challakere Taluk in the lands commanded by kapile wells.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stocks are available.

11. Public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available at present.

PROSPECTUS OF THE DASARA INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION OF 1914.

Introductory.—WITH the sanction of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore the Committee issue the following Prospectus in connection with the Exhibition of 1914.

2. Opening of the Exhibition.—This year the Exhibition opens on or about the 21st of September 1914 and will continue till the 5th October 1914, both days inclusive. The Cattle (local) and Poultry Shows and Weaving Competition will begin on Thursday the 1st of October 1914 and close on Saturday the 3rd.

The Wood Carving and Metal Work Competitions will begin on the 21st of September 1914 and continue till the 1st of October 1914. The Potters' and Ploughing Competitions commence on the 2nd and 3rd October 1914, respectively.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale, will also be admitted.

4. Sale rooms and sale of exhibits.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale, will have to be kept in separate stalls and in charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits; but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the Show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass, which will be issued by the Cash Accountant on production of a cash bill or sale memo as the case may be.

Those who desire special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee at least two weeks before the opening of the Exhibition.

5. Lectures.—Written notes on subjects connected with Agriculture, Industry and Commerce will be thankfully received and printed in book forms for distribution at the Exhibition.

Demonstrations.—Arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and Pottery work, Carving and Metal work. The exact time of demonstrations will be announced later on by hand bills and notices, unless there be at least three competitors for each event, the Committee have full power to withhold such competitions.

6. Donations.—The Committee will thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of agriculture or industry.

7. Classification of exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the prize list subjoined to the Prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

8. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts of the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various Agricultural Departments and Associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

9. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

10. Admission fees for visitors.—An admission fee of annas two per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition Buildings. Season Tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. Return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate which will also admit the holder to the Exhibition for the whole period, will be arranged for.

11. Classification of exhibits in the Women's Section formerly published under class II of the Industrial Section has now been compactly arranged in a syllabus under the Ladies' Committee and published. A classified list of Exhibits in the Educational Section has also been appended hereto.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Noxious articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars regarding the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee, particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up, in the necessary entry form appended to this Prospectus. Forms may also be obtained from the District, Divisional and Taluk Offices or from the Secretary to the Committee; plain paper of foolscap size, may also be used, provided, all the headings in the form are properly copied and filled up and separate sheets should be used for each section.

3. Application from exhibitors.—Applications should reach the Secretary not later than 25th of August 1914. Each individual application, either from outside or inside the State, should contain a post card with the full address of the exhibitor and the receipt of the application will be communicated by returning the card duly signed.

4. Lists from taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of Districts with the District Committee, Sub-Divisional Officers and Amildars of Taluks, are requested to convene, as early as possible, a meeting of the leading artizans, raiyats and merchants residing within their respective charges, to explain to them fully the object and the scope of the Exhibition, to carefully acquaint them with the rules and regulations, drawing particular attention to such paras as 2, 3, 10, etc., to send to this office for information, copies of proceedings of District and Taluk Committee Meetings, to distribute to them forms of applications, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors and to compile and forward them to the Secretary.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The prospectus will show the nature of articles which can compete at the Exhibition. Articles not specially enumerated in this prospectus may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or for space given to display exhibits.

7. Acceptance of exhibits.—The Committee reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance or rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space covered or uncovered.

8. Delivery of exhibits.—Articles intended for the Exhibition may be brought by the exhibitor or his agent or servant and delivered at the Exhibition grounds or sent by post or railway and all Taluk and District Exhibits should be sent through the Deputy Commissioners of Districts so as to reach the Exhibition by the 5th of September 1914. A consolidated list of District Exhibits and Exhibitors in duplicate should accompany the consignment one of which will be checked, receipted and returned by the Secretary.

9. Payment of freight and transport charges.—No exhibits in respect of which the necessary freight or transport charges have not been paid by the exhibitor will be accepted by the Committee, nor can the money be received from the exhibitors, for payment towards clearance of goods booked "To Pay."

10. List of particulars.—All packages received or delivered and all implements and machinery intended for the Exhibition must bear a label specifying name and number of exhibits and the registered number of the exhibitor and must be addressed to the Secretary. They must contain a list in duplicate showing the name or description of the article, its price, the place of production or manufacture, name of the manufacturer or exhibitor; in the case of exhibits in the agricultural section, essential particulars should be given, such as—

1. The season of sowing.
2. The soil on which they are grown.
3. The quantity of seed per acre.
4. The manure used.
5. Whether any irrigation is required.
6. The time required for the maturing of the crop.
7. The average yield per acre.
8. Any other interesting details regarding cultivation.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes in the previous Mysore Exhibitions shall be precluded from competing for prizes, though there is no objection to their being accepted for purposes of show or sale.

12. Date of delivery of the exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send the exhibits so as to reach Mysore on the 30th of August 1914, from which date the Committee will arrange to take charge of exhibits, and no exhibits should arrive later than the 5th of September 1914.

13. Belated exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed, may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to the date in para 12; but they shall not find an entry in the official Hand-book if the exhibitors fail to furnish at least the accurate lists of exhibits within the prescribed time.

14. Valuable exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must invariably be forwarded and kept under the charge of an attender.

15. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or send their agents in charge of exhibits other than those mentioned in the above rule, may make special arrangements with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment of the estimated expense, but in the meanwhile a minimum sum of Rs. 5 be sent in advance for meeting the expenses connected therewith.

16. Responsibility of exhibitors.—The reception, fitting and removal of spacious and heavy exhibits must be personally supervised in the Exhibition either by the exhibitors or their agents. In default the exhibitor will be bound by the action the Committee may take in respect of such articles.

17. Committee accept no responsibility.—No responsibility for damages or loss whosoever occurring will be accepted by the Committee in respect of any exhibits.

18. Special facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any process of manufacture or the working of any implement or machinery and, if so, to state briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require for mounting their machinery.

The Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the exhibitors' expense. The expenses for any special facilities sought for demonstrating machinery and implements, should be borne by the exhibitor, except where special arrangements have been made by the Committee.

19. Weighing of exhibits.—The Committee entrust the work of receiving the exhibits to responsible officials. But as the goods are landed near the Exhibition grounds by special arrangements, it is not possible to weigh every consignment before taking delivery of it. So the exhibitors are requested to take every precaution in packing their exhibits and to send to the Committee in time, an accurate list of exhibits sent by them. Exhibitors who wish that their consignment should be weighed at the Railway Station before delivery, should intimate their wish to the Secretary in time and remit in advance a special fee of one rupee on each consignment to be thus weighed.

20. Acknowledgment of exhibits.—Receipt of exhibits will be acknowledged by return of the duplicate list mentioned in para 10 to the exhibitors, duly signed by the Secretary. No other kind of receipt or acknowledgment shall be sent.

21. Free pass to exhibitors.—In cases in which the owners themselves are in charge of exhibits, the necessary free pass will be given. Exhibitors and such assistants, servants, or other attendants as they may require for service in their stalls, shall enter the Exhibition Grounds through such entrance or entrances as the Committee may direct; they must wear badges, discs or hold passes issued to them before the opening of the Exhibition. All such assistants, servants or other attendants must obey the orders of the Committee and of supervising staff appointed by them.

22. Free admission to bona-fide raiyats and artizans.—Raiyats and artizans unable to pay fees, belonging to the Mysore State or from outside, who produce certificates of identification signed by their respective Taluk Officers in Form B appended to this prospectus, will be admitted free.

23. Space for articles on sale.—Accommodation for articles to be sold by owners will be provided in the sale rooms erected within the Exhibition grounds, as far as possible, and the following rent will be charged for special accommodation. Sellers may have temporary booths put up at their own cost in the Exhibition grounds by previous arrangements with the Committee :—

1.	Full stall 21′ by 10½′	Rs. 15
2.	Half stall	,, 8
3.	Quarter stall	,, 5

No refund will be given to an exhibitor who occupies less space than that allotted and paid for and the unoccupied space will be disposed of by the Committee in the way it deems best.

No exhibitor shall assign, transfer sublet or part with the possession of any site or building or portion thereof allotted to him or dispose of any part or interest therein or place therein any other than his own duly approved exhibits. Any breach of this rule renders the exhibitor liable to have his exhibits removed summarily from the Exhibition and he shall not be entitled to any compensation.

24. Commission.—A commission of six pies in the rupee will be charged on the sales conducted in the sale rooms by the exhibitors themselves or by their agents.

25. Exhibits for sale.—Exhibits labelled "for sale" will be sold during the time the Exhibition lasts; but no article will be removed till the close of the Exhibition.

26. Commission sales.—A commission of half an anna in the rupee will be levied on all articles sold in the Exhibition stalls and grounds through the salesmen appointed by the Exhibition authorities. In this case the money will be received and remitted to the exhibitor by the Exhibition office.

27. Opening of Stalls.—All buildings erected by Exhibitors and all sites, stalls, etc., occupied by them shall be properly cleaned and opened for the public before the hour of opening each day and shall remain so during the hours of Exhibition and if this is not done to the satisfaction of the Committee, it shall arrange to have everything done at the sole risk and expense of the Exhibitor.

28. Removal of exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a fortnight after the close of the Exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owners or purchasers within 24 hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

29. Exhibits on loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received. Gentlemen willing to lend them are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the exhibition of articles.

30. Exhibits belonging to Departments of Mysore Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any Department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals; but may be awarded certificates of merit. Certificates of merit will also be given to such of the exhibits from private gentlemen as have not been provided for in the prospectus, if they are considered by the judges worthy of the same. (This rule does not preclude Government servants or pupils of Industrial Schools and institutions, aided by Government from competing for prizes, if the exhibits are manufactured by themselves.)

31. Admission of live-stock.—The time of the year when the owners of cattle are fully engaged in the fields, having been found very unsuitable for a regular Cattle Show, it has been decided to restrict the show to the fine specimens of local (Mysore District) cattle irrespective of breeds and classes.

32. Accommodation for cattle.—Accommodation will be provided free of cost.

33. Practical test.—Working cattle may, at the owners' option, be subjected to a practical test as to their powers of draught. They must be the bona-fide property of the exhibitor.

34. Care-taker.—Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a care-taker who will remain in charge of the exhibit and must be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.

35. Poultry show.—The Poultry must be in charge of the owners or an attendant who will be admitted on the Show days with a free pass. Every endeavour will be made for safe accommodation. The number of each breed that a competitor may bring must be intimated to the Secretary at least four days before the opening day.

36. Poultry appliances.—Prizes will also be awarded for incubators and other poultry appliances.

37. Distribution of awards.—Prizes and medals will be distributed at the close of the exhibition. This year it is proposed to hold a distribution of prizes in the exhibition grounds on or about the 5th of October 1914.

38. Number of judges.—The judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless, in the opinion of the judges, the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are judges, and the decision of the judges is final.

39. Photograph of articles exhibited.—No articles exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced in any manner without the special permission of the Committee. General photographs of stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

40. Committee's decision final.—The Committee have full power to make rules for the conduct of the exhibition under these regulations, and their decision is final in all cases.

41. Acceptance of rules.—All persons who become exhibitors shall be held to signify their assent to and acceptance of the foregoing rules and regulations and also such other rules as the Committee may hereafter issue not inconsistent with these regulations.

42. Official hand-book.—An official hand-book of all exhibits with the names and the addresses of the exhibitors and their agent or agents, if any, will be published about the opening day of the Exhibition without any further cost to the exhibitors. It is expected that a large number of people will visit the exhibition and that many of them will probably purchase the official hand-book which will be sold at two annas a copy. It will be a capital opportunity for advertisers to advertise through the medium of this hand-book. Advertisements will be received for publication in the official hand-book at the following rates.—

Half page	„ 12	„ 15
Quarter page	„ 7-8	„ 10

(Special rates of Rs. 30, 16 and 12 will be charged for advertisements on the page of the cover for full, half and quarter page, respectively.)

Applications for these advertisements will be received not later than 31st August 1914 and must be accompanied by a remittance in full payment of the amount due for space applied for.

43. Refreshments.—No articles of refreshment, food, drink or tobacco shall be sold on any site, or in any buildings or part thereof in the Exhibition grounds without the written permission of the Committee.

44. Committee's right.—The Committee or any person or persons that they may appoint shall at all times have free access and right of entry to all or any part of the space, site or buildings allotted to exhibitors.

45. Accommodation.—Accommodation for visitors will be arranged in the sheds put up outside the Exhibition building, provided intending visitors apply to the Secretary at least a fortnight before the opening of the Exhibition. A rent of annas six per day subject to a minimum charge of Rs. 3 for stays less than 8 days, will be charged.

46. Entertainments.—The Committee will receive applications for entertainments in the Exhibition grounds. No charges will be levied for space allotted therefor.

47. Post and Telegraph Office.—The "Mysore Exhibition Camp" Post and Telegraph Office will be open at the Exhibition from 1st September to 30th November and all letters, etc., addressed to the Exhibition Camp Office will be delivered earlier than those addressed to Mysore City.

48. Railway concession.—Concession for the carriage of exhibits over the following Railways to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition on production of necessary certificates which may be had by applying to the Secretary to the Exhibition, has been granted by the respective Railway authorities :—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The East Indian Railway.
4. The Bombay-Baroda and Central Indian Railway.
5. The Bengal-Nagapur Railway.
6. The Great Indian Peninsular Railway.
7. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.
8. The Barsi Light Railway.

Besides, the following have also extended the concession to the exhibitors. The period will commence in case of exhibits from 15th August and end on 31st October 1914 and in case of exhibitors from 1st September to 15th October 1914 :—

1. The South Indian Railway.
2. The Bhavanagar State Railway.
3. The Bengal-Nagapur Railway.
4. The Great Indian Peninsular Railway.
5. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.

49. Steamer concession.—The Manager of the Irrawadi Flotilla Co., Ltd., Rangoon, has allowed the following concession for exhibits over his steamer :—

All exhibits (goods, parcels, cattle, etc.) will be carried :—On the outward journey at full tariff rates. On the return journey free, provided that (1) they have not been sold, (2) they are consigned to the station of original despatch, (3) they will be carried at owner's risk, and (4) the usual form of certificate is obtained at the time of original despatch and is tendered duly filled up and signed, on application being made for concession on return journey.

50. Communication regarding the exhibition.—All communications regarding the Exhibition should be addressed to the Secretary to the Mysore Dasara Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition Committee, Mysore.

1. THE WEAVING COMPETITION.

In connection with the Exhibition of 1914 a competition in Weaving and its preparatory process will be held in the Exhibition premises, Mysore. The following rules regulating the competition are published for the information of the intending competitors.

SECTION I.

The competition will commence on Thursday the 1st of October 1914 and will be continued for three days.

2. Weavers will be required to work for 7 hours a day, from 8 to 11-30 A.M. and from 2 to 5-30 P.M.

3. Any kind of hand-loom may be entered for the competition; but competition among weavers in each class will be among weavers working on the same kind of loom.

This rule does not effect giving loom prizes to any kind of loom that enters into any kind of competition.

4. No prizes or medals will be given to competitors in a certain class, when the number is less than 3. But all bona-fide weavers with a piron driver for helping each competitor, will be given their third class fare to and fro at concession rates or reasonable cart hire and an allowance of five annas per day for five days only, if they come and demonstrate any of the operations that are mentioned in the items for competition. Those that desire to utilize this opportunity for weaving extraordinary patterns will have to intimate to the Secretary at least 15 days before the Exhibition commences when the necessary arrangements will be made for the same. Weavers in Mysore City will get only their daily allowance.

5. A man that has once competed in weaving one kind of cloth and won a prize will not be allowed to compete in the same kind of cloth for three years to come, but such competitors may be allowed and given a special prize by the judges if they think that the competitor serves as a model to local weavers. This rule equally holds good in the case of awarding medals and prizes to the looms.

6. Competitors will be allowed to fix the warps on the looms beforehand and to weave a length not exceeding two yards before the competition commences.

7. Under Sub-Committees with the Chief Revenue Officer of the locality as President, competitions in any of the undermentioned tests will be held in the month of August in all the most important weaving centres of the Province. There must be at least three competitors in each of the tests. Two prizes of Rs. 10 and 7 will be awarded in each centre. The first of the competitor in each of the tests will be required to compete in Mysore at the time of Dasara.

8. A competitor can compete in any one of the following tests (a to d):—

The Manager of a factory or a school may send one or more weavers to compete for one or more tests.

The following are the tests for the competition of this year:—

(a) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having half an-inch silk-border) with 30's warp, 52 ends per inch and 30's weft, of 48 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 10 and Rs. 8 for each set of competitors.

(b) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border) with 40's warp, 60 ends per inch and 40's weft, of 52 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 12 and Rs. 9 for each set of competitors.

(c) To weave a cloth 54 inches wide (having one-fourth of an inch silk-border) with 60's warp, 72 ends per inch and 60's weft, 72 picks per inch. Prize.—Rs. 14 and Rs. 10.

(d) To weave a cloth 45 inches wide with 100's warp, 80 ends per inch and 120's weft, 80 picks per inch. The border is to be of lace and silk of any pattern (specially rudrakshi, peacock, weaving, etc.) left to the option of the competitor. Prize.—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

(e) To weave a magutam 54 inches wide with red, yellow or bleached country twisted silk of about 80 counts. The border must be of lace of about one-fourth of an inch. It is sufficient if the competitors use reeds of about 40 dents and weave about 80 picks to an inch. Prize.—Rs. 15 and Rs. 12.

In (a), (b) and (c) the cross borders must be of silk and in (d) and (e) they must be of lace.

The authorities may allow any other tests, provided there are sufficient number of competitors.

9. The competitors will purchase warps except silk from the Exhibition authorities and use them alone for competition and the competitors must bring in their own wefts.

Intending competitors should inform the Secretary at least 15 days before the competition commences. The local weavers will get their daily allowances only. All competitors must bring their own pirons.

10. In awarding prizes to the weavers the Judges will note the following points.

The work done—

(1) The length of the cloth woven during the whole period.
(2) Uniformity of picking and adhesion to specification.
(3) Freedom from broken ends.
(4) Clean edges, etc.

11. A gold and silver medal will be awarded to the best looms as first and second prizes.

In judging the looms the Judges will consider in addition—

(a) Adaptability of the loom:—

(1) Whether the loom is suited for weaving different kinds of cloth using different kinds of yarn.

(2) Whether the loom can be worked profitably by weavers in their houses or is only useful for factory work.

(b) Machanism of the loom:—

(1) Soundness and proper proportion of its parts.

(2) Simplicity in machanism so as to be capable of being easily repaired when out of order.

(3) The position in which the weaver has to hold his body while working and the ease with which he can work the loom.

A loom that was once awarded a medal will not get it a second time.

WEAVING AND PREPARATORY PROCESS.

Tests in the following four classes are opened to boys under 18 years and women of any age. Of the two prizes one will be among boys and the other among women.

1. Simple processes of making long warps and sizing them economically and usefully.

2. Simple adoptation of English Dobby for hand-loom work.

3. Of any new machanism likely to improve or increase the quality of the outturn such as new patterns of automatic take-up motion, etc.

4. Spinning.—Any kind of spinning appliance may be used. Wool to be spun will be supplied at the time of the competition at the cost of the competitors. The thickness of the yarn and the quantity to be spun and the time to be taken will be decided by the judges. Prize Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

5. Warping and sizing—

(a) Open only for females.

To make 40's warp, 10 yards long and to size it. Prize Rs. 10 and Rs. 7.

(b) Open for males and females.

To make 60's warp, 40 yards long and to size them. Prize Rs. 15 and Rs. 10.

The prizes will be awarded for the best-sized warp. The time to be allowed for work, the quantity of yarn to be warped and the test to be adopted for judging the work will be decided by the judges. Yarn for warping and sizing will be supplied at the cost of the competitors, at the time of the competition.

6. Competitors will fit up their own looms in the ground allotted and get everything ready for competition.

7. Intending competitors must send their application in the prescribed form, so as to reach the Secretary at Mysore on or before the 25th of September 1914 at the latest.

WOMEN'S SECTION.

SYLLABUS 1914.

The first aim of this section is to bring into touch with each other women, who, having themselves learnt the value of new occupations and interests, are anxious to hand on this knowledge to others. Plain or fancy needle-work, lacemaking, basket making, knitting, all these are occupations enjoyed by a large number of women and girls in India, but there remain a still large number who have neither seen nor heard about them. To interest these it is important to collect for Exhibition, the best that is done in all branches of women's work, and it is only the best in each section of the work that can be encouraged by the award of medals and prizes.

This is one of the most difficult things to impress upon intending exhibitors. It is not any kind of work that can be accepted. Certain groups are selected in the syllabus and only the really good work sent in under each group is likely to be admitted. To understand the importance of sending in only the best work, the following rules should be carefully studied and conscientiously carried out.

1. In needle-work the best materials that can be procured should alone be used: it is waste of time to put good work on to poor material which will neither wear nor wash.

2. One neatly stitched, well finished off exhibit is more likely to win a prize than a large bundle of carelessly done work; no amount of trimming will improve a badly made article.

3. Moth-eaten, faded, torn or dirty work cannot be accepted.

4. Exhibits which have already won prizes in previous Exhibitions cannot compete. They will be accepted as "Loan Exhibits" or exhibited for sale if space permits.

5. No work will be accepted that does not come under one or other groups in the syllabus. Space in the exhibition being limited, there can be no exception to this rule.

6. None but genuine women or children's work will be allowed to compete for prizes in this section.

With regard to this year's syllabus it was at first suggested that to appeal more strongly to Indian ladies we should restrict the work to that of Indian use and design; but since European needle-work is yearly becoming an important source of income to Indian women we felt the same object might better be served by making the classes more distinct and by increasing the prizes. Only lace machine work and crochet have been omitted from the syllabus and these not in the children's group.

It is hoped that the improved standard of last year's work will be maintained and that Indian ladies will contribute in far greater numbers than heretofore. We should also urge any ladies interested in children's work to make this Exhibition known as widely as possible as the number of exhibits sent in by children last year was most disappointing.

N. VENKATESA IYENGAR,
Meteorological Reporter, Mysore Government.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

READ—

Letter No. 13601, dated 11th May 1914, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, submitting the reports on the Cattle Shows, held at Ramanathapur and at Hassan in December 1913 and January 1914, respectively.

No. 12656-60—L. B. 34-13-19, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH JUNE 1914.

ORDER THEREON.—Recorded.

2. Government note with satisfaction that, inspite of adverse seasons in the district and the prevalence of plague in the Hassan town, the shows held in Ramanathapur and Hassan were a great success, the collections of cattle being larger and superior in quality as compared with previous years.

3. The Exhibition and demonstration of Fly-shuttle looms and of improved ploughs and machinery formed special features of the Hassan Show and it is gratifying to observe that the agricultural implements found a ready sale.

4. The thanks of Government are due to the officers and non-official gentlemen who brought about the success of these shows, by their enthusiastic co-operation.

D. M. NARASINGA RAO,
Officiating Secretary to Government,
General and Revenue Departments.

To—The Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.
The President, District Board, Hassan, returning the photos.
The Director of Agriculture in Mysore.
The Comptroller, Mysore Government.

Sir,

I beg to submit herewith a report of the Cattle Show, held at Ramanathapur, on the 5th and 6th December 1913, in connection with Sri Subramanya Jatra there.

1. The show was the third, held at the place, the first one having been held in November 1911.

2. The management was vested in a Committee, comprising of 63 members with P. R. W. Wetherall, Esq., Deputy Commissioner as President, and Mr. G. S. Ramaswamiengar, Amildar as Vice-President.

3. The following gentlemen were selected as judges from among the members :—

1. Mr. B. V. Venkatachar, Assistant Veterinary Inspector.
2. „ Govinda Rao, B. A., LL.B. of Basavapatna.
3. „ Narasimhasastri, Jodidar of Mattigode.
4. „ A. V. Suryanarayanasetti of Arkalgud.
5. „ Shamanna of Basavapatna.
6. „ Mallanna of Kerlapur.
7. „ Channabasappasetti of Kotwal.
8. „ Venkatasubbaiya of Belavadi.
9. „ Nanjundaiya, patel of Ankanahalli.
10. „ Timmegowda of Rudrapatna.
11. „ Tirumalagowda of Gangur.
12. „ Subba Rao of Konanur.
13. „ Doddappajisetti of Bettadapura.
14. „ Ramanna, shanbhog of Kudlur.
15. „ Shamachar of Ramanathapur.
16. „ Tirumalachar of Ramanathapur.
17. „ Siddalingaiya of Woddavanada Hosalli.

18. Mr. Boregowda of Haradnahalli.
19. ,, B. K. Subba Rao of Basavapatna.
20. ,, Mallaraj Urs of Gangoor.
21. ,, Mallasetti of Basavapatna.
22. ,, Appajaiya of Siradanahalli.
23. ,, Kalegowda of Kattepura.
24. ,, Basavegowda of Bannur.
25. ,, Puttegowda of Kabbligere.

4. The number of cattle exhibited this year was about 11,000 as against 4,600 in the previous year. The increase in number, despite the unfavourable season, may be attributed to the fact that a brisk sale took place last year.

The number of cattle selected for prizes was 40 as against 18 in the previous year. The cattle exhibited were all of Hallikar breed and of all ages and sizes. The approximate number of each class was as follows :—

1.	Breeding bulls	126
2.	Ploughing bullocks	6,050
3.	Dawk bullocks	376
4.	Draught bullocks	1,892
5.	Calves	2,280
6.	Cows	96
7.	Cow buffaloes	12
8.	Bull buffaloes	27
9.	Ewes	12
10.	Rams	16
11.	He-goats	10
12.	She-goats	3
	Total	10,900

5. Twenty-nine prizes and two special prizes offered by Messrs. D. Channabasappasetti, sowkar and coffee planter of Somwarpet, and M. Govinda Rao, B.A., LL.B. of Basavapatna, on the show ground, were awarded as against seventeen prizes and one special prize in the previous year. Photos of cattle which were awarded prizes are submitted herewith.

6. The show was held on the same ground as in the previous years, viz., on either side of the road leading from Ramanathapur to Basavapatna beyond the channel. As already reported this place is very well suited for the purpose having all the conveniences. Since the show is growing very much in importance and the number of cattle exhibited seems to grow larger and larger every year, it would be advantageous to acquire a portion of the fields on which the show is held and plant trees in a line so as to provide more shelter and make it very convenient for the purpose in future.

7. It was found absolutely necessary to erect separate enclosures to accommodate the cattle chosen for preliminary selection, and prize cattle. Provision for this purpose will be made in the next year's budget.

8. The right of collecting the tax on shops and fees on cattle admitted into the show ground was sold as in the previous year. The receipts were as follow :—

	1912.	1913.
Fees on cattle and shop tax	702	635
For special prizes .... (not credited to the treasury and as it was offered on the spot and paid away as prizes)	5	10
Contribution from District Funds	175	200
Sale of manure	90	96
Total	972	941

It will be observed that the right of collecting fees and tax fetched Rs. 635 as against Rs. 702 last year. Last year being the first year in which the right was sold, there was keen competition and the contractor seems to have suffered some loss. Added to this, there was an apprehension that the collection of cattle would be less this year owing to unfavourable season; hence the low bid this year, but seeing the number of cattle that entered the show ground this year, it may be safely expected that next year, the realizations will be very much greater.

9. The total expenditure this year was Rs. 208 as against Rs. 175 of last year, as detailed below :—

	1912.	1913.
Prizes for cattle	100	148
Special prizes	5	10
For photos of cattle	20	20
Clearing the Show ground sanitation and other sundry works	20	30
Sports	30	nil
Total	175	208

10. The increase in expenditure was due to more prizes having been awarded this year and better sanitary arrangements made in the way of providing latrines in several convenient places.

The expenditure was all met from out of the Rs. 200 sanctioned from District Funds and from the amounts offered as special prizes by private individuals.

Out of the total receipts of Rs. 941, Rs. 731 was credited into the treasury on 14th November 1913 and Rs. 2 on 5th January 1914, and the balance was the expenditure incurred.

11. The show was very successful. The quality of the cattle was better than that of last year, especially among breeding bulls, calves and dawk bullocks. A practical test was made among the bullocks of various kinds.

12. A dispensary was temporarily opened as usual, to afford medical relief and the sanitation was well attended to. There were no epidemics either among men or cattle during the occasion.

13. The President opened the show on the 5th and distributed prizes to the winners in the show on the 6th and explained to the assembled raiyats, the objects and benefits of the show. The Veterinary Assistant Inspector delivered a lecture in Kanarese regarding cattle breeding and the management and improvement of cattle.

14. Sales to the extent of about 60,000 were effected on the occasion. Compared with the number of cattle collected, the sales were not so brisk as last year, as the prices were rather heavy.

15. The net savings to the District Funds amounted to Rs. 533. It is desirable to provide some rest houses for pilgrims and to improve the sanitation of the town as a considerable portion of the collection is saved every year.

16. The members of the Committee and the judges took a great deal of interest in the organization and working of the show. My thanks are due to the President and the members. My special thanks are also due to Mr. M. Govinda Rao, B.A., LL.B., who took a lively interest in the arrangements of cattle, judging and practical tests.

" K. Mahadevappa, Municipal Councillor and Sahukar.

It may be seen that there was a non-official Honorary Secretary besides 7 non-official gentlemen as members.

II. Number of cattle exhibited.

3. The number of cattle exhibited during the show was 9,000 in round figures which includes a variety of cattle, viz., bullocks, cows, buffaloes, sheep, goats and ponies.

III. Number of cattle selected.

4. Fifty-two head of cattle were selected by the judges. A list of the judges who co-operated with the Committee is given in Appendix II. The thanks of the Committee are due to them.

IV. Classification of cattle.

5. A classification according to Hallikar, Amrut Mahal, nad and malnad breeds and also according to variety of cattle is given in Appendix III. No Government Amrut Mahal cattle were exhibited this year as that Department had its own reasons for not doing so.

V. Number of prizes awarded.

6. The particulars of prizes awarded is shown in Appendix IV. A sum of Rs. 257 was given away as money prizes out of the District Board grant while a special prize of Rs. 5 offered by Mr. S. N. Appanna Iyengar was also given. Copy of the prospectus of the show, is filed as Appendix V to show the classes of cattle and the prizes awardable to each. One gold medal of Rs. 20 was awarded by the Committee to the best animal in the show which was selected by a select body of judges which included Mr. P. R. W. Wetherall as one of them. A gold medal of Rs. 15 offered by Mr. S. Venkatesaiya, B.A., B.L., Advocate of Hassan, was awarded to the best milch cow in the show. A silver medal of Rs. 5 offered by Mr. Mahomed Zaharuddin Mecci, District Excise Officer, was awarded to the best pony in the show.

The warm thanks of the Committee are due to these gentlemen for their liberal awards.

VI. Cattle Show ground and arrangements as regards water-supply and sanitary requirements.

7. This year also the show was held on the maidan adjoining the District Police Office building in close proximity to the newly constructed musafirkhana. There is a draw well on the ground itself and a temporary reservoir was as usual constructed by putting a temporary dam across the sluice channel of the Channapatna tank. Satisfactory sanitary arrangements were made by the Vice-President of the Hassan Municipality Mr. M. Srinivasa Murti, and the best thanks of the Committee are due to him and his Sanitary staff.

VII. Total receipts, viz., from fees, private subscriptions and contributions.

8. The several items of receipts are given in Appendix VI. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 783-1-0 exclusive of Rs. 500 set apart by the District Board. In the sum of Rs. 783-1-0 is included contributions amounting to Rs. 25 offered as private subscriptions towards special prizes referred to in para 5 supra.

VII. Expenditure.—Total expenditure.

9. The total expenditure was Rs. 493-10-9 as detailed in Appendix VII. This gives a surplus of Rs. 789-6-3, the total income being Rs. 1,283-1-0, which includes the District Fund grant of Rs. 500.

IX. Concluding remarks including a comparison of results of the show with those of the preceding year.

10. A comparative statement of the income of the show is embodied in Appendix VIII. It may be observed that the income of the show was Rs. 1,283-1-0 as against Rs. 1,102-8-0 of last year, resulting in an increase of Rs. 180-9-0.

11. It is gratifying to report that not only the number of cattle rose from 6,234 last year to nearly 9,000 this year, but also the estimated realizations from sale of cattle increased from one lakh of rupees to one lakh and fifty thousand.

12. The quality of cattle exhibited was on the whole fair and attracted numerous buyers from distant places such as Mangalore, Haveri, etc. Copies of photographs of some of the successful exhibits are herewith submitted for kind perusal.

13. A special feature of this year's show was the weaving demonstration with the Fly-Shuttle loom which was organized under the resolution of the District Committee of the Economic Conference.

14. Not only did the numerous weavers of Hassan Town, Grama and the other villages of the Hassan Taluk attend the demonstration and follow it with keen interest, but the demonstration itself also afforded very great pleasure to the numerous raiyats who witnessed it.

15. And Dr. Colemen, the Director of Agriculture, with his wonted courtesy very kindly sent his staff with improved ploughs and machinery for exhibition and practical demonstration under the charge of S. Daniel, Agricultural Inspector.

16. A direct result of this exhibition was that many of the ploughs found a ready sale soon after they were demonstrated.

17. In conclusion, the Committee beg to give expression to their deep sense of gratitude to Mrs. Wetherall for her kindness in having opened this year's show, and in also having distributed the prizes to the successful exhibitors. A copy of the speech delivered by Mr. Wetherall on behalf of Mrs. Wetherall at the time of the opening of the show is hereto appended.

S. VENKATESAIYA.
Joint Honorary Secretaries.

Hassan Cattle Show of 1914.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

We have assembled here this morning for the opening of the 5th Annual Cattle Show of Hassan. In January 1910, the 1st Cattle Show was held on these grounds, which in point of space, central position, shade and water-supply, are admirably suited for the purpose; and since that year the Cattle Show here has become an annual event.

Mrs. Wetherall feels highly flattered at being asked by the Cattle Show Committee to open this Show to-day and she desires me to express her best thanks for the honour conferred on her by the Committee.

This cattle show has become firmly established, and has been increasing in popularity and usefulness year by year. The number of cattle brought to the first show in January 1910 was about 4,000, and although the minimum fee of one anna per head of cattle was imposed in 1912 for the first time, 5,137 cattle were admitted into the show enclosure, which figure increased up to 6,234 last year, and from the present appearances it is believed that the number will be found to be still larger this year in spite of the recent prevalence of plague in the town, and the unfavourable season conditions owing to short rainfall and consequent diminution in the supply of fodder.

For these reasons, the Superintendent of the Amrut Mahal department has intimated that it is not feasible this year to send to the show a herd of Amrut Mahal cattle with the young cattle set apart for sale by auction, as done in previous years.

The objects and advantages of holding cattle shows are already well known to all. It is obvious to every one that Agriculturalists and Traders are equally interested in the improvement of breeds of cattle, and that opportunities that they have of competing with each other in exhibiting, buying and selling cattle at shows of this kind, are most beneficial, and afford special encouragement to cattle-breeders.

This year it has been particularly noticeable that buyers and sellers of cattle began to assemble at Hassan several days prior to the advertised date of the opening of the show, and that a good many cattle have already been purchased. This indicates their anxiety to be foremost in the cattle market, and to take early opportunities of striking their bargains. Such eagerness on their part is proof of increased supply and demand for cattle.

A gold medal has been established this year to be awarded for the best animal in the show. With a view to attracting a larger number of exhibits in milch cows, Mr. S. Venkatesaiya, Joint Honorary Secretary of the Show Committee, has very liberally offered a gold medal for the best milch cow. And Mr. Mahomed Zaharuddin Mecci, Excise Assistant Commissioner of Hassan, has very kindly offered a silver medal for the best pony in the show. The warm thanks of the Show Committee are due to these two gentlemen.

Mr. L. C. Coleman, Director of Agriculture in Mysore, has kindly intimated that he will make arrangements for the demonstration of agricultural implements, and for the delivery of popular lectures on Agricultural matters during this show, which will undoubtedly be instructive to Agriculturalists, and it is hoped that they will be induced to adopt more effective methods of agriculture.

Mr. M. A. Sampathiengar, Superintendent of the Weaving School at Hole-Narsipur and member of the Hassan District Committee of the Economic Conference, has kindly arranged to demonstrate at the show grounds the fly-shuttle loom with a view to inducing the adoption of this improved loom by weavers of this district, as much more effective and time-saving than the ordinary hand loom mostly in use by them.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, I will ask Mrs. Wetherall to perform the function of declaring the Hassan Cattle Show of 1914 open to the public.

P. R. W. WETHERALL,
Deputy Commissioner and President,
Hassan Cattle Show Committee.

Dated 5th January 1914.

Agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed. Want of rain is much felt. Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficient.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed in parts of Hoskote, Dodballapur, Nelamangala, Kankanhalli and Magadi Taluks, but rain is anxiously expected for finishing ploughing operations and sowing the seeds. Punaji paddy, nati ragi and jola in Hoskote; gingelly in Magadi and potato in Devanhalli Taluk were sown during the week.

State of standing crops.—Sugar cane is reported to be fairly in good condition in Dodballapur, Nelamangala, Kankanhalli, Magadi and Channapatna Taluks; haraka and bili jola in Devanhalli Taluk is also fair; punaji paddy and maize are reported to be withering in Devanhalli Taluk and gingelly in Hoskote and Kankanhalli Taluks is also withering; and rain is wanted for paddy, gingelly and sugar cane in Anekal Taluk.

Outturn of the harvested crops.—Nil.

Damages to crops.—Nil.

10. The prospect of the season is causing anxiety. Rainfall is anxiously expected throughout the district. Food stocks are available. Labour is available to cooly classes.

11. Except for small-pox in some parts of Hoskote and Magadi Taluks, public health is generally good.

12. Except for "foot and mouth disease" among cattle in parts of Kankanhalli and Magadi Taluks, cattle are healthy. Water is available, but fodder for cattle is running short throughout the district. In parts of Hoskote, leaves are being used as fodder. Straw and dry jola are imported from other parts in Channapatna Taluk.

KOLAR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed in some of the taluks.

Crops sown.—Ragi in Chikballapur Taluk and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk; groundnuts in Sidlaghatta Taluk and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk; haraka and til in Mulbagal; ballar in Chikballapur; avare and togari in Gudibanda Sub-Taluk.

Crops harvested and their probable outturn.—Paddy in Goribidnur Taluk, yield 8 to 12 annas.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane and sesamum are in a fair condition.

10. Prospects of the season are not encouraging. Prices of food stuffs continue to be high. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. There have been a few cases of plague in Kolar Taluk, and of cholera in Kolar and Chintamani Taluks. Otherwise, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are healthy. Fodder and water are available for the present.

TUMKUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Raiyats are ploughing and manuring their fields in parts of the district.

Crops sown.—Groundnuts and jola in parts of Tumkur Taluk; togari, avare and castor in parts of Sira Taluk; ragi in parts of Koratagere Sub-Taluk; and sugar cane in parts of Kunigal Taluk.

Crops harvested.—Paddy in parts of Sira, Tumkur and Kunigal Taluks and Koratagere Sub-Taluk, yield 6 to 12 annas; ragi in parts of Sira Taluk, yield 2 to 4 annas; and sugar cane in parts of Kunigal Taluk.

Standing crops.—Paddy, ragi, jola, til, sugar cane, togari and groundnuts in parts of the district are reported to be generally in fair condition, except in parts of Chiknayakanhalli and Sira Taluks where they are said to be withering owing to want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stuffs are available. Rain is urgently wanted throughout the district.

11. Except for cholera in Chiknayakanhalli Town, public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are reported to be generally healthy except in parts of Chiknayakanhalli and Pavagada Taluks where they are said to suffer from "foot and mouth disease" and "Dodda roga." Water and fodder are available except in parts of Maddagiri and Sira Taluks, where fodder is said to be insufficient.

MYSORE.

8. Market is fairly well supplied.

9. Crops sown.—Ragi in parts of the Hunsur Taluk; and ragi, til and paddy in parts of the Heggaddevankote Taluk.

State of standing crops.—Ragi, jola, togari, til and castor in parts of Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Seringapatam, Yedatore, Gundlupet and Nanjangud Taluks; jola, togari and til in parts of the Hunsur, T.-Narsipur and Nagamagala Taluks; ragi in parts of the Hunsur, Heggaddevankote and Mandya Taluks; groundnuts in parts of the T.-Narsipur Taluk; cotton in parts of the Nanjangud Taluk; sugar cane in parts of the Nanjangud, T.-Narsipur, Malvalli, Mandya and Krishnarajpete Taluks; mulberry in parts of the T.-Narsipur, Malvalli and Mandya Taluks; paddy in parts of the Krishnarajpete Taluk; and horse gram in parts of the Seringapatam and Malvalli Taluks are reported to be in fair condition but they are said to be withering for want of rain in parts of the Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Seringapatam, Yedatore, Heggaddevankote, Nanjangud and Malvalli Taluks.

Crops harvested.—Green and black grams in parts of the Krishnarajpete Taluk. Catterpillars are reported to be destroying the crops in parts of the Mysore Taluk.

10. Prospects of the season are generally fair. Food stuffs are available. Want of rain is felt everywhere.

11. Public health is generally good except for stray cases of plague in Hadinaru village, Nanjangud Taluk and Madivinahalli village in the Yedatore Taluk.

12. Cattle are reported to be healthy except for "foot and mouth disease" in parts of the Chamrajnagar and Nanjangud Taluks and "Chappe roga" in parts of the Nanjangud Taluk. Water and fodder are generally available, except in parts of the Heggaddevankote, Gundlupet, Nanjangud, Yedatore and Krishnarajpete Taluks, where fodder scarcity is felt.

HASSAN.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Standing crops.—Paddy and sugar cane in Hassan Taluk; paddy in Manjarabad Taluk; ragi, til, togari, castor, cholum, tadagani and avare in Arkalgud Taluk; sugar cane in Belur Taluk; paddy, sugar cane, til, cholum, gidragi, black and green grams in Channarayapatna Taluk; paddy, sugar cane, til, cholum and chillies in Arsikere Taluk; gidragi and cholum in Hole-Narsipur Taluk; and paddy and ragi in the Alur Sub-Taluk are reported to be in fair condition.

Crops sown.—Paddy in Belur Taluk is being sown.

Crops harvested.—Paddy is being harvested in parts of Arsikere Taluk. It is reported by the Amildars that the standing crops which were said to be withering in parts are improving owing to the recent rainfall.

10. Prospects of the season are generally good. More rain is reported to be required in parts of Channarayapatna and Arsikere Taluks.

11. Public health is generally good, except for small-pox in parts of Manjarabad Taluk.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are generally available.

SHIMOGA.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Paddy is being sown in the taluks of Shimoga, Shikarpur, Sorab and Sagar and in the Kumsi Sub-Taluk. Ragi is being sown in Shimoga aad Shikarpur Taluks. Manure is being carted to the field in the Channagiri Taluk as the fields are not fit for ploughing for want of sufficient rain. Agricultural operations are retarted in the maidan taluks of Channagiri and Honnali for want of more rain.

Crops sown.—Paddy in the Sagar, Nagar and Tirthahalli Taluks is reported to be in good condition.

Standing crops.—Sugar cane is reported to be good in all the taluks except Honnali, where it is said to be withering for want of sufficient rain.

Crops harvested.—Nil.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. The rainfall during the week in Channagiri and Honnali Taluks is very scanty. More rain is urgently wanted for agricultural operations to progress. Food stuffs are available in sufficient quantities.

11. Except for a very few cases of plague in parts of the Channagiri and Shikarpur Taluks and small-pox in parts of the Honnali, Sorab and Sagar Taluks, public health is good.

12. Fodder and water are reported to be generally available except in some parts of the Channagiri and Honnali Taluks where fodder and water are stated to be insufficient. Cattle are healthy, except for a few cases of "foot and mouth disease" in parts of the Shikarpur Taluk and for the breaking out of a few cases of murrain in two villages of the Nagar Taluks.

KADUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being prepared for sowing purposes in parts of Tarikere, Koppa, Kadur and Mudgere Taluks and in parts of Yedahalli. Manuring of lands is going on in parts of Tarikere Taluk.

Crops sown.—Paddy is being sown in parts of Tarikere and Koppa Taluks and in parts of Sringeri. Transplanting of paddy is going on in parts of Mudgere Taluk and also in parts of Yedahalli Sub-Taluk. Jola, black gram, green gram and gingelly are sown in parts of Kadur Taluk.

Standing crops.—Chikmagalur—ragi, paddy, sugar cane and gingelly; Kadur—jola, black gram, green gram, gingelly and sugar cane; Tarikere—paddy, sugar cane, coffee and areca; Koppa—kode paddy and sugar cane; Mudgere—kode paddy, sugar cane and chillies; Yedahalli—sugar cane, areca and paddy. All these are reported to be in a fair condition except in Lakkya hobli of Chikmagalur Taluk where gingelly crop is reported to be fading for want of sufficient rain. The standing crops are reported to be fading for want of rain in parts of the Kadur Taluk.

Crops harvested.—Mudgere—kode paddy.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. But good rains are still needed especially in the Kadur, Chikmagalur and Tarikere Taluks. Markets are well stocked.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Chikmagalur, Kadur, Koppa and Mudgere Taluks and in parts of Yedahalli Sub-Taluk, and plague in a few villages of Tarikere Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. "Foot and mouth disease" prevails among cattle in some villages of Chikmagalur and Kadur Taluks. Water and fodder are generally available, but in maidan parts of the district the want of the usual supply of green grass is felt owing to insufficient rainfall.

CHITALDRUG.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Standing crops.—Sugar cane in the Harihar Sub-Taluk is in good condition. But the same in the Chitaldrug Taluk is reported to be withering for want of rain. Gidda ragi and jola in lands under kapile wells in the Challakere Taluk are in good condition. Jola and til in the Holalkere Taluk did not come up for want of rains; til, jola, castor and togari in the Hosdurga Taluk are withering for want of rains.

Crops harvested.—Nil.

Seeds sown.—Nata ragi in parts of the Hiriyur Taluk in lands under channels; jola, togare, castor and horse gram in the Molakalmuru Taluk.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stocks are available.

11. Public health is generally good except for the prevalence of small-pox in a few villages of Hosdurga Taluk.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available to some extent.

OFFICE OF THE REVENUE COMMISSIONER IN MYSORE,
Dated Bangalore, the 23rd June 1914.

K. DORASWAMI IYER,
Revenue Commissioner.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

READ—

Letter No. 14042, dated the 26th May 1914, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, forwarding the report of the President of the District Board of Kadur on the Cattle Show held at Antarghatta, Kadur Taluk, in February 1914, in connection with Sri Durgamma's jatra.

No. 12931-3—L. B. 34-13-21, DATED BANGALORE, 20TH JUNE 1914.

ORDER THEREON.—Recorded.

It is hoped that the show will increase in popularity in future years.

D. M. NARASINGA RAO,
Officiating Secretary to Government,
General and Revenue Departments.

To—The Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.
The President, District Board and Deputy Commissioner, Kadur District.
The Compiler, Mysore Gazette.

Report on the cattle show held at Antaraghatta in Kadur Taluk on the occasion of the jatra of Sri Durgamma at Antaraghatta which lasted for about a week, viz., from 11th February 1914 to 18th February 1914.

Publication of the notice of cattle show.

2. The holding of the cattle show was advertised in three successive issues of the Mysore Gazette on 11th December 1913, 18th December 1913 and 11th January 1914. Printed copies of the notices were widely published in all the hoblis of the taluk as well as in the adjoining taluks.

Committee of Management—

1. Mr. Giriapur Nanjappa.
2. ,, Revanasiddappa.
3. ,, Chikkanallur Kellegowda.
4. ,, Shanbhog Lingappaiya.
5. ,, Nadig Chandrasekharaiya.

3. The management of the cattle show was entrusted to a Committee consisting of the marginally noted leading non-officials of the village guided by the Amildar and the District Sanitary Officer.

Number of cattle exhibited, etc.

4. More than 2,000 head of cattle were reported to have been brought to the jatra, but only 450 were exhibited on the show ground to compete for prizes.

Description of cattle and number of prizes awarded.

5. The following statement shows the number and description of the cattle exhibited in the show ground:—

1. Breeding bulls	 20	3. Draught bullocks	 300
2. Plough bullocks	 100	4. Calves	 30

As the cattle exhibited in the show were not of superior quality either in size or in breed, the Committee of Management decided that the prizes notified might be reduced and accordingly awarded prizes to the prize winners as detailed in the enclosed statement marked A. Thus the total value of prizes awarded was Rs. 55.

Place of cattle show and its suitability as regards water-supply and sanitary requirements.

6. The show was held just by the side of the Tarikere-Hosdurga road about half a furlong from the Antaraghatta tank. Sufficient supply of fodder is reported to have been kept ready for sale and water was available in the tank for animals. The cattle assembled under the shady trees and a small pendal was erected for the use of the gentlemen that attended the show. The District Sanitary Officer was present during the occasion and supervised the sanitary arrangements. Eight temporary public latrines were constructed in suitable places and daily conservancy by the sweepers and scavengers had been arranged for.

Expenses how incurred.

7. As the show was in its infant stage, no fees were levied on cattle admitted to the show. The expenses of the show which were restricted only to the prizes awarded and also to the sanitary arrangements were met out of private subscriptions supplemented by a small contribution from District Funds. A list showing the names of subscribers and the amount subscribed is herewith attached.

Concluding remarks.

8. Owing to the prevalence of plague in several parts of the taluk, no show was held during the year 1912-13. The members of the Committee express it as their opinion that the show held during the year was organized in a much better way than in 1911-12, the year in which it was first organized. A statement showing the receipts and expenditure is herewith marked B.

Rules regarding the constitution and conduct of business of the Representative Assembly as published by Notification No. 21572—F. 99-93, dated the 10th June 1894 and as revised by Notification No. G. 1803—G. R. 4-07-4, dated the 6th September 1907.

No. G. 10725-773—G. R. 17-13-1, DATED BANGALORE, THE 27TH JUNE 1914.

ORDER THEREON.—Several questions connected with the organization and functions of the Representative Assembly and the rules for transacting business therein were discussed at the last meeting of the Assembly.

2. After careful consideration, Government are pleased to lay down the following instructions in regard to some of the questions referred to above, in accordance with general sense of the Assembly ascertained in October last :—

(a) Constitution of the Assembly.

Graduates of an Indian University were eligible to become members of the Assembly under the Rules of 1891. This provision was omitted when the rules were amended in 1894, though they continued to have the right to vote. Government consider it desirable to provide for due representation of persons who have received higher education and are pleased to direct that Graduates of a University of not less than ten years' standing be deemed eligible for membership in the Representative Assembly irrespective of any property qualification, provided that they have been residing in the taluk concerned for at least three years immediately before the date of the election. An additional clause to this effect will be inserted as clause (c) under Rule 3 in the rules issued with Notification No. G. 1803—G. R. 4-07-4, dated the 6th September 1907.

(b) Number of subjects for discussion.

The number of subjects for discussion in the Assembly, which has been steadily rising since 1907, reached the record figure of 832 last year. As such subjects are necessarily of varying degrees of importance, it is deemed desirable to limit the number of subjects without in any way fettering the right to discuss questions of real moment. Accordingly the maximum number of subjects, both General and Local, to be selected for discussion in the Representative Assembly in any year is fixed at 75 for each of the Districts of Bangalore and Mysore and 50 for each of the remaining districts. The selection of the specified number of subjects will be made on the basis of the number of votes secured for each subject at the preliminary meeting of the Representatives held by the Deputy Commissioners of Districts. The members should be informed by the Deputy Commissioners that, as a rule, questions of general importance should be preferred to purely local subjects which, as far as possible, should be attended to by the District Officers themselves. An additional rule to this effect will be inserted as Rule 5A in the rules issued in Government Order No. G. 4450-89—G. M. 235-06-1, dated the 18th January 1907.

(c) Rules for discussion.

With a view to further simplify the discussion in the Representative Assembly, Government are pleased to lay down the following instructions supplementing those issued in the Government Order dated the 6th September 1907 :—

(i) The subjects received from the Deputy Commissioners will be classified by Government into two classes, viz., Important and Ordinary.

(ii) Important subjects will be first taken up for discussion in the Assembly.

(iii) Ordinary subjects will then be discussed and dealt with rapidly, that is, they may not receive in the Assembly itself the same detailed consideration that Important subjects will.

(iv) After a reply is given by the President of the Assembly to any representaion, the subject shall not be discussed further.

(v) A time-limit of 15 minutes for each Important subject and 5 minutes for each of the other subjects will be ordinarily allowed. Discussion by the speakers on any subject should not be prolonged beyond the time limit specified, without the special permission of the President.

Agricultural operations.—Fields are being ploughed. Want of rain is much felt. Cattle are in good condition. Water and fodder are sufficient.

BANGALORE CITY AND TALUKS.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Progress of agricultural operations.—Ploughing operations are in progress in parts of Kankanhalli, Anekal and Devanhalli Taluks and in parts of Closepet Sub-Taluk. The sowing of ragi, nati ragi and punaji paddy in parts of Hoskote Taluk; of ragi, jolam, gingelly and haraka in parts of Kankanhalli Taluk and of ragi, nati ragi and potatoes in parts of Devanhalli is reported during the week.

State of standing crops.—Sugar cane and paddy in parts of Dodballapur and Magadi Taluks and sugar cane in Nelamangala and Channapatna Taluks are fair. Potatoes, haraka, bili jola and paddy in parts of Devanhalli Taluk are also fair. Sugar cane in Bangalore Taluk and jolam in Hoskote are reported to be fading. Sugar cane, paddy and gingelly in parts of Anekal Taluk are in need of rain. Gingelly crop in parts of Kankanhalli Taluk is reviving.

Outturn of the harvested crops.—Nil.

Damages to crops.—Nil.

10. The prospect of the season is causing anxiety. It is reported from all the taluks that a large portion of the lands is got ready for sowing if there should be one good shower at least. Food stocks are available. Labour is available to cooly classes.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Hoskote and Magadi, public health is generally good.

12. Except for "neradi roga" in some villages of Tubegere hobli, Dodballapur Taluk, cattle are healthy. Water for cattle is being supplied from draw wells in some parts of the district. Fodder is getting scarce in all parts of the district. Fodder is being imported from outside in parts of Hoskote, Kankanhalli, Channapatna and Devanhalli Taluks. It is also reported that green leaves are being used as fodder in parts of Hoskote, Kodihalli and Harohalli hoblis of Kankanhalli Taluk. Few deaths are reported among cattle in Kankanhalli Taluk.

KOLAR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Sowing operations are on hand in parts of Chikballapur, Sidlaghatta and Bagepalli Taluks and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk.

Crops sown.—Ragi, avare and togari in Chikballapur and Bagepalli Taluks and Gudibanda Sub-Taluk and groundnuts in Gudibanda Sub-Taluk.

Crops harvested and their probable outturn.—Nil.

Standing crops.—Groundnuts, punaji paddy and togari in parts of Chikballapur, Malur and Kolar Taluks, and sugar cane in parts of Kolar, Sidlaghatta, Malur, Chintamani and Chikballapur Taluks are in fair condition.

10. Prospects of the season are not encouraging. Prices of food stuffs continue to be high. Labour is available to the cooly classes.

11. Except for a few cases of plague in Kolar Taluk and the Kolar Gold Fields and the Chintamani Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Except for a few cases of cattle disease in the Malur Taluk cattle are healthy. Fodder and water are available for the present.

TUMKUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Raiyats are ploughing and manuring their fields in parts of the district.

Crops sown.—Ragi in parts of Tumkur, Maddagiri and Pavagada Taluks; groundnut in parts of Maddagiri, Gubbi and Pavagada Taluks; jola and til in parts of Gubbi Taluk; castor, togari and avare in parts of Pavagada Taluk; paddy in parts of Tumkur Taluk and sugar cane in parts of Kunigal Taluk.

Crops harvested.—Paddy in parts of Maddagiri, Gubbi and Kunigal Taluks, yield 8 annas; and sugar cane in parts of Gubbi and Kunigal Taluks.

Standing crops.—Paddy, ragi, sugar cane, jola, groundnut, togari and til in parts of the district are reported to be generally in fair condition. The dry crops in parts of Chiknayakanhalli, Sira and Tiptur Taluks are said to be withering for want of rain.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stuffs are available. Rain is urgently wanted throughout the district.

11. Except for cholera in parts of Chiknayakanhalli Taluk and plague in Tiptur town, public health is generally good. Small-pox is said to prevail in parts of Chiknayakanhalli and Gubbi Taluks.

12. Cattle are reported to be generally healthy, except in parts of Chiknayakanhalli and Sira Taluks where they are said to suffer from "foot and mouth disease"/and "Dodda roga." Water and fodder are generally available, except in parts of Maddagiri and Sira Taluks, where fodder is said to be insufficient.

MYSORE.

8. Market is fairly well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being ploughed in parts of the Yedatore, Heggaddevankote and Krishnarajpete Taluks.

Crops sown.—Ragi in parts of the Hunsur and Yedatore Taluks; avare in parts of the Hunsur Taluk and paddy in parts of the T.-Narsipur Taluk.

State of standing crops.—Ragi, jola, togari, til and castor in parts of Mysore, Seringapatam, Yedatore and Gundlupet Taluks; jola, togari and til in parts of Chamrajnagar, Hunsur, T.-Narsipur and Nagamagala Taluks; avare in parts of the Mysore and Gundlupet Taluks; ragi in parts of Hunsur, Nanjangud, Mandya and Krishnarajpete Taluks; sugar cane in parts of Seringapatam, Nanjangud, T.-Narsipur, Malvalli, Mandya, Krishnarajpete and Nagamangala Taluks; jola in parts of Nanjangud, Malvalli, Mandya, Krishnarajpete and Nagamangala Taluks; cotton in parts of the Nanjangud Taluk; mulberry in parts Nanjangud, T.-Narsipur and Mandya Taluks; groundnut in parts of the T.-Narsipur Taluk and paddy in parts of the Krishnarajpete Taluk are reported to be in fair condition, but they are said to be withering for want of rain in parts of Chamrajnagar, Yedatore, Gundlupet, T.-Narsipur, Mandya and Krishnarajpete Taluks.

Crops harvested.—Green and black grams and til in parts of the Seringapatam Taluk with an yield of 8 annas and jola and til in parts of the Malvalli Taluk.

10. Prospects of the season are generally fair. Food stuffs are available. Want of rain is felt everywhere.

11. Public health is generally good, except for plague in the villages of Maduvanahalli and Cheernahalli of the Yedatore Taluk; and in the village of Hadinaru of Nanjangud Taluk.

12. Cattle are reported to be healthy except for "foot and mouth disease" in parts of the Chamrajnagar Taluk and Kole roga in parts of the Nanjangud Taluk. Water and fodder are generally available, except in parts of the Heggaddevankote, Gundlupet, Nanjangud, Yedatore and Krishnarajpete Taluks, where fodder scarcity is felt.

HASSAN.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Standing crops.—Ragi, paddy and togari in Hassan Taluk; baravadi paddy in Manjarabad Taluk; gid ragi, togari, til, castor, jola, tadagani and avare in Arkalgud Taluk; paddy, sugar cane, ragi and togari in Belur Taluk; paddy gid ragi, sugar cane, til, black and green grams and jola in Channarayapatna Taluk; paddy, sugar cane, til, jola, chillies, groundnut in Arsikere Taluk; sugar cane, gid ragi and jola in Hole-Narsipur Taluk; paddy, ragi and sugar sane in the Alur Sub-Taluk are reported to be in fair condition.

Crops sown.—Paddy and ragi in Hassan Taluk: paddy in Belur Taluk are being sown.

Crops harvested.—Paddy is being harvested in parts of Arsikere Taluk.

10. Prospects of the season are generally good. More rain is reported to be required in parts of Arkalgud, Channarayapatna, Arsikere and Hole-Narsipur Taluks.

11. Public health is generally good, except for small-pox in parts of Manjarabad and Belur Taluks.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are generally available, except in parts of Halebid hobli, Belur Taluk. Fodder being insufficient in Arkalgud and Hole-Narsipur Taluks, the same is being obtained from the neighbouring taluks. Water is being obtained by sinking temporary wells where water scarcity is felt. The Amildar of Belur Taluk having reported that "foot and mouth disease" is prevailing among cattle in parts of the taluk, the Assistant Veterinary Inspector, Hassan, has been directed to send written instructions to the Amildar in the matter of treating the sick cattle. In some parts of Belur Taluk the gid ragi crop having failed, those fields have been tilled and kept ready for sowing dodda ragi as soon as sufficient rains fall.

SHIMOGA.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Sowing of paddy is continued in the taluks of Shimoga, Honnali, Shikarpur and Sagar and in the Sub-Taluk of Kumsi. Ragi is being sown in the Shimoga and Shikarpur Taluks. Transplanting of paddy is begun in the Sagar and Tirthahalli Taluks and continues in the Nagar Taluk. Sesamum, green gram, jola and samè have been sown in the Honnali Taluk. Carting of manure is still going on in the Channagiri Taluk and the fields are yet being ploughed in the taluks of Shimoga and Channagiri. Owing to recent heavy rainfall, sowing operations in both dry and wet lands in the Shikarpur Taluk and of paddy in the Sorab Taluk are delayed.

Standing crops.—Paddy in the Sorab, Sagr, Nagar and Tirthahalli Taluks and sugar cane in all the taluks are reported to be in good condition.

Crops harvested.—Nil.

10. Prospects of the season are good. More rainfall is wanted in the taluks of Honnali and Channagiri. Food stuffs are available in sufficient quantities.

11. Except for a very few cases of small-pox in Honnali and Sagar Taluks and of plague at Adaganti village in the Shikarpur Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. Fodder and water are generally available. In parts of Channagiri and Honnali some difficulty is felt in this respect. Cattle are generally healthy, except for some cases of "throat disease" in the village of Punaji, Kasaba hobli, Nagar Taluk. Cattle are said to be suffering from "foot and mouth disease" in some parts of the Shikarpur Taluk and from murrain in some parts of the Sorab Taluk.

KADUR.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Agricultural operations.—Lands are being prepared for sowing purposes in parts of Kadur, Tarikere, Koppa and Mudgere Taluks and in parts of Sringeri. Manuring of lands is going on in parts of Tarikere Taluk.

Crops sown.—Paddy is being sown in parts of Chikmagalur, Tarikere, Koppa, and Mudgere Taluks and in parts of Sringeri. Transplanting of paddy is going on in parts of Chikmagalur, Koppa and Mudgere Taluks and also in parts of Yedahalli.

Standing crops.—Chikmagalur—paddy, gingelly and jola; Kadur—jola, black gram, green gram, gingelly and sugar-cane; Tarikere—paddy, areca and coffee; Koppa—kode paddy and sugar cane; Mudgere—kode paddy, sugar cane and chillies; Yedahalli—sugar cane and paddy; Sringeri—paddy. All these crops are reported to be in a fair condition, except in Lakya hobli of Chikmagalur Taluk, where gingelly crop is reported to be fading for want of rain.

Crops harvested.—Mudgere—kode paddy.

10. Prospects of the season are encouraging. Kadur is just having rain which is likely to grow heavier. In other parts of the district rain is fairly sufficient.

11. Except for small-pox in parts of Kadur Taluk and in parts of Yedahalli Sub-Taluk, and plague in parts of Tarikere Taluk, public health is generally good.

12. "Foot and mouth disease" is reported to be prevailing among cattle in parts of Chikmagalur and Kadur Taluks. Water and fodder are generally available, but in maidan parts of the district the want of the usual supply of green grass is felt owing to insufficient rainfall.

CHITALDRUG.

8. Market well supplied.

9. Standing crops.—Sugar cane in Hiriyur and Holalkere Taluks and the Harihar Sub-Taluk is in fair condition. But the samé in the Chitaldrug Taluk is reported to be withering for want of rains. Gid ragi and jola in the Challakere Taluk, jola and til in the Holalkere Taluk and til, jola, togari and castor in the Hosdurga Taluk are reported to be in good condition; but til, jola and castor in the Hiriyur Taluk are withering for want of rain.

Crops harvested.—Nil.

Seeds sown.—Sugar cane and nati ragi in the Hiriyur Taluk under channel lands; jola in parts of the Holalkere Taluk and jola and ragi in the Hosdurga Taluk.

General.—Rains are wanted throughout the district.

10. Prospects of the season are fair. Food stocks are available.

11. Public health is generally good.

12. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available to a limited extent.
